City Plan Interest To Be 'Sounded Out'

A private meeting will be held Friday night to determine local support for a sweeping change in Arlington Heights' form of municipal government.

If successful, the meeting could signal the beginning of a movement similar to one in Mount Prospect, where a group called the Representative Government Association is working to replace the current village administration and install a city form of government.

The Arlington Heights meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Federal Savings and Loan Association building. It is designed to sound out local interest in changing the village government structure to a mayoral-aldermanic system.

AN ORGANIZER of the meeting, Mrs. Al Vidmar of 1232 S. Walnut Ave., said residents will be allowed to attend only by invitation.

Mrs. Vidmar said the meeting was "strictly organizational."

"We've got to find out if there are enough people interested in this thing so it's worth doing," she explained. She denied that the meeting was prompted only by residents of Arlington Gardens subdivision, which in the past has been a source of vocal criticism of board policies.

Mrs. Vidmar lives in Arlington Gardens.

"We don't want to make this a movement of our own area," she asserted. "I haven't even mentioned this matter to seven people out here." She claimed numerous residents in scattered areas of the village have expressed interest in revising the local form of government.

"People just haven't had the kind of representation they should have," Mrs. Vidmar remarked.

UNDER THE city form of administration Arlington Heights would be divided — on the basis of population — into seven wards. Residents from each ward would elect one or two aldermen to represent them on the local governing body.

If enough of those attending support a change in the governmental structure, a committee will be formed to draw up and circulate petitions. Approximately 700 signatures would be needed on the petitions to force the village board to hold a referendum.

Mrs. Vidmar said she will propose the committee call itself "The People." There is a possibility that an official from a community now operating under a city administration will outline the pros and cons of village and mayoral-aldermanic systems.

Approximately 50 persons are expected to attend the session.

Village Grows By 294 Acres

An ordinance annexing into Arlington Heights 294 acres north of Dundee Road and adjacent to the northwest corner of Arlington Heights and Nichols Road received unanimous approval of the village board Monday.

Approval of the ordinance means that about 15 acres of the village now is in Lake County. Board action was taken after a brief executive session.

AN 18-HOLE golf course is slated to occupy the largest area — about 223 acres — of the tract. The 56 acres to the south of Nichols Road will be used as a site for a sanitary land-fill project.

All the land is now zoned R-1 (single-family) by Cook and Lake Counties. Petitioner for annexation was Wheeling State Bank.

There are two gravel pits on the site. One is to be used as a lake for the golf course and the other will be the depository for the village's landfill project.

Details surrounding the proposed landfill project have not been disclosed. But it is known that the gravel pit would be used for garbage disposal under a plan for subsequent utilization as a village recreation site.

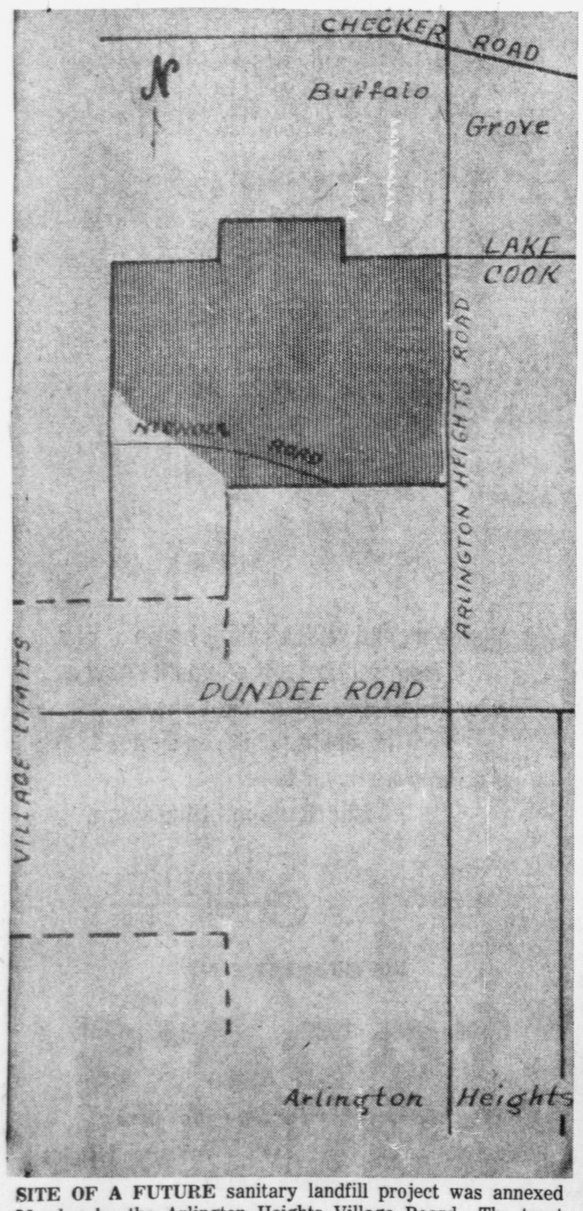
Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson, who has led the village's drive to initiate a sanitary landfill program, told the board the next step would be to determine the engineering aspects of the project.

When an over-all plan is formulated on use of the land, the village will be eligible to apply for up to 50 per cent of the land acquisition costs from the federal government under open space legislation.

Hanson, eager to get the project rolling, countered a suggestion by Trustee Roy Bressler that a decision on the annexation ordinance be held over until next week. He said further delay would only hurt land negotiations.

WHETHER Arlington Heights will retain its hold on 15 acres in Lake County remains to be seen. Board members apparently concurred on a proposal that the land be dropped from the annexation.

Legal restrictions, however, required that the board approve the ordinance on an all-or-nothing basis, Village Atty. Jack Siegel explained.



SITE OF A FUTURE sanitary landfill project was annexed Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board. The tract covers 294 acres—15 acres of which jut into Lake County. The shaded area north of Nichols Road is slated for development as a golf course. Land south of Nichols will be the site of the landfill project.

Completion Of Pipeline Is Delayed

Arlington Heights Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said Tuesday that "some problems on right-of-way" have held up completion of a water pipeline project on Arlington Heights Road between Techny and Palatine Roads.

Work was delayed for a week on a project which is designed to boost the village's water supply. A pipeline will join a village well at Arlington Heights and Techny Roads with a water main at Palatine and Arlington Heights Road.

Hanson did not elaborate on the nature of the problems causing the delay. Work should be done by the end of the week, he said.

Clinic Design To Be Unveiled

Plans for the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association Clinic will be unveiled today at a special showing for Surrey Ridge and Airy Trace residents. The meeting will be held at Forest View Elementary School at 8 p.m.

Since the new building will be constructed on property adjacent to the new Surrey Ridge School, residents of that area should be the first to see the plans, said Harrison Hanson, president of the association.

A ONE-TIME SHOWPLACE, in Arlington Heights, the 75-year-old Van Deusen building, is to be razed to make room for a 60-car parking lot. The village board is expected to take final action Tuesday on purchase of the property, located at 11 S. Arlington Heights Road, just north of the municipal building. The parking lot is part of the village board's plan to expand downtown parking facilities. (Staff photo)

Action Expected Tuesday

Parking Lot Going In At Historic Homesite

The Arlington Heights Village Board is expected to take action Tuesday on an agreement to purchase the historic Van Deusen property at 11 S. Arlington Heights Road.

The village plans to tear down the three-story, red-brick home and construct a 60-car parking lot on the half-acre site, according to Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson. The property is just north of the municipal building.

The site will be bought on a lease-purchase basis. The proposed parking lot is part of the village board's over-all plan to expand downtown parking.

Hanson said no timetable has been set for completion of the project. Cost of the land and home has not been disclosed.

THE VILLAGE board postponed action on the proposal Monday at the request of Hanson. Finalization of the purchase contract had not been reached, he explained.

The Van Deusen home, once the showplace of the village, was built in 1891 by Henry Meyer, a beer distributor and village trustee.

Eight years before the home was constructed on the site, Meyer, J. A. Kennicott and Christian Guiles developed the property as a park.

Mrs. Daisy Daniels, curator of the Historical Society of Arlington Heights, explained that there was then a natural pond on the property. The three men constructed a picnic pavilion and German-style beer garden by the pond, she said. There was also an ice house on the back of the property.

Even after the Meyer house was built, she said, the park continued to be the scene of Fourth of July celebrations, firemen's picnics and dances. One of these Fourth of July celebrations won the Chicago Daily News flag for the best Independence Day celebration in Cook County in 1924.

The picnic pavilion was used as a roller rink before it was destroyed with the widening of Arlington Heights Road in 1934.

THE PRESENT owner, Mrs. Ruth C. Van Deusen, purchased the property in 1946. Because the house was on fire during price negotiations, Mrs. Van Deusen saved $1,000 in the purchase.

Since the fall of 1946, the home has housed commercial shops and professional offices.

Group's Size Down, Representation Up

Arlington Heights has reorganized its safety commission so it will have fewer members—but more public representation.

Under the reorganization ordinance passed Monday, the safety commission will no longer consist primarily of village officials sitting in evaluation of the departments they direct.

Under the new plan, police and fire company professionals will act as experts in advising the commission. But commission recommendations will come from lay citizens taking an objective, outsider's view of village safety problems and thus—trustees hope — able to suggest new programs to supplement those now being used.

The reorganization calls for the safety commission to have nine members, seven of them lay citizens and the other two representing the park district and the schools.

WHEN THE FIRST safety commission was organized in the village in February 1965, the ordinance provided for an 11-member board, only two of whom represented citizens at large.

Of the new commission, only the chairman — John Langhenry, an attorney residing at 611 E. Olive, — has yet been named. He was appointed Monday.

Village Pres. John G. Woods is currently considering suggestions for the other six positions with the aid of village trustees.

$9.5-Million Plan Revealed

Plans for construction of a $9.5-million "adult community" on an unincorporated tract north of Arlington Heights will go before the plan commission Sept. 7.

The developer, Randhaven Terrace, Inc., proposes to build a series of elaborate high-rise apartments on 60 acres adjacent to the southeast intersection of Rand and Wilke Roads, Paddock Publications learned. The petitioners are seeking annexation to the village, provided they can secure rezoning from single-family (R-3) to high-rise apartment (R-5).

Atty. Frank O'Reilly, representing Randhaven Terrace, said the development would take from four to five years to complete. About 500 apartment units are included in the plan, he said.

The concept of an adult community would mean only persons 45 or older could qualify as renters. Families with children would not be eligible for residency, according to O'Reilly.

"We think we would appeal to the people from the general northwest area who would like to stay in the community but live in a smaller residence," he explained.

A CLUSTER OF 20 to 30 apartment buildings and a community center in the midst of gardens and small lakes are planned for the development. O'Reilly said the community center building would be a place for the residents to gather to play cards, dance and read.

The tract is divided by a seven-acre parcel owned by the Commonwealth Edison Co. O'Reilly said the Edison Co. parcel was included in the pre-annexation request. The south parcel, adjacent to Greenbrier subdivision, is 32 acres. The north parcel is 28 acres.

The property, now farm land, is owned by Elizabeth M. Long, a member of Randhaven Terrace, Inc.

O'REILLY compared the proposed adult community to the Leisure World development in Hoffman Estates, and Sun City in Arizona, built by Del Webb.

He indicated that most of the units in the Randhaven development would be one-and two-bedroom apartments, holding special appeal for the upper middle class.

There is a need for such a community, he said, because people today are required to retire at a younger age and the life span is longer.

"Ninety per cent of the older people prefer staying in their own familiar community upon retirement," O'Reilly said.

The pre-annexation petition, referred to the plan commission Aug. 8 by the village board, is expected to undergo careful consideration before it is approved. In the past, developers of other apartment complexes have sought county rezoning when the village turned down their requests.

THE VILLAGE currently is taking legal action against the county's rezoning of 32 acres southwest of Arlington Heights' corporate limits. Developers of that project had been denied rezoning by the village before turning to the county.

O'Reilly said the village's action in no way influenced Randhaven Terrace plans. He did not say whether the developers would seek county rezoning if the plan commission turned down the petition.

The site of the proposed project is contiguous with the north boundary of Greenbrier subdivision.

Bus Case In Court Today

Vote Angers Residents Near Clarendon Street

A vote by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday to turn down a request for vacation of Clarendon Street sparked a fiery display of anger from more than 20 Northwest Highlands residents.

The board approved vacation of two blocks on Marion—from Mitchell Avenue to Ridge Avenue—but decided leave open the eastern two blocks of Marion and all of Clarendon.

The action represented only partial approval of a recommendation from BOLI, which had urged vacating both streets entirely. Both streets, extend four blocks from Highland Avenue to Ridge Avenue.

THE BOARD'S vote was followed by jeers from residents who strongly favored vacation and by a heated criticism from BOLI member Harold Klingner.

"What you are doing if you don't vacate Clarendon is penalizing homeowners on Chestnut and Walnut," said Klingner. He claimed these homeowners would be burdened with an extra assessment for improvement of Clarendon and Marion through indirect benefit requirements.

Chestnut and Walnut Avenues are scheduled to be paved as part of the Northwest Highlands improvement project. Under indirect benefit requirements, residents on these two streets would be required to pay a portion of the cost for improvement of Clarendon and Marion.

"When and if these streets are paved," Klingner asserted, "public benefit will amoutn to at least $30,000, and these streets don't go anywhere and never could." He noted that Clarendon and Marion are blocked on the west by Lutheran Home property and on the east by a residential area.

He claimed $16,000 would be saved if the streets were vacated.

TRUSTEES TOOK issue with Klingner's remarks that emphasized five homeowners—one on Marion and four on Clarendon—who objected would have been treated unfairly if the streets were vacated.

Klingner said no one would be losing access to public streets because each homeowner would be given 33 feet of land to construct an access.

He urged the board to reconsider its decision, but Village Pres. John G. Woods made it clear that the matter was closed.

Woods said the board had conducted several on-site inspections of the streets and had taken its action only after extensive consideration. Vacation of the streets had been considered by the board for more than a month.

Trustee Jack Walsh said he resented any remarks that indicated "lack of judgment" by the village board.

KLINGNER DENIED he was questioning the board's judgment or that he felt the trustees lacked all the facts.

Klingner, who said he was attending the meeting at the request of BOLI president Sam Rudder, arrived after the board had voted.

No protest was raised by residents until the board had finalized its action. Before the vote, Woods opened the discussion to those residents "who had not been heard before on the matter" and later to those who had "something new to add."

However, the residents apparently misunderstood Woods and did not respond.

THE BOARD moved on to other business amid demands from residents who wanted to be heard. Miss Helen Hirt, 1132 N. Mitchell Ave., walked to the front of the meeting room, insisting the trustees review some figures which she claimed showed the village would save $100,000 if Clarendon were vacated.

Woods ruled the disgruntled homeowners out of order. (A

Coronets Drill Team Leaves Saturday for New York City

SMILING AND PROUD, Cindy Karkula (left) and Ruth Dougan, co-captains of the Coronets drill team accepted two trophies from Gov. Otto Kerner Saturday. The girls drill team, sponsored by VFW Post 981 in Arlington Heights, won both the girls drill team state championship and the highest total drill team state championship. The girls leave for New York Saturday to compete for the national VFW girls drill team championship. (A

Two bus-loads of Arlington Heights girls, suitcases packed with red corduroy uniforms, white boots and cowboy hats, guns, sabers and flags, will leave for New York Saturday.

The girls, the Coronets, the drill team sponsored by the Arlington Heights VFW Post 981, are off to seek their fourth championship of the year. They will compete for the national VFW drill team championship Monday.

Just last weekend, they took top honors in Illinois, winning both the girls' drill team championship and the highest drill team championship in competition with 10 girls teams and three boys teams.

MRS. LYNN CHAPIN, trainer of the team, explained that the Coronets are the only team to win the highest drill team championship two years in a row. Gov. Otto Kerner awarded them the silver championship trophy Saturday.

The 58 Coronets have been drilling two hours a night, four nights a week all summer to get in shape for the competitions. Besides winning the state championship, they won the VFW girls drill team championship for Illinois in June and came in third out of more than 20 drill teams at the South Milwaukee Festival of Music in July.

The New York competition is their final contest of the year. However, they will continue to make appearances. They will perform at Soldier's Field on August 28 and will march in several parades.

TO EARN money for the New York trip, the girls have held several car washes and sold tickets to the VFW Post 981 beef dinners. The local VFW will pay part of their trip expenses. and each girl will pay for her own room and board during the seven-day stay in New York City.

Ruth Dougan, 1103 E. Euclid St., co-captain of the team, explained that the girls look to the national competition as a "vacation." They will compete on Monday and march in a parade that afternoon. After that, she said, they will spend their time sightseeing.

The team members, Miss Dougan explained, were chosen through tryouts. After about a month of practice, the tryouts were held and about 60 girls out of the 160 competing were chosen.

"WE GO mostly on pep and enthusiasm," she said, although she admitted that the girls have to be able to go through certain maneuvers to qualify.

"We try to choose mostly younger girls," she added, "so they'll be with the team longer."

Team members range from freshmen to seniors. Miss Dougan has been with the group three years.

The drill team marches without any musical accompaniment, only the cadence called by the captains. Mrs. Chapin said that because the team is so large they are able to do many field cover maneuvers. Miss Dougan said that they also work with different types of line formations and pinwheels.

WHEN ASKED her reasons for joining the drill team, Miss Dougan said she had seen the team performing and liked it. She described the Cornets as "one big happy family" and said that besides the fun of belonging, the team members get their exercise, improve their posture and gain poise.

Cindy Karkula, 521 S. Reuter Drive, Arlington Heights, is also a co-captain of the championship team. Both she and Miss Dougan will be seniors at Arlington High this fall. (A

3 Dental Offices Are Burglarized

Break-ins at three dentists' offices during the weekend are under investigation by Arlington Heights police.

Dr. Harrie Hall reported that his office at 44 S. Dunton Ave. was broken into sometime Saturday or Sunday morning. Police said the vandals apparently entered the building by forcing open a side door.

Police said a fire extinguisher had been tipped over, and several desk drawers forced open, but nothing appeared to be missing.

Entry was made into the Northwest Medical Center at 1400 N. Arlington Heights Road by breaking a glass window at the rear of the building, police said.

A NEARBY resident said she and her son saw a motorcycle and a 1961 white Chevrolet leaving the rear of the building after they heard glass breaking. Police said all the offices appeared to be locked and nothing missing.

A cashbox found on a North Pine Avenue lawn revealed a third break-in of medical offices, police said. Mrs. Hulda Wall, 212 N. Pine Ave. told police Monday she found near her home a cashbox containing checks written to Dr. Frank Schroeder, whose office is at 201 N. Arlington Heights Road.

Upon further investigation, police found Dr. Schroeder's and Dr. M. F. Virnig's (same address) dental offices had been broken into. (A

2 Cyclists Are Injured

Two Arlington Heights cyclists were treated for injuries and released from Northwest Community Hospital Sunday evening after an accident at Thomas and Hickory Avenues, Arlington Heights.

Police said Lawrence E. Malburg, 21, of 1502 Kensington Road, was injured when the motorcycle he was operating struck a car driven by Stanley C. Carlson, 51, of 1707 N. George St., Arlington Heights. Also injured was Gloria J. Johnson, 18, of 1025 E. Palatine Road, a rider on the back of the cycle.

Police cited Malburg for driving with defective brakes.

A New 'Monopoly' For Suburbanites

by DAVE CRIPPEN
News Editor

Someone ought to dream up a new version of Monopoly for the suburbanite. The old one is great fun, to be sure, but a taxpayer like the average Arlington Heights resident needs a form of the game with which he can identify more closely.

The first step in revising the game would be to hike up land costs. In times like these, no one can buy property like Park Place for $360. And $200 for a railroad is a joke. Park Place should sell for about $50,000—and even that would be a good price.

CRIPPEN

The railroads should be multi-million dollar investments. Who nowadays can even consider railroading without planning to buy double-decked, air-conditioned commuter cars?

"Community Chest" and "Chance" could be renamed "School Tax" and "Municipal Tax."

The pink and yellow cards might require the player to pay certain tax increases—like 33.5 for an elementary district or 12 cents for the high school district.

The game-makers could even throw in a card taxing the player for a junior college building program. To be up to date, however, it should include a footnote explaining that 75 per cent of the funds will come from the state.

The player who owns the utilities could be taxed five per cent of the gross sum he receives from opponents who land on the electric company or water works. Of course, he would have the option of collecting this tax from his fellow-players with an additional charge for accounting costs.

Under the existing Monopoly rules, after a player buys two or three pieces of property, he can immediately begin building homes or even hotels. That idea is ridiculous in times like these. To be contemporary, the rules should require the land-holder to first seek permission from the other players by filing a building permit. Zoning regulations could govern the type of structure to be built.

Players could build high-rise apartments instead of hotels and charge exorbitant rents. Of course, zoning regulations would limit the number of multi-family dwellings because suburban Monopoly would have to be patterned after the idea of maintaining "residential character."

"Free Parking" would, of course, have to be renamed. No one can park his car for nothing anymore. The most suitable title for that square on the board would be "12-hour Commuter Parking." And if the player landed on the square more than three times, he could be issued a parking ticket.

There are numerous possibilities for modifying the rules of this game so it holds greater appeal to the average suburbanite.

These possibilities might even include some provision for the bad player. For instance, he could be allowed to pass a petition around the board calling for a more "representative" system to govern the game.

Here Kitty, Don't Go Scampering Off

A neighborhood-organized effort to rescue a lost kitten ended in success—and a small tragedy—Sunday.

Twelve members of three families in the 700 block of N. Hickory Ave., Arlington Heights, joined in an effort to find the kitten, lost and crying in a vacant field for several days. After several hours, Mrs. H. C. Schulze, 732 N. Hickory Ave., caught the frightened animal. It scampered off—after biting her.

The next attempt—with a butterfly net—was more successful.

Mrs. Schulze is harboring the animal for the required period of observation. After that, he's up for grabs.

"My own cat is about to have a litter. Another kitten is the last thing I need." (A

Sidewalk Program Delayed

The Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) has postponed consideration of constructing new sidewalks in the northwest quadrant of the village until Sept. 10.

Saying the sidewalk project had been treated as the "tradition stepchild," BOLI member Russell Colvin suggested that the board consider the matter at a special meeting.

BOLI member Harold Klingner suggested that the meeting be held on a Saturday morning with the village engineers, the village board, the press and the village manager present.

Plans stand for a 9 a.m. meeting on Sept. 10. The group will meet at the village hall and leave from there in a bus to survey the northwest quadrant.

The late date of the meeting may preclude installation of sidewalks near Wilson School this year. However, Sam Rudder president of BOLI, said it might be difficult to get any sidewalks in this year even with an earlier meeting date. (A

Reported Ax Battle Victims Recovering

Two Arlington Heights youths, described as friends, who allegedly battled with an ax last week, were reported in good condition at Northwest Community Hospital Monday.

Both youths, David Scharringhausen, 19, and Jesse Rodriquez, 16, were taken to the hospital for emergency treatment after their alleged encounter late Thursday night.

Arlington Heights police were first notified of the incident when Mrs. Embert Scharringhausen, 805 N. Vail Ave., Arlington Heights, alerted them that her son, David, had not come into the house, although he and a friend had pulled into the driveway more than an hour earlier. She later found her son, bleeding profusely, on the back seat of his auto, police said.

SHORTLY before the Scharringhausen call was received, village police were contacted by Cook County Sheriff's police who were, it was later realized, working on the same case. The sheriff's police had been alerted Police reported that Rodriquez, 3404 N. Arlington Heights Road, was taken to the hospital by his parents. He told his parents that Scharringhausen was bleeding to death in his auto. The sheriff's police went to investigate.

A third youth, David Weber, 19, of Des Plaines, was with Scharringhausen and Rodriquez at the time of the fight. When questioned, he told police that the other two youths had had a "little fight."

Weber told police he left Scharringhausen at his home after the youth had assured him that he was "okay." Weber said he then went to his own auto which was parked in front of the Scharringhausen home and drove away.

ACCORDING to the police, the fight took place in Scharringhausen's auto while it was parked in the Rodriquez driveway. There are conflicting stories as to how the fight began and progressed.

Weber told police that he drove the Scharringhausen auto from the Rodriquez residence to the Scharringhausen residence.

The sheath to the ax, but not the ax itself, was found in the automobile, according to police.

why Persin and Robbin rigid 5-star standard of Diamond quality?

Simple, really. The reason why our diamonds are of superior quality and value is the way our experts select them. Each stone is judged for . . .

- CUT . . . the precise craftsmanship that determines a diamond's beauty by skillful faceting.
- COLOR . . . exact grading by skilled gemologists.
- CLARITY . . . microscopic examination for flaws.
- BRILLIANCE . . . the fire released by master craftsmen through proper depth and faceting.
- CARAT WEIGHT . . . the measure of your diamond's size, significant in its value.

We're fussy, admittedly. But we like it that way, and we think you will too. It's the only way we know.

Woods Will Open Planners Exhibit

Arlington Heights' village Pres. John G. Woods will officially open the doors of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission's exhibit cars tomorrow at 7 p.m. on a Chicago and North Western railroad siding about two blocks west of the village depot.

Mayors, village managers, zoning board officials, and chamber of commerce officials from northwest suburban communities have been invited to attend the ceremony.

The "Choice Train" begins its 7-day stop in Arlington Heights. These two former parlor cars, loaned by the North Western railway, are a traveling exhibit of information about the commission, a description of its research projects, and a display of alternative plans for citizens to consider as guide lines for the future growth of their area.

THE EXHIBIT cars will be open to the public daily from 1 to 8 p.m.; Saturdays from 10 to 3; and Sunday from 3 to 7 p.m. They will feature an animated slide sequence as well as exhibit panels.

An exhibit on air pollution, water problems, open space and transportation will show the problems transcending community borders and the need for study and cooperation in tackling them on a more regional research and goals of the area to be filled in by local decision and action. (A

Budget Gets Final Approval of Board

Without hearing any vocal objections, Elementary District 25 school board members unanimously approved the $5.5 million 1966-67 budget Monday night.

Prior to the official approval, the formal budget was read at a public hearing.

The new budget, labeled by school administrators as an "austere financial blueprint," projects expenditures for the coming fiscal year at $5,536,438, with most of the funds—$4,217,992—going to the educational fund.

About $470,375 is alloted for the building fund.

The total budget shows an increase of almost $1 million over last year's budget of $4,559,338. According to Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh, the hike in appropriations reflects salary increases and substantial increases in the number of teachers and other employes required to staff additional classrooms for September 1966 and to reduce class size.

Appropriations for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund are $54,500; for the transportation fund, $109,300; the bond fund, $684,371.

Appropriations are planned to be offset by an estimated $5,537,799 in receipts.

The budget is for the fiscal year running from July 1, 1966 to June 30, 1967. (A

Two Charges Are Placed Against Man

An Arlington Heights man was arrested Friday afternoon on charges of driving under the influence of alcohol and negligent driving after his car struck a car parked in a trailer park on Arlington Heights Road near Central Road.

Police said William F. Stege, 40, of 1675 S. Arlington Heights Road, apparently misjudged a turn and drove off the road into a clump of small trees. His car struck an auto owned by Faye Anderson, 1675 S. Arlington Heights Road.

Stege's car was towed from the scene of the accident. No injuries were reported. (A READY FOR THE HAND-TO-GROUND DROP, and not a trash can in sight. Hang on. Already the inadequate number of trash cans in downtown Arlington Heights has caused quite a litter problem. Cluttering up the streets won't bring new trash cans any faster, officials say. Although they're hard to find, there are 15 trash cans in the business area. (Staff photo) (A

Downtown Litter Cans Will Cost $2,520, Says Hanson

It was an ordinary piece of trash, an ice cream wrapper with a wooden stick. Next to it lay a piece of cellophane and a torn candy wrapper, a discarded envelope, a scrap of newspaper.

Occasionally a sick-green trash can beckons the passerby to "Keep our Community Clean" while a cigar puffing "bug" caricatured the litterbug as an ugly beast that no one would either care or dare to be.

The wind stirred the strewn paper a little.

How many trash cans? Well, you can see two on Campbell Street in downtown Arlington Heights.

CONFRONTED with the miserable show of trash in downtown Arlington Heights, Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson, said he was glad the subject had been brought up. The litter situation is being considered by the village board, and Arlington Heights is only about six months away from new trash can installations, he said.

There are now about 15 trash cans downtown, Hanson said. He estimated that about 28 cans are needed. Besides the trash cans, the village has two street sweepers to help control the mess.

Hanson noted that recently a trash company offered to provide 40 cans free if the village would allow it to advertise on the cans. The village board rejected the offer on grounds that the cans would be unsightly.

"A good can will cost $90," Hanson said and added, "I'd like to get a couple and try them out."

THE "GOOD" cans that Hanson would like to try out are made of cast aluminum and have a hatch-type cover. They feature a patented device which makes their removal, without a special key, virtually impossible.

The primary problem, Hanson said, is the expense of the installations. The estimated $2,520 to purchase the needed 28 cans is not included in this year's village budget.

Until the new cans are installed, Arlington Heights residents will have to go the extra block to avoid the stigma of being a litterbug and to help "get" our community clean. (A

See Streets Plan Going To Board of Trustees

Several loose ends are expected to be tied into the over-all master thoroughfare plan Wednesday by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission.

Thoroughfare subcommittee chairman Fred Ainslie said he anticipates this public hearing on the plan will be the last one in a series of hearings which began in May.

Ainslie said he expects "rapid action" by commissioners on the key points to be discussed. If the report is okayed Wednesday, it will be sent to the board of trustees for consideration. The report will then be rewritten into final form to incorporate all changes and recommendations.

THE THOROUGHFARE study was prepared by Tec-Search, Inc., Evanston, in December of 1965.

Areas which will be considered Wednesday night are:

—Downtown improvement: signals and stop lights, on and off-street parking, vehicular entrances and exits and street widths.

—Thoroughfare standards: extension of Waterman Road north to Dunde Road; inclusio north to Dundee Road; inclusion of an unnamed street running east and west between Hintz and Dundee Roads; widening of Wilke Road north of the Northwest Highway from 20 feet to 24 feet; widening of Central Road to 44 ft. between Arlington Heights Road and Dunton Avenue; use Fernandez Avenue as a collector street to Golf Road.

THE THOROUGHFARE subcommittee, according to Ainslie, also will present a critique of the 1965 Tec-Search report. Ainslie indicated that the critique would point out that the report was not "up to the standards of the 1959 report" which Tec-Search also prepared.

Ainslie contended that the more recent report was "not a good one" and that the material was poorly arranged, it was not well documented, it was incomplete, some statistics were out-of-date and there was little evidence of original thinking in the report. The Herald made similar criticisms of the report shortly after it was issued.

Other members of the subcommittee are T. Darcy Sullivan, Leo Mueller, and Norval Stephens.

In prior hearings on the thoroughfare plan, the commission vetoed the plans for depression of the North Western Railway and Northwest Highay. At a June hearing commissioners voted to recommend a railroad grade crossing at Arthur Avenue and a "collector" designation for the street between Northwest Highway and Central Road. (A

Referendum Promotion Meeting Set

Thirteen precinct chairmen selected to "help get out the vote" for District 25's fall referendum will meet with board members and administrators Wednesday evening.

The precinct chairmen are to be briefed on the procedures for informing citizens and on the need for the tax rate increase.

Board members and precinct chairmen will also have a first viewing of an illustrated program specially prepared for use at service clubs and PTA meetings. The slide program is being prepared by David Robinson, an art teacher at Miner Junior High School.

SEVERAL LUNCHEONS are being scheduled with village organizations to further disseminate information about the referendum. Asst. Supt. Robert Campbell said these luncheon meetings, held in the administration building at 301 W. South St., will begin Aug. 23 and go through Sept. 8.

Selection of area captains will begin Aug. 25 by precinct captains and school principals. About 150 area captains will be chosen. (A

Delay to Next Year Olive St. Paving

Olive Street improvements will not go in this year.

The Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements Thursday night opened bids on the project. However, the two bids submitted were considerably higher than the estimated cost of the project, and BOLI rejected both of them.

The higher bids, BOLI speculated, were due to the 30 day construction strike this summer.

"I can't see using additional public funds. I think you'll get better bids by readvertising," said Robert Bishop, advisory BOLI commissioner.

Harold Klingner, BOLI member, suggested that BOLI readvertise for bids immediately. The work, rather than being set for this fall when contractors' schedules are already overloaded, will go in next spring. The underground work on the project will commence 90 days after award of the contract.

THE TWO rejected bids were from Rock Road Construction Co., Chicago, and the Allied Asphalt Paving Co., Hillside. The Rock Road bid for a pozzolanic base was $39,405.50 and $42,471 for a macadam base. The Allied Asphalt bids for the same two types were $41,208.25 and $43,841.50.

One of the village engineers, Charles McBride, said that these bids might almost be classified as "complimentary bids." It was pointed out by Klingner that usually there are about five bids on a project of this sort.

Norman Hennessy of the engineering firm, Consoer, Townsned and Associates, said that BOLI could only speculate that bids would be lower for work to be done next spring. (A

Young GOP Not Daunted by Rain

Winner of a weekend trip to the Wagon Wheel Resort for two was D. E. Hammerstrom, 301 N. Derbyshire Lane, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Jeraldyne Reighard, 110 S. George, Mount Prospect, won a bicycle in the drawings.

Despite the slippery baseball diamond, the Wheeling Young GOP's defeated the Maine Township Young GOP's with a wet score of 9 to 6 during an afternoon softball game.

WHEN BUYING CARPET, LOOK AT BOTH SIDES

Every homemaker takes a long, hard look at the color and texture when she's considering wall-to-wall carpeting for the home. Few however give very much thought to its underside.

Important hidden values in both construction and installation are found on the back side of carpeting. And they pre-determine its wearing qualities.

A good test for carpet excellence is to grasp it firmly and knead the backing between your fingers. Flimsy construction becomes all too evident in the looseness of the backing. After you have examined several grades, you'll soon learn which is best. The number of "crossings" or up-and-down and crosswise ridges in every square inch is important.

Remember, too, the harder it is to find the backing when probing from the top, the better. The denser, thicker nap indicates longer wearing qualities.

We'll be glad to let you try this "backside test" anytime at MAYFAIR CARPET. And we can give you many other pertinent pointers at the same time. Why not drop in soon?

Initial Apartment Plans Are Approved

Preliminary plans to construct a two-story apartment building on six lots adjacent to the southwest corner of Thomas Street and Evergreen Avenue were given a hesitant official nod Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

Trustees granted a zoning variation from R-3 (single-family) to R-5 (multi-family), but reserved the right to approve final building plans.

The property is bounded on the west by 12 lots zoned R-3 and on the south by the Northwest Medical Center. Apartments already are located on the east side of Evergreen.

Owner of the property, David Shoberg, told trustees he was seeking the variation because the lots could not easily be sold for development of single-family homes. He said no attempt had been made to sell the lots individually.

AREA OF THE property is about 38,808 square feet. The proposed apartment building would include 15 one-and two-bedroom units.

Village board members expressed concern over the design of the building. Trustee John White said there were "too many unanswered questions" to allow unrestricted rezoning.

He pointed out that only minimum back-yard requirements were being met in the proposed plans. In addition, the board should ascertain that adequate screening was provided between the apartments and the single-family lots to the west, White stressed.

Shoberg said he had no objection to the board's having the final say on construction plans. (A

Servicemen Gift Funds Are Sought

Money has been set aside by the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club to purchase gifts for servicemen in Viet Nam.

The club is asking friends, wives and relatives of men in the Viet Nam combat zone to send the servicemen's names to the club secretary, Mrs. Leslie Graham of 215 N. Prindle, Arlington Heights.

MRS. Geoge Behrens, president, says the club members decided last May that they wanted to send remembrances to servicemen in Viet Nam.

"We want to reach as many local servicemen as possible," she said in asking that names tary.

Mrs. Behrens said the gifts will be mailed out this fall soon after the beginning of the club season. (A

Man Injured When Car Hits Pole

An Arlington Heights man suffered injuries when his car went out of control into high tension wire structures on Tonne Road in Elk Grove Village last Wednesday.

Arthur L. Simon, 40, of 808 Catino, Arlington Heights, dislocated and fractured his hip as a result of the accident.

The front end of the 1966 car he was driving was damaged severely when it went out of control northbound on Tonne Road near Walnut Lane.

Simon was ticketed with driving too fast for conditions and an Oct. 7 court date was set.

Youngsters End Boredom, Aid Charity with Benefit Show

Little City in Palatine is $58.10 richer this week because a group of Arlington Heights youngsters wanted "something to do."

The youngsters, a bit bored with the lazy summer routine, recently were lounging on the front porch of the Charles Hinze home, 2919 N. Jackson Drive, Arlington Heights, trying to dream some entertainment.

"They were just sitting there talking," explained Mrs. Hinze. "They wanted something to do, so they decided to put a show on." The youngsters, using that vivid childhood imagination, began formulating a program offering the variety of vaudeville.

AS PREPARATION of the program progressed, the children's parents saw some real possibilities, according to Mrs. Hinze.

"This thing began to look promising and the adults suggested the children try to raise some money for donations," she said.

The youngsters agreed and later decided to give the funds they would earn to Little City, an educational center for mentally-retarded children.

After much practice—and a few suggestions from their parents—the children were prepared for the big show. They scheduled a two-day run for last Saturday and Sunday in the backyard of the Richard Ferris home, 2925 N. Jackson Drive.

Thirteen youngsters, ranging in age from one to 15, performed in the program and several others helped out. Included in the program were a Cinderella play, recorded pantomimes, numerous games and even dance lessons designed to teach adults the latest steps.

"We tried to steer the kids so there would be something for everyone," said Mrs. Hinze.

One of the highlights of the carnival was a children's zoo displaying rabbits, cats, pigeons, guinea pigs and a skunk. Featured attraction of the zoo was a rather unferocious "tiger cat," which was really one-year-old Kyle Ferris in costume.

BY SUNDAY evening, about 44 persons had attended the show and $58.10 was in the till.

The funds were turned over Tuesday afternoon to Little City officials, who spoke to the youngsters on how the money would be used.

Most of the children attend Carl Sandburg School in Wheeling.

Youngsters who participated are: Brett, Denise, Kelly, Darcy, and Kyle Ferris, of 2925 N. Jackson Drive; Tammy and Janice Dormann, of 2924 N. Jackson Drive; Mary Ann McGregor, of 267 W. Norman Lane; Jack and Julie Sedlander, of 3033 N. Jackson Drive; Corinne and Cindy Laury, of 3009 N. Jackson Drive; Anne Marie, Peggy and Timmy Hinze, of 2919 N. Jackson Drive; and Art Andrews, of 501 Bernice Drive. (A

Workshop for Administrators Winding up

Administrators of Arlington Heights Elementary District 25 tomorrow wind up a week-long administrators' workshop based on the "role of leadership in improving the competence of personnel."

The afternoon sessions began Monday with Dr. Dan C. Lortie of the midwest administration center, University of Chicago, as guest speaker.

On today's agenda, Philip Worland, principal of Park School and Joseph Beacom, principal of Miner Junior High, were to give a presentation on "Organizing for Action."

AT TOMORROW'S session, Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh will summarize the week's work and lead a general discussion.

Meetings have been held in the administration building, 301 W. South St., from 1:15 to 3:45 each day.

Attending the meetings are school principals, the superintendent and assistant superintendent, the director of special services, the personnel director, the curriculum director, the business manager and assistant business manager. (A

Name 5 Residents To Village Posts

Five Arlington Heights residents were named Monday to posts on the Zoning Board of Appeals and three village board standing committees.

The village board approved the following appointments: Tony Tomaso to the zoning board; Lloyd Meyer and Mrs. J. P. Israll to the youth council; Basil Regione to the police pension board; and John Langhenry to the safety commission chairmanship.

Tomaso, 1538 N. Haddow Ave., is a carpet manufacturing representative with Aldon Rug Manufacturers in Chicago. He has been in Arlington Heights for nine years.

Meyer, 307 N. Hickory Ave., is employed with Meyer Bros. Dairy. He is a life-long resident of the village.

Mrs. Israll, 2121 Verde Drive, has been in Arlington Heights for four years. She has served as secretary of Elementary School District 25's caucus nominating committee, vice-president of the Greenbrier Civic Association, and is active in PTA and the Girl Scouts.

Regione, 645 S. Ridge Ave., replaces Robert Schultheis on the police pension board. A 13-year-resident of Arlington Heights, he has also served as PTA treasurer.

Langhenry, 611 E. Olive St., is an attorney with Hinshaw, Culbertson, Moelman & Hoban. A resident of the village for five years, he has served as president of the Arlington Greens Civic Association.

All new appointees, except Langhenry, were officially sworn in at the Monday village board meeting. (A

Woman Hurt In Two-Car Accident

An Arlington Heights woman was slightly injured last week in a two-car accident at the Northwest Medical Center entrance on Arlington Heights Road at Thomas Street.

Thomas F. Mitchell, 18, 120 S. Yale Ave., was charged with failure to yield the right of way. Police said he cut in front of oncoming traffic on Arlington Heights Road. He was also charged with having no village sticker on his vehicle.

Injured was Evelyn Stademan, 57, 503 N. Belmont Ave. She suffered a bump on the top of the head. She was riding in the passenger seat of an automobile driven by Alice M. Friedel, 55, Palatine. (A

"QUOD GENUS EGESTATIS GRAVISSIMUM EST, IN DIVITIIS INOPES"

—A wise Seneca said this!

Almost 2,000 years ago, the statesman and philosopher Seneca observed that "the most grievous kind of destitution is to want money in the midst of wealth."

Times change, but human nature doesn't. In the most affluent period of our history, many families today are short of ready money. They aren't listening to the financial experts who tell them that at least half of one year's earnings should be in readily available savings.

We'll help you get the financial liquidity you need and rid yourself of that destitute feeling. Simply open a savings account with us and start the habit of putting something away each pay day.

Business Aid Sought on Low Income Housing

by JOAN LORENSON
Staff Writer

Industrialists and county and village officials will be mustered for a meeting to discuss how lack of housing affects the labor supply.

This is the latest action to achieve a solution to problems of Mexican - Americans facing eviction from substandard housing primarily in Elk Grove Township.

The meeting will be called under the auspices of Richard Blakley, managing director and secretary of the Illinois State Housing Board. Its goal will be to give "facts of life" to employers about housing situations for workers in suburban Cook County.

IN ANOTHER action at a meeting Monday of select state, county and local officials, Blakley directed the Rev. J. Ward Morrison of Queen of the Rosary Catholic parish in Elk Grove Village to work with the Housing Authority of Cook County to obtain housing for Mexican-Americans.

Father Morrison will work with Paul Freedman, executive director of the Housing Authority of Cook County, in cases where Mexican-Americans cannot get loans though they have capital. The housing authority would rent, buy or lease houses. This agency has $263,303 in funds available for spending throughout Cook County.

Blakley said funds can be used in a way that mortgage money will not be tied up.

Freedman said villages must recognize how the housing situation is "inextricably involved" with the labor supply. Blakley commented that Rockford six months ago asked for funds for low cost housing with 1,000 units since it recognized it must have labor for industry. Blakley believes the business community may be the key to making villages recognize the need for providing housing.

The Rev. Robert Reicher of the Catholic Council on Working Life said the Illinois Migrant Council is employing two people to find housing for people being trained with new job skills.

"Training is not any good without housing," Father Reicher pointed out.

SOME OF THE group agreed that new legislation might be needed since the county has no agency with the responsibility of handling relocation of low income people. In Chicago when a slum is cleared a city agency relocates the people evicted from their homes. Freedman said the county's housing authority doesn't have the staff to provide this service.

The County Department of Public Aid has no responsibility for most of the families living in substandard housing in Elk Grove Township, noted Daniel Ferrone, Cook County Building and Zoning commissioner. Most families earn more than the income making them eligible for welfare help. Some of the staff members of this agency said they would try to cooperate with the families to find housing, according to Ferrone.

The county will not be deterred in going into Cook County Circuit Court to ask for the vacation and demolition of the buildings on the Mahler farm, 1250 Mount Prospect Road, Elk Grove Township. This will be the first of 17 sites in the county to be attacked. Seventy people were living in the 17 dwellings.

Ferrone admitted, "I'm made to look like the man with the black hat and I don't like it."

FATHER Morrison's proposal that the county condemn land such as the Mahler farm was ruled out as a possibility by the state and county officials.

The group also decided any loans and grants available from the Farmers Home Administration could not be used in northwest Cook County. The loans would have to be paid off in 30 years and it is doubtful the county will have agricultural workers over this period of time.

A broadly based not-for-profit corporation has been established in Union and Jackson Counties to build and operate housing for 120 people employed in agriculture.

Ferrone explained only bona fide farms can have migrant housing. This housing must comply with Cook County Health Department requirements.

THE POSSIBILITY of establishing a trailer court for low income families was discussed. The majority seemed to feel this would be a short range, emergency solution only. Ferrone told the group the Cook County Board had not approved one trailer court since the 1960 comprehensive zoning ordinance was adopted in 1960. Two court actions resulted in expansion of existing trailer courts.

In the meeting with industrial leaders, someone will propose the companies form a revolving fund to subsidize workers so they can afford housing in the areas where they work. Industries must realize they have a direct stake in the housing problem, the group seemed to agree.

Blakley said the meeting did not expect to produce "quick solutions." Many times during the discussion, however, he acted as a catalyst for some concrete proposals.

The meeting was called at the direction of Gov. Otto Kerner. Father Morrison, a personal friend of the governor's, has been active in seeking solutions to housing problems faced by Mexican-Americans. He, the Rev. Ralph Orozco of St. Theresa Vicariate of Palatine, and Virgil Bass of the Northwest Church Council for Migrants were area representatives at the meeting. (EF

First 'Police Counselor' Okayed for Elk Grove High

A renewed okay for assignment of policemen to District 214 high schools was given by the board of education Monday.

Board members approved selection of Elk Grove Village Officer Jose Gonzales Jr. as Elk Grove High police counselor and urged Arlington Heights and Wheeling police representatives to provide men for their schools, too.

The board took its action after spending two hours questioning a three-man team from Flint, Mich., where a police counselor program has been in operation for eight years.

Obviously impressed by the Flint approach, which emphasizes prevention of delinquency rather than punishment, the board asked that school officers here be called "police counselors" too.

BOARD MEMBER Richard Bachhuber cast the lone "no" vote on the police proposal Monday. But he said he did so because he felt the school system's written descriptions of the position (called school safety officer up to Monday night) did not yet come close enough to Flint's.

Other board members indicated they felt the description of the position should be flexible enough to provide for easy change. They voted to give Supt. Edward H.Gilbert full authority to set the police officer's duties "as he sees fit."

Suggestion for assignment of police officers to schools originated with the four assistant principals for administrative services. The first detailed description given the board of a safety officer's work included a long string of duties ranging from checking on addresses of pupils to directing traffic and preventing dropouts from hanging around the school.

Forest View Principal Lawrence Jenness has described the position as designed to cope with "the four T's"—traffic, trouble, truancy and theft.

ELK GROVE Village Police Chief Harry P. Jenkins has sized up the job, initially, as involving 50 per cent safety detail, primarily in supervision of parking lots; 25 per cent patrol, and 25 per cent counseling.

"The question arises, 'How much of what this officer will be doing is police work?' I say, 'All of it.'" Jenkins told village trustees in proposing his force be expanded so a man could be assigned to Elk Grove High.

"One of the basic duties of the police officer—the police department—is to prevent crime," Jenkins added. "Here we have a tremendous opportunity to take a positive step in this area of crime prevention: A new school, new faculty, new student body, and a new approach (relatively) in establishing rapport between the police, the faculty and the student body."

DISTRICT 214 will pay 75 per cent of the cost of the Elk Grove officer's salary, benefits and equipment. Similar cost-sharing will take place with Arlington Heights and Wheeling police departments when officers are assigned to high schools there.

Only the Mount Prospect police department, serving Prospect High, has indicated it is not interested in having an officer assigned to the school as police counselor.

Both the force and Prospect High administrators say they feel that they are handling on-school trouble problems adequately now. Prospect Principal A. L. Kulicke has, however, suggested addition of an attendance supervisor—without police powers but with much the same duties regarding supervision of school trouble spots and checking truants.

Flint Team Reports Delinquency Decline

Flint, Mich., with its police counselor program and "total resources" approach to meeting children's needs, has reduced juvenile delinquency while the rest of the nation has seen it rise.

This was a key fact stressed by a three-man team here from Flint Monday to advise High School District 214 on its proposal to assign village policemen to the schools.

In an interview with a Paddock Publications reporter the three—Police Counselor Robert McLaren, Principal James Bisbing. And Big Brother program administrator Robert Enders—also emphasized that the Flint police counselor program "evolved," rather than being started in perfect form.

POLICEMEN WERE assigned to junior highs, initially, McLaren said, "because the younger we can start working with the kids the better we're going to be." Last year the program was expanded and a police counselor was assigned to each senior high. Before that, the junior high police counselor helped in the high schools, too.

Public acceptance of the Flint program can best be understood by hearing the three men describe the way it works.

"We want to create an image with children so they don't think of us as a hard-nosed cop," explains McLaren. "Every kid is subject to making a mistake. a mistake. We begin with boys a mistake. We begin withboys and girls in the second and third grade, anywhere where there is anti-social behavior—breaking windows, pulling up flowers, pestering other boys and girls. We try to work on things that may happen so they don't happen."

"Were it not for McLaren's action," Principal Bisbing asserts, "Many more children would become part of the police record."

ALTHOUGH plainclothes officers, Flint's police counselors carry a concealed gun, badge and handcuffs just like any other officer. McLaren's car is a fully equipped—but unmarked—police cruiser. He doesn't feel he needs a uniform.

"Every child knows me—and can spot my cruiser a thousand yards away in the dark," McLaren says smilingly. But when he calls on a family as part of an investigation, the neighbors think the plainclothesman is a businessman, not a cop.

The gun he considers a necessity. "I might need to use it some time to protect a child," the Flint officer points out.

Two Drivers Are Hurt in Crash

The drivers of two cars were slightly injured Tuesday evening when their autos collided at the intersection of Northwest Highway and Dunton Avenue in Arlington Heights.

Adelyn J. Shatter, 32, of 741 Elsie Dr., Melrose Park, suffered stomach and neck injuries and Jonathan Y. George, 40, of 1128 W. Diversey, Chicago, claimed back injuries. Both were treated by family doctors.

Police cited George for following too closely and not having his car under control.

Set Benefit For Aug. 24

The air-conditioned meeting room of Northwest Suburban YMCA will be the setting for the annual benefit card party sponsored by Arlington Heights Newcomers' Club. The date is Wednesday, Aug. 24, at 8 p.m. at the 'Y' which is located at 300 E. Northwest Hwy., Des Plaines.

Proceeds from the evening will go to Pompa de Comas, Arlington Heights' sister city in Peru.

NEWCOMERS and their friends are invited to the party but need not have a table made up in advance. Tickets are available from Mrs. C. J. Ragusa, 392-0468.

Any newcomers in the area who are interested in membership in the club may call Mrs. G. McIlraith, 259-3656.

Area News Roundup

PALATINE—Three Palatine policemen named in a $1 million suit have been informed that they are not covered by the village's insurance company. The company holds that since the officers are being charged with "willful or intentional misconduct" the village is not obligated to indemnify them. This comes at a time when the question of carrying liability insurance is under review by the board of trustees.

ROLLING MEADOWS—A 46 per cent increase in the municipal tax rate is being predicted. The finance committee is expected to recommend a $146,115 tax levy for 1966-67. Last year's levy for general government, mental health, police pension fund and the public library amounted to $100,000.

SCHAUMBURG TOWNSHIP—The appointment of Wayne Schaible as successor to Schaumburg Township School District Supt. Dr. Kenneth Underwood, who resigned last week, is expected at tonight's (Thursday) school board meeting.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—The VFW Post 9284 continues to look for a site for its memorial home after the Cook County Zoning Board rejected its request for change in zoning for its property. Village trustees suggested three alternative sites on which negotiations might be started.

WHEELING—Wheeling trustees debated controversial changes in the village sick leave and vacation policy last Monday, then tabled it for more study. A decision on the proposed law will be acted upon Sept. 26.

Superintendent

Seven Men On List

The field of candidates for superintendent of Elk Grove School District 59 has been narrowed to seven men.

The men probably will be interviewed this week, according to School Board Pres. Douglas Burns. Some delay in personal interviewing of the candidates has occurred because of problems of transportation as a result of the airline strike.

THE FINALISTS being considered range in age from 37 to early 50's and hold positions of superintendent or assistant superintendent in their school districts. The area they come from ranges from the Rockies to the East Coast, and the number includes some Chicago suburban area administrators, Burns said. Most school districts are smaller than District 59.

All have had a minimum of five years of administrative experience.

They were chosen from a field of 40 applicants. About 80 per cent of the applicants were recruited by Dr. Frank Endicott of Northwestern University, consultant to the district. Endicott screened the applicants to 11 and then the board narrowed the field to seven.

"Their caliber on paper leads you to believe any one would be highly acceptable," Burns said. He said he has been "very encouraged" with the response from throughout the nation. He attributed some of the reponse to the nature of the prospectus Supt. Roger Bardwell developed for the district.

THE SCHOOL board will interview each man. Endicott and Bardwell will not participate in these interviews. Bardwell will show each man the district and explain significant aspects of it.

"We hope to be prepared to name Bardwell's successor by Sept. 1, Burns said.

Bardwell probably will conduct the teacher orientation for the beginning of the school year. He hopes to move to his new position as superintendent of the Ithaca, N. Y., school system by Sept. 15.

Tuberculosis Test Unit Here Tuesday

Free chest X-rays will be offered to residents of Arlington Heights Tuesday from 12 noon to 6 p.m. at the X-ray unit parked at the Ben Franklin Store, 9 W. Campbell St.

The mobile X-ray unit, intended to serve as an adjunct to the routine community, industry, and food handler surveys conducted yearly in various parts of suburban Cook County, will again be available for 70 mm. survey X-rays for persons needing pre-employment, pre-marital, pre-natal, or licensing examinations.

The service also is available to those who have not been checked for tuberculosis within the past year.

Drapes, Carpet Taken at Houses

A $300 set of draperies and several pieces of carpet valued at $600 were reported stolen from two houses under construction on Ivy Lane, Arlington Heights.

Stuart Krisman of Dabs Construction Co. from Skokie told police the theft occurred sometime Monday evening. Police said entrance was made through a window in one home and by breaking a doorlock in the other home.

School Bus Case to Court

sought for the duration of the litigation.

Last Thursday members of the Prospect Meadows Homeowners Association, which is funding the suit, reaffirmed their backing of the "neighborhood school" principle which they feel was violated by the school board in deciding to move Prospect Meadows children from nearby Kensington School to North.

Some 75 members of the association did so after a long meeting in which objectors to the suit—parents of St. James Parochial School children who will be eligible for free bussing along with the public school students—had their say.

Association president James Greist was among those who indicated reservations. He said he felt it was "very unfortunate" that bussing of the Catholic children had been made an issue.

Seven other persons spoke against the suit, the leaders being Mrs. Harry Rood and Mrs. J. J. Phillippi, who served on the St. James parents committee that obtained free bussing for their children after boundary changes, and pupil transfers, were approved May 9 by the District 25 Board.

The two questioned at length Mrs. Mateja, chairman of a mothers' committee that arranged for the legal action after earlier organized protests against transfer of their children failed to sway the board.

Mrs. Mateja read at the meeting the lengthy legal documents detailing the suit filed against District 25 by their attorney, Andrew Leahy, and the request to dismiss reply from school attorney Allyn Franke of Norman, Engelhardt, Zimmerman, Franke and Lauritzen.

She was questioned at length by Mrs. Rood and Mrs. Phillippi regarding the suit's charge that the Prospect Meadows children were being transferred in order to facilitate bussing of the Catholic students.

That charge is false, both Mrs. Rood and Mrs. Phillippi asserted. They said their knowledge was based on their own work in organizing the Catholic parents' request for student bussing after the school board approved school boundary changes on May 9.

Questioned in turn by Mrs. Mateja, Mrs. Rood agreed that she was speaking specifically of the formal parents committee work and had no knowledge as to whether contacts had been made earlier by parents, other parish residents or clerics.

Mrs. Phillippi commented, "Do you think you really have a legitimate case? As far as I can see we're wasting our money." She also stated that "many would not have signed the petition" had they known the parochial bussing would be an issue in the suit.

Mrs. Mateja pointed out that the petitions had involved "an entirely different situation," at a time when a suit was not even being considered. When this approach failed, money to back a suit was allocated from the homeowners asociation budget.

Answering their comments on the suit itself, Mrs. Mateja said, "This was written solely—entirely—for a judge to get, in order to give the judge a complete picture." She added, "If I had a matter on which there was a disagreement, I'd say give it to an impartial judge."

Backing her up at that point was Prospect Meadows resident Jake Jacobs. Speaking from the back of the room, he asserted, "I'm only interested in one thing—that we win the case. If the lawyer didn't think he was going to be effective he wouldn't have included this."

The parochial school parents also charged that they were being "discriminated against," apparently because their children's bussing had also become an issue in the suit.

Mrs. Mateja retorted, "If any wrongdoing were attributed to any party other than the board of education, the suit would be directed toward them. There is nothing alleged regarding any Catholic, any resident of the parish, or any representatives of the parish."

At the end of the exchange a woman in the back of the room spoke up. "We elected Mrs. Mateja as our spokesman, our chairman. So why are we cross-examining her? She seems very capable."

Most of the 75 persons crowded into the small fieldhouse applauded.

Low School Cited For Architecture

Juliette Low School, located in the Surrey Ridge subdivision in Arlington Heights, has been named one of 15 award-winning schools in the nation for its architectural design.

The elementary school, designed by Orput-Orput and Associates of Rockford, will be described in detail in the January edition of Nation's School magazine, sponsor the the annual architectural competition.

The newest school in Elk Grove District 59, Juliette Low will be eligible to become the "school of the year." This is the second school designed by Orput-Orput and Associates that has been recognized for its architecture. The Salt Creek School in Elk Grove Village was considered outstandng though it did not become one of the finalists.

The new school, designed in a mushroom-like shape, features an open plan inside to allow full use of an independent learning center and team teaching approach to education. The kindergarten rooms are the only self-contained classrooms.

Minor Injuries In Cycle Crash

An Itasca cyclist was slightly injured Sunday evening in an accident at Arlington Heights and Central Roads, Arlington Heights.

James M. Dick, 20, of 114 W. Center St., was riding his motorcycle north on Arlington Heights Road when he struck a southbound auto driven by Clara A. Hefferen, 63, of 906 E. Wheeling Road, Mount Prospect. Police said the Hefferen auto was apparently making a left turn when the cycle struck the right rear fender.

Dick was treated by a family doctor for an injured leg.

There were no charges. (AF

Passenger Is Injured In Accident

A Palatine man was slightly injured Tuesday afternoon as the result of an accident at the Market Basket shopping Center, Arlington Heights and Palatine Roads.

Don R. Schoenborn, 24, of 68 Pleasant Hill, claimed back injuries which he suffered while a passenger in a car driven by Hattie Schoenborn, 68 Pleasant Hill, Palatine. He was treated by a family doctor.

Police said the Schoenborn auto was making a turn into the shopping center lot when a car driven by James W. Bailey, 17, of 920 E. Glencoe, Palatine, struck it from behind.

Growing Problem: Need of Municipal Space

Staff, Facility Needs Expanding

by MICHAEL NASH
Staff Writer

Municipal services ranging from issuing dog licenses to giving permission to build a multi-million dollar apartment project are accomplished at area village halls.

There is rarely a rush on either of these two, but put them together with the innumerable services area villages must provide and the result is a staggering amount of information that must be considered, organized, recorded and filed.

Consider the rapid growth rate of the northwest suburbs which multiplies the need for municipal staff and space and you have some idea of the problem that some area municipal governments are facing.

SPACE FOR the municipal staff is one of the most immediate problems of a growing suburb. The staff expands on two levels usually depending on the stage of development of the community.

Newer communities sometimes have to add entire new departments to the municipal government as an increasing population makes their desirability apparent. Older communities may have all the necessary departments established but must continually add office help to handle the various departments' increasing number of transactions as the community continues to expand.

Hoffman Estates exemplifies the younger community which has had to increase the number of departments considerably in recent years.

The village hall is a large white house which was converted to offices by a developer and then to a village hall in November 1959. At that time only the deputy clerk, the building department, and the police department inhabited the building.

Since then, facilities have had to be added to provide for a public works department, larger police force, village manager, a zoning and planning board, a youth commission, the civil defense organization, and a resident engineer.

IN ADDITION to working space for the 25 full-time jobholders in the building, space is needed for the increasing number of records which must be kept as new subdivisions are developed.

Village Manager Harold Appleby says that Hoffman Estates could now use a full-time engineering staff. This would require considerable space for working and records.

Architects have been contacted recently and plans for new facilities are in the preliminary stages.

Palatine's budget this year includes $50,000 for work which will add space to its village hall. The village is now carrying out a five year expansion program during which the village manager and the department heads are studying the desirability of expanding and will soon report the results of their studies to the village.

The result of the study, according to June Boston, deputy clerk, may be the creation of two jobs where only one exists now. For example, a position may be created to handle the village water system which now comes under the more general category of public works.

IF THIS happens it would be the second time the public works department has generated a new job in Palatine. In 1957 the public works department multiplied by dividing and the result was a separate building department. New jobs require new space.

A recent addition to the Addison municipal government has been the park and recreation department. However Addison is in a position which would be considered at least somewhat enviable by many other suburbs.

Four years ago Addison bought a large two story building from the Lutheran Child Welfare Association. Municipal facilities now occupy only the first floor; there is plenty of room for the public library as well as space to rent for classrooms to nearby school districts. Meeting space is provided free of charge to various organizations in the community and the Addison United Presbyterian Church holds services there on Sunday.

The 2,000 per year population increase in Addison increases the municipal staff each fiscal year but the problem is rejuvenation of available space rather than undertaking a building program.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS and Mount Prospect have made no recent additions to the number of departments within the municipal government. Both suburbs now add an occasional new office worker as the amount of paper work increases with the population.

Since the new Arlington Heights municipal building was completed in December 1962, the population has jumped from 33,400 to nearly 50,000 people. The extra work provides full time jobs for five people.

Mount Prospect built a sizable addition to its village hall five years ago. The addition has proved adequate and no plans for expansion exist.

Schaumburg met its need for municipal facilities in 1962 in a unique way when a developer donated a farm which was developed into a civic center. The remodeling was done in such a way that it preserves the charm of the old farm buildings.

THE MUNICIPAL offices are in what was a four car garage. The police and fire department facilities are part of the barn, as is the courtroom. Some of the police and fire department offices are remodeled cattle stalls. The large courtroom has a recreation room appearance with its wooden beams and chandeliers.

Expanding municipal facilities are part of the growing pains which all developing suburbs face at least once. The problem is easily recognized but solutions are sometimes complicated. A glance inside the Rolling Meadows city hall is enough to realize that more space is needed but where and how to accomplish a building program can become complicated questions.

The city council recently turned down a proposal for a $40,000 addition to the present building, and set Oct. 18 as a referendum date on the question of whether or not to purchase a downtown civic center site. If the referendum fails to pass, the question will remain unsolved.

However expensive or complicated the problem of providing adequate municipal facilities becomes in the suburbs, it must be viewed as part of the larger issue of population growth, which, almost without exception, the northwest suburbs consider desirable and encourage. (A-15

Plan Great Books Leader Training

A Great Books Foundation leader training course will be offered this fall semester at the adult evening program of Maine Township High School, starting Sept. 22.

William Lloyd, professional staff member of the foundation, will teach methods of conducting an exercise in reflective thinking about a book.

THE CLASS is open to anyone who will co-lead an adult Great Books discussion group within the next year.

Classes will meet for eight consecutive weeks from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Registration will be at the high school the week of Sept. 12. Fee is $1.75. The 16 paperbound readings are $8.

It's Really Awfully Dull in Scarsdale-Stonegate Area

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Natalie Fairhead 392-5654 — Mary O'Leary CL 9-3827

"All quiet on the Sidelights front" could well be the catch-word for this week's activities in the Scarsdale-Stonegate area. Local residents, it seems, are going out of town for their summertime excitement and returning to their Arlington Heights homes to relax. As a result, parties and at-home festivities are at a low level, giving sidelighters a chance to take it easy and conserve their energy for later social swinging.

Last Sunday the Gordon Glorches picked up their daughter Sally from her stint at Camp Tiyalaka. From there, they and their three children, Susan, Chunk and Sally, migrated en masse to Coons Lodge in northern Wisconsin for a five-day family vacation. Although four of their five days there were a drag weather-wise, the Glorches managed to enjoy every moment and spent the one nice day of their stay swimming and boating.

Recently arrived at the Glorch residence for a summer's end visit is Mrs. Glorch's niece, Sarah Gambling. Sarah was sent to the Glorch's home at 615 S. Beverly from her home in Long Island as a gift for her seventh birthday.

MR. AND MRS. William Kelley, 630 S. Beverly, left July 22 for the Hawaiian Islands. Having arrived in the islands via American Airlines, they moved into a hotel in Oahu and spent the next few days doing the traditional tourist stint throughout Hololulu, Waikiki Beach, and other island attractions.

On the 28th the Kellys flew back to California and spent a week touring the West Coast. Among the cities on their California itinerary were San Francisco, San Diego (where they visited Mr. Kelly's brother and Mrs. Kelly's cousin), San Jose (where they paid a visit at the home of Mr. Kelly's sister), and Los Angeles (home of another of Mr. Kelly's sisters).

After transporting their son Doug to Camp Napowan, the rest of the Melvin Coobs family, 401 S. Carlyle, took off for a weekend of family camping in Wisconsin. From Friday to Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Coobs and their two children, Patricia and David, camped out in a tent and enjoyed the swimming, fishing and other recreational facilities of the camp at which they were staying.

When the cry "All hands on deck" went out a week ago last Sunday, the caller was vacation-time skipper Donald Spethmann, summoning his wife and three oldest children, Susan, Nancy, and Danny, to lend a hand in launching the boat which was to be their home for the next five days.

WHEN THE Spethmanns left port in a rented boat in Savannah, Ill., they set out for the general direction of Dubuque. However, their chief purpose was not to reach Iowa, but to enjoy a few days on board a boat on the Mississippi River. They returned home to 640 S. Beverly last Friday to tell the rest of the Spethmanns of their experiences.

Morristown, N. J., was the site of a whirlwind of visiting for Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hardison and their daughter Gayle. After landing in New Jersey (where they flew in their own plane), they began their visits with Mr. and Mrs. Brunner, 357 S. Burton; Mrs. Brunner's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kruse; and young Gayle Hardison's fiance, Charles De Croes, who came in from Philadelphia.

On their flight home to 347 S. Burton, the Hardisons stayed over in Ohio, due to bad weather and poor flying conditions, but arrived home safely to continue preparations for Gayle's wedding.

Miss Linda Jane Nicol, who has been visiting in Norway, has written to her parents the Robert Nicols, 200 S. Yale, Arlington Heights, that she may stay in Norway to study the language, attend the University of Bergen and seek employment. Miss Nicol left the States July 9 on a Norwegian American cruise ship, accompanied by a cousin, Sylvi Alvseike of Norway, who had been visiting the States for a year.

She has visited relatives in Sondhordlund and Oslo. (A

Planners Split Vote On Commercial Zoning

The Arlington Heights Plan Commission last Wednesday cast a split vote on a request for rezoning a tract along south Arlington Heights Road to limited retail business use (B-2).

As a result of the 4-4 vote, the preannexation request will come before the village board Sept. 5 with no recommendation from the plan commission.

The petitioners, four individual property owners and a builder, are asking for commercial zoning for a 17-lot parcel east of Arlington Heights Road between Magnolia and Cypress Streets.

ATTORNEY William Moore, representing the property owners, pointed out that his clients intended to utilize the entire tract for a one-unit shopping center.

"We're in an area where the logical development on a busy thoroughfare is commercial," he said. "We will come in with the purpose of serving the nearby residential regions."

The property has a 450 foot frontage and a depth of 25 feet.

Commissioner T. Darcy Sullivan questioned Moore about the danger of increased traffic due to the addition of a business.

Moore replied that the thoroughfare was already busy. He said that the proposed commercial center would service the traffic in the area. He pointed out that the property is located near other commercial or institutional uses and that there were no residential areas close by.

CHAIRMAN Harold Carlson noted that shallowness of the tract would create problems in providing adequate parking space for shopping center users.

The property is presently in an unincorporated area zoned single family. (A

THE EASY WAY

Modern youngsters are prone to smile knowingly when a member of the older generation expounds upon the difficulties of the "old days."

Perhaps a bit of exaggeration is involved. Maybe a bit of "color" is added in the effort to impress.

It may not be denied, however, that our present society is geared to the search for the "easy way". We have machines that do everything but think. We can "program" them to provide answers to specific problems; to do specific tasks; to perform an endless number of assignments.

In our individual relationships with our fellow citizens, we have a built-in evaluator. Our conscience weighs for us the merits of our acts and attitudes. It cannot be "programmed" to ignore that which is right or to support that which is wrong.

When a moral issue is involved, conscience indicates to us the easiest way is not always best. We may lose money or friendships if we choose to be "right", but it is easier to live with ourselves if we know we have done our best.

SAVING TEETH IS YOUR FIRST CONCERN

Do not wait until they become so decayed that an extraction is necessary. Preventive dentistry will save you time, money and much future pain.

Let your dentist arrange for your regular periodic visits for examining, cleaning and protecting your teeth and gums. Any problems he finds in the future will usually be minor ones that are easily and painlessly corrected.

We have a complete stock of Dental-Aids, plus the special products and toothbrushes any dentist may specify.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May be compound yours?

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Europe was the destination of Gene and Mary Ellen Van de Merkt and children, John, Larry, and Pat, when they left 1231 N. Wilke in mid-June. The family's trip really began when they boarded the U.S.S. United States, which carried them across the ocean on the first lap of their journey. They stayed for a week in France, where they were entertained by a friend of one of their relatives. Pat Van de Merkt met her French pen pal and stayed several days with her.

In Paris the travelers picked up their shiny blue Mercedes Benz, ordered prior to leaving the United States, and also bought camping equipment. The rest of their tour was spent camping when weather permitted, and included a short trip into Switzerland, and a week in Nice.

Italy was the next country visited; about a week and a half was spent in different areas there, with Florence and Venice but two of the spots seen. Stuttgart, Germany, and Copenhagen, Denmark, were the next places visited. In Copenhagen the Van de Merkts were entertained by friends they had met while camping in Italy. In Sweden they also visited with fellow campers. In Holland the travelers were entertained by two boys they met at a camp in Nice and went on a cruise on their cabin cruiser.

FROM BELGIUM they took a ferry boat to England. In Bournmouth they visited an English family they had met in Italy. Mary Ellen's brother met them in London. He is a flight engineer for Pan American and was on the plane that carried the family back to the states. Now the camping supplies have been sold; the car is being shipped home, and August 9 found the vacationers back at 1231 N. Wilke. Mary Ellen kept a log of their trip and mentioned that seeing the garden of Versailles in France the first day it was shown after being improved was one point of interest they will not soon forget.

On August 13, the family celebrated Gene's birthday at a small party attended by Mary Ellen's parents, the Amer C. Pattersons of Evanston. Discussing the trip was naturally an important part of the day's conversation.

The Terrace welcomes Bernard and Kay Lukowski and children, Gary, 16, and Debbie, 12. The Lukowskis moved to 1405 N. Race from Webster, Mass., on Aug. 8. Bernard is employed by the Leland-Gifford Co. in Chicago. Both Bernard and Kay enjoy cards, bowling, reading, and participating in P.T.A. work. The family is Catholic.

MONDAY NIGHT Loretto Wasmund and Deanna Olson gave a coffee to bid farewell to Francine Elder, who recently moved from 1334 N. Chicago, and to welcome Diana Olson who moved into that address. The coffee, held at the Wasmunds, 1338 N. Chicago, was attended by Trudy Vonderheide, Dorothy Allen, Helen Martin, Mary Lou Charleston, Dee Poole, Jan Murphy, Barb Wiederhold, Helen Flesch, Sandy Teschner, Jackie Ring, Sally Goodman, Edith Singer, and June Kelley.

Ilona Goodman, daughter of the Bill Goodmans, 1402 N. Chicago, spent the first week of August visiting the Henry Knell family in Woodstock. Linda Kneli and Ilona were good friends when the families both lived in Woodstock. While away Ilona attended the fair and won a second prize with a vegetable sculpture she entered in a contest there.

Visiting the Warren Blackburns, 1326 N. Race, are Joan's sister, husband and children, the Don Andersons of Madison, N.J.

On Aug. 6, Mrs. Anderson and the women's mother, Mrs. Eleanore Krafft of Lansing, Mich., arrived at the Blackburns'. Last Thursday Don Anderson and his sons joined them here after spending some time fishing in Canada. Mrs. Krafft left for home Sunday; the Andersons plan to extend their visit.

Michael and Sandra Kauffman and daughter, Heather, 1224 N. Chicago, retuned home Sunday after spending a week visiting Sandy's family, the Edwin Logans, in Ipswich, Mass. While in Massachusetts the Kauffmans enjoyed antiquing, sightseeing, and ocean fishing.

VISITING THE Waymon Wittmans, 1433 N. Wilke, last week were Waymon's parents, the John Wittmans of Stuttgart, Ark. The visitors returned home last Friday.

The Jack Hannises, 1206 N. Race, welcomed home Catherine's son, Gene Hudson, who was discharged from the army Thursday. On Sunday some of his friends attended a welcome-home party at the Hannises. In the fall, Gene plans to attend Northern Illinois University.

Carrie Linnea Kurtz arrived home Sunday to join her parents and sister, Cathy, at 1325 N. Race. Born prematurely on July 24 in Swedish Covenant Hospital in Chicago, Carrie was not able tocome home with her mother.

Last week was vacation week for Bill and Elaine Petrucci and daughter, Roxanne, 1115 N. Wilke. On Aug. 6, 7, and 8, the family camped at Rock Cut State Park, east of Rockford. They enjoyed swimming and fishing while camping out. The rest of the week the Petruccis enjoyed one-day trips from their home.

TURNING 5 on Aug. 2 was Jimmy Murphy, son of the Jim Murphys, 1326 N. Chicago. Jimmy celebrated with a party last former Terrace friends, Darin Elder and Richie Eisenhuth, and neighbors, Timmy Von Ebers and Scott and Jeff Allen. Sisters, Gail and Chrissie, also enjoyed the birthday luncheon.

Tom Sikorske, son of the Jim Sikorskes, 1231 N. Race, celebrated his ninth birthday in an unusual way, while vacationing on a houseboat in the Gulf of Mexico off Sarasota, Fla. His birthday occurred Aug. 4, during the Sikorskes' two-week vacation, only part of which was spent on the houseboat. Swimming, fishing, and boating were among the activities enjoyed by the vacationers. The family returned home last Friday.

Aug. 15 was the ninth birthday of Robert Kruse, son of the Dale Kruses, 1518 Clarendon. He had requested a fishing trip, so Sunday Dale took Robert and his friend, Bob Ninneman, fishing. Monday night a family party was given in Robert's honor. Present were his grandparents, the Franklin Ullreys of Des Plaines; his aunt, uncle, and two cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steiner, Linda and Jane, also of Des Plaines; and an aunt and uncle, the Richard Renches of Arlington Heights.

Joe and Edith Singer and children, Marty, Lisa, and Heidi, 1402 N. Illinois, attended a picnic at the Fox River Marina in Fox River Grove last Sunday. Sponsors of the company picnic were Joe's employers, the Rauland Company.

TWO WEEKS IN northern Wisconsin were recently enjoyed by Howard and Ann Redding and children, Howard, Laura, Jill, and Sarah, 1345 N. Wilke. The Reddings stayed in a cabin in a resort area near Park Falls. Attending an Indian powwow, swimming and fishing were trip highlights.

The Bill Platte family, 1318 N. Race, returned Monday after vacationing in Michigan. Kay and sons, Paul and Jimmy, spent ten days with her parents, the Martin Nuermingers of Saginaw. Bill spent weekends with his family. Kay and the children also visited her sister and family, the Earl Dunkers of Freeland. Sunday the Plattes atended the 21st annual reunion of Kay's mother's side of the family. Kay reported that a small group attended this year — only 65. Usually over 100 are in attendance.

Robert and Sandra Nelson and children, Robyn, Robert, and Reed, 1710 Oakton, spent last weekend in Grosse Point, Mich., visiting Sandy's brother and family, the La Verne Johnsons.

Spending last week with the Bill Owens, 1452 N. Yale, were Marilyn's brother and family, the Ted Johnsons of Grand Rapids, Mich. The Johnsons were former Palatine residents.

SHERI RUDOLPH, daughter of the James Rudolphs, 1413 N. Chicago, was treated to a three-day trip to Wisconsin Dells last week by her grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Todd of Chicago. The travelers left by train on Monday, Aug. 8; it was Sheri's first train ride. Sheri and her grandmother stayed at a hotel with a pool at the Dells and took in most of the exciting things there — boat trips, water show, Indian ceremonial, plus visits to Deer Park and Fort Dells. Sheri's grandmother made a scrap book of the trip for her, including autographed pictures of Indians, photos, etc.

Sunday guests at a family cook-out at the John Miller home at 1265 N. Race were John's sister, husband, and four children — the Robert Jones family of Wakefield, Mass. The Joneses had vacationed in Florida and came through Illinois to visit before heading homeward.

Celebrating his fifth birthday at a party on Aug. 9 was Mike Balmer, son of the James Balmers, 1216 N. Yale. Party-goers included Bobby and Kenny Peterson, Chris Avery, Shelly Lefort, Brian Kanyuh, Marty Gecan; two cousins from Des Plaines, Frankie and Bobby Roemisch; and Mike's brother, Greg. A family party was held the evening of Mike's birthday.

AUG. 9 WAS the third birthday of Bobby Skalicky, son of the Robert Skalickys, 1232 N. Illinois. Bobby celebrated with his parents, his sisters, Sherry and Julie, and his brother, Mark.

Aug. 14 was the date Gary Sheets, son of the Glenn Sheetses, 1421 N. Wilke, became a teen-ager. Gary celebrated his birthday with his parents and sisters and with his cousin, Charles Sheets of Gary, Ind., who visited his relatives in Arlington Heights last week. Charles celebrated his 12th birthday on Aug. 10, so a double birthday celebration was in order.

While Fred Maybee and son, Mike, went on a scouting trip to Michigan, Mary and children, Debbie, Kathy, and Timmy, visited Mary's parents, the R. F. Kreuschers, in Kenosha. The Maybees returned home Saturday after being gone a week; they live at 1251 N. Wilke.

Coming from Oshkosh, Wis., to visit their daughter and family, the Rich Koopmans, 1216 N. Chicago, last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mangold and their son, Doug. The Mangolds came to meet their new granddaughter, Amy Richelle, born Aug. 4.

ROGER AND JOAN Kelly, 1221 N. Chicago, spent their vacation this summer on a houseboat on the Mississippi River. The Kellys were gone the first week in August. They began their trip at Prairie du Chien, Wis., but because they beached the boat most of the time, they only got as far as Cassville. It was a relaxing vacation, with swimming, fishing, and water skiing being favorite activities. While her parents were on the boat, Erin Kelly visited her grandmother, Mrs. Ronald Steffa, in Rockford.

Aug. 15 was the 16th birthday of Sandra Bennett, daughter of the John Bennetts, 1429 N. Wilke. To celebrate, a dinner party was given Monday night in Sandra's honor. Atending were Rick Hueckstaedt of Mount Prospect, Sandra's brother, Robert, of Rolling Meadows, her parents and her sister, Debbie.

Hal and Phyllis Fluhrer and children, Linda, Janet, and "Skip," 1433 N. Race, spent last weekend vacationing at Paw Paw Lake in Michigan.

Mike Flesch, son of the Kenneth Flesches, 1417 N. Chicago, was 7 on Aug. 15. Mike celebrated Tuesday when his father took him, his brother, Tommy, and friends, Jeff Teschner and Steve Grabo, out to dinner and to play miniature golf. (A

FROM RIDGE PARK

The Mickey Danes family of 725 N. Harvard helped celebrate their grandson, Jeffrey Alan Frank's first birthday July 26. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Frank of Rolling Meadows.

A family reunion took place in Brighton, Mich., on a recreation farm during the first week of August. The Bob Steeles, 918 N. Patton, along with Charlotte's brother, Bob Henderson and his family, and her mother, Lillian Henderson, had engaged cottages for the week to be together and for summer activities.

Mrs. Don Walso and her children are home at 648 N. Salem, after a six-week stay at her mother's cottage in Wauconda. Julia's mother, Mrs. Nell Chauncey, underwent surgery and Julia stayed with her during her recuperation. Don joined them when he could.

A FAMILY celebration was held at 1012 N. Fernandez on Aug. 13, in honor of the Robert Buechner's son, Corky, who was 9. Guests for dinner included his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Hunt, and aunts and uncles. Mrs. Hunt is visiting the family for two weeks.

The Lowell Swensons, 963 N. Kennicott, are home from a 10-day trip to South Dakota and Minneapolis. In Huron and Miller, S. D., they visited friends and relatives and in Mankato, Minn., they got together with more friends, returning home August 6.

Former Arlington Heights residents, the Harvey Aumans were here recently from their home in Hong Kong and on Aug. 11 were the guests of honor at a party given by the Swensons. Guests attending included friends and former neighbors.

Joan Almdale was honored at a birthday celebration held Aug. 16 for her 14th, given by her parents, the John Almdales of 903 N. Illinois.

Their other daughter, Judy, will be in Los Angeles until she returns home Aug. 27. She is the guest of Chris Croak and her parents, former Ridge Park residents, for two weeks.

TWO WEEKS OF swimming, boating and fishing were enjoyed by the Vincent Cunninghams of 802 N. Harvard. They were in Lake Delton, Wis., until Aug. 13.

The George Wojtkiewiczs, 920 N. Ridge, and the James Hahns of Arlington Heights enjoyed an evening out Aug. 13 when they dined at Lander's Restaurant at Hyatt's Chalet.

Also in Wisconsin, but at a different location, were the Leonard Garashas of 809 N. Harvard. They were near Phelps, on Little Twin Lake, where they enjoyed fishing, swimming and the boys did some water skiing.

Family and godparents from Arlington Heights and Northlake arrived at 1216 W. Northwest Hwy. for dinner Aug. 12, to help the Carl Harts celebrate Wendy's third birthday.

The Arthur Hughes' daughters, Carolyn and Diane, left 647 N. Kaspar on Aug. 9 to visit Betty's sister, Mrs. Walter Papenfus in Milwaukee. On Aug. 13, they continued on to Eau Claire to visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Lawrence, returning home this Friday.

KATHY CRYER, 1007 N. Kennicott, returned Aug. 6 after three weeks in Fort Worth, Tex., where she was visiting the Ralph Hostlers, former Ridge Park residents. On the return trip she was accompanied by Linda Hostler who will be her guest until the start of the school year.

This past weekend the Cryers drove to St. Clair Shores, Mich., to visit Dorothy's father, E. R. Allen.

The doorbell at the Tilly home, 1015 N. Kennicott has been ringing a good deal lately. Shirley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schalk of Chicago, Tom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Waldorf Tilly of Niles, and the rest of their families have been dropping in to see the new baby, Jeffrey Thomas.

The Howard Boyles' are home at 801 .N. Princeton after two weeks of fishing and relaxing at a cottage on the bay at Fish Creek, Door County, Wis.

THE MONTH OF July was used by the Alfred Snaps, 1012 N. Kaspar, for a camping trip west. They went along Scott's Bluff Organ Trail to Pike's Peak, toured Mesa Verde National Park, where they saw the Indian cliff dwellings and went on to the Four Corners section, where Steve was in four states at one time. They arrived at Hopi land in Arizona, via the north rim of the Grand Canyon, where they were spectators at the tribal dances on Festival Day.

From there they visited the location of the new dam on the Colorado River in the Lake Powell area, and near Los Angeles they visited Knott's Berry Farm, Disneyland, and Farmer's Market. In Sequoia National Park they saw General Sherman's Sequoia Tree and from there they toured Yosemite National Park, Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco, returning home by way of Lake Tahoe, Reno, Virginia City, Yellowstone National Park, Grand Teton National Park, Mt. Rushmore and the Badlands.

Luncheon was enjoyed by the guests of David Landeweer who celebrated his eighth birthday on Aug. 15. Present were Kathy Benson, Sheila McCarthy, Sandra Vesecky, Corky Buechner, David Meister and the other Landeweer offspring. David's parents are the Donald Landeweers of 943 N. Fernandez.

The James Polites' daughter, Andrea, celebrated her 12th birthday Aug. 10 at 944 N. Salem. Guests for lunch were Janet Iverson and Joy Schaad, their mothers and Andrea's grandmother, Mrs. Economou. The following evening a party was attended by six cousins, two sets of aunts and uncles and her brother, James.

MADGE WAARA, 804 N. Ridge, and children took advantage of Bruno's attending a conference for high school principle in Boulder and spent the week taking in the sights in the Rocky Mountains, from Colorado they went through Salt Lake City on their way to Berkeley, Calif. From there they ley, Calif. From there they drove along the coast to Palo Alto, where besides visiting a college friend of Madge's they visited the Hoover Library. Driving along the Monterrey Peninsula, they arrived in Los Angeles where they saw Farmer's Market, toured Universal City, spent a day at Disneyland, went to Knott's Berry Farm and the children also attended a television show.

After leaving the Los Angeles area, they went to Las Vegas, toured the Hoover Dam, saw Lake Tahoe, visited the Grand Canyon, Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest. In Oklahoma City they enjoyed seeing the Cowboy Museum and in Independence, Mo., the Truman Library was Madge's favorite. On the road for a month, they are now home relaxing.

The Roy Splitts of 906 N. Harvard have been helping their daughter, Deb, entertain Shari Gwin. The girls have kept busy seeing all there is to see here and in Chicago. Yesterday Deb returned with Shari to Buchanan, Mich., where she will spend a week as her guest on the ranch. (A

Five Arlington Citizen Marines Train at Truax

Five Marine Corps reservists from Arlington Heights last week completed two weeks of intensive training in the tactical mission of a Marine helicopter squadron at Truax Field near Madison, Wis.

The citizen Marines are Capt. Robert M. Ballinger, 730 S. Highland Ave.; Cpl. James R. Ehnborn, 2 S. Phelps St.; Pfc. John J. Galivan, 1905 E. Kensington Road; Pfc. David B. Price, 1833 Jonquil Terrace; and Pfc. Robert D. Robinson, 300 N. Carlyle Plaec .

The reservists are members of Marine Medium Transport Helicopter Squadron (HMM) 776 which is permanently based at Glenview Naval Air Station. Training began July 31 and ended Aug. 13. (A

Modern Etiquette

Do not say, "He has started in to work on us to permit him to go." Say, "He has BEGUN to TRY to PERSUADE us to permit him to go."

Do not say, "Mix together one cup of milk and two eggs." Omit "together," which is redundant.

Distinguish between FESTAL (relating to a festival or holiday) and FESTIVE (joyous; mirthful). Thus: "We saw the festal procession enter the church," and, "The small square was crowded with a noisy, festive throng."

Do not say, "She showed me an example where much money was wasted." Say, "She showed me an example IN WHICH much money was wasted."

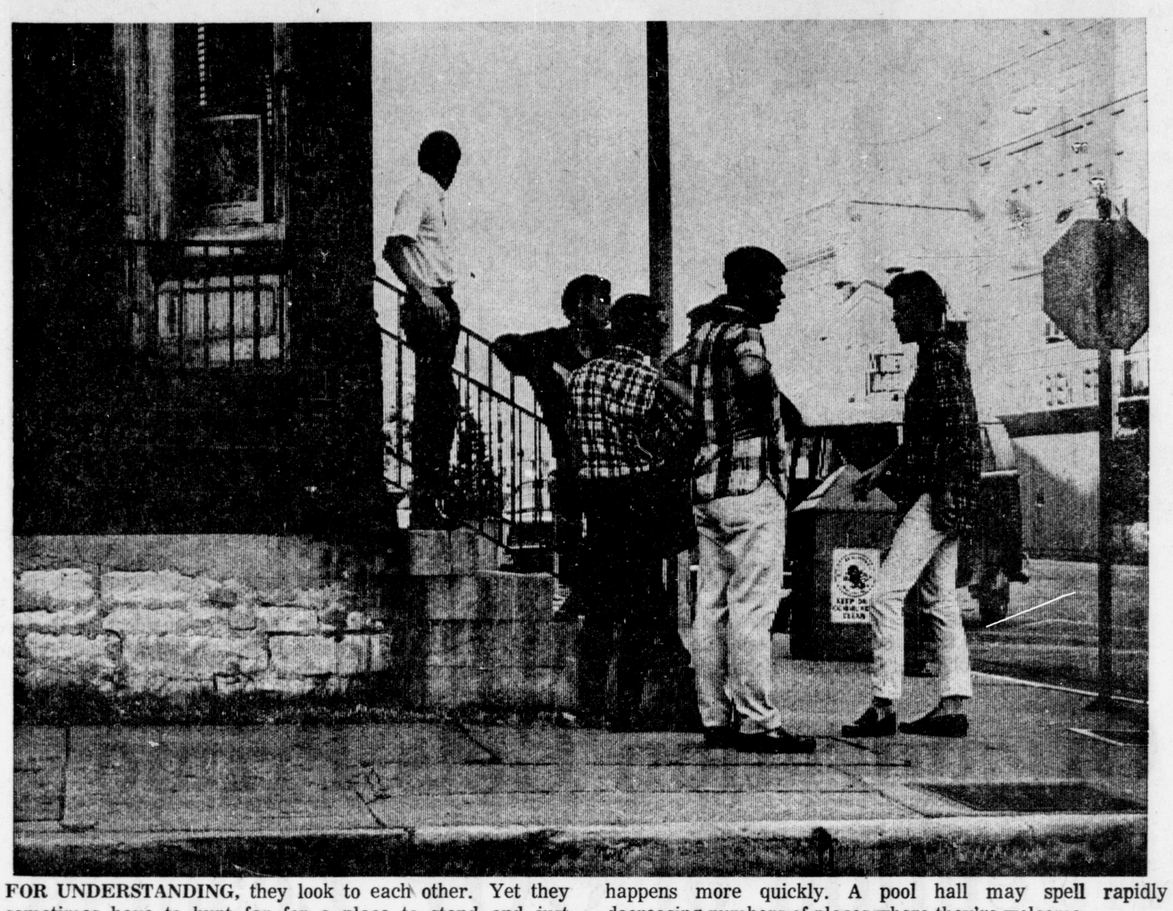
Youth—This Is Their Common Property

BOYS' AND girls' separate worlds merge quickly when they become teen-agers. Collegiates, greasers, and rahs find their "kicks" at different places but they share general hostility toward the adult world. But the adult world treats the collegiate and rah a little more kindly than it does the greaser.



FOR UNDERSTANDING, they look to each other. Yet they sometimes have to hunt far for a place to stand and just "shoot the bull." Collegiates and greasers both get the "move on" treatment from police but greasers believe it happens more quickly. A pool hall may spell rapidly decreasing numbers of places where they're welcome.

Their Tastes Differ Sharply

by JOAN LORENSON
Staff Writer
First in a Three-Part Series

The hot-cool electric guitar throbs its beat to all of them—the collegiates, the rahs, the greasers.

But collegiates, rahs, and greasers rarely mix. They separate as naturally as cream from milk, though youth is their common property.

The collegiates "dress like finks," a greaser said bluntly. Collegiates and rahs are "baby-faces."

Greasers act like "they have their own country," a collegiate said. They're on the defensive "like they want to . . . the whole world," a girl said as she blew a spiral of cigarette smoke.

And the rahs are snobs, another sneered.

ADULTS DEALING with these teenagers don't like to talk in terms of the distinctions of collegiates, rahs, greasers. Some adults will refuse to "dignify" the categories by recognizing their existence.

But the kids mention the "tension" between them, the uneasy tolerance. "Mostly it's name calling," one boy explained. And invariably, most kids will reassure that "don't get it wrong, it's not like the race thing."

A Chicago adult found that "teens are sometimes less concerned about races than about the differences between collegiates and greasers." He had been observing a teenage hangout.

"It's the parents who overemphasize the difference," one high school administrator claimed unhappily. "They see these surface things."

Youth "the time of contradictions and anomalies," Randolph Bourne was writing in pre-World War I. "The fiercest radicalisms, the most dogged conservatisms, irrepressible gayety, bitter melancholy—all these moods are equally part of that showery springtime of life," he wrote in "Youth and Life."

THE COLLEGIATES pick up mod fashions. They want to dress hip. The girls' hair is long, straight. The boys prefer swinging hair, too, often modified Beatle cuts.

It is this group that is quickest to take to the outrageously bright, patterned bell bottoms, the Errol Flynn styled shirts, the tight levis. Some make the surfer look their look and never wear socks with sneakers.

The greasers reject these styles with sarcastic comments like "guys should look like guys and girls like girls." Black or dark colors are their preference. The boys will wear tight pants but they'll be iridescent sharkskin; their shoes will have stacked heels.

Greasers get their name from their preference for wavy hair slicked with hair tonic.

The girls' skirts are short, tight and their sweaters often are tight. Greaser girls know the art of using cosmetics early and emphasize heavy eye make-up. Their hair is teased in extreme styles.

The rahs are "neater about the whole thing." They're apt to use color coordinates and more conservative styles. The boys like an "ivy" look and wear loafers casually, wing tips for dress.

THESE TEEN-AGERS recognize their dress often stereotypes them and conditions adults' viewpoints. One teenager observed that "greasers have gotten a bad reputation just by looks, before they even do anything." A boy admitted that the collegiate and rah male automatically assume the greaser girl is a "pick-up." Yet most boys, when pressed, agree the greaser girl may be sexier in looks but her morals are not lesser than those of her collegiate counterpart.

Neither collegiates nor greasers can hang around the corner without a patrolman urging them to move. But the greaser usually feels the police will shake him off more quickly than the collegiate.

Collegiates and greasers both give trouble—but a different kind, Sgt. Bill Golden of the Rolling Meadows police department said. Policemen generally agree that the collegiate will have the complete support and trust of his parents; the greaser counts on less parental backing.

As the kids tell it, rahs rarely get caught. When greasers are caught it is almost a sure guarantee they'll also get their names in the newspaper for their escapade. Collegiates, less likely to be caught, also are less likely to get their names in the newspaper.

GOLDEN SAID some greasers do get involved in more illegal activity. Their behavior is more anti-social and they "wise off" readily. Many have, and they pride themselves on having a police record, Golden said. They will grow out of anti-social behavior after a stint in military service or when they marry and hold a job, he added.

Collegiates will be more underhanded with their illegal activities and when caught, more difficult to reckon with, this pleasant officer said.

The police react the same way as other adults, Golden said, and believe the greaser is one to watch. So greasers get stopped more often by police. "As a juvenile officer, I'll stop either one if their behavior appears suspicious."

Golden admits to making one judgment based on appearance. The length of a boy's hair will be proportional to the amount of control exercised in his home, Golden contends. To a less reliable degree, the shortness of a girl's skirt will correlate with the control in her home.

ANY POLICEMAN finds it difficult to convince parents the "charming" collegiate his child hangs around with is an "unfit companion" who only gets him in trouble. "The most charming collegiates often are the least trustworthy," Golden claims. They have learned the public relations value of being charming and they use charm as a gimmick.

It's the "chamelon" of these groups that worries Golden as a police officer. These are the "cripples" who adopt the dress of either group as protective coloring, stick together, and become completely dependent on their peer groups, he said.

One teen-age dance place displays a sign "no greasers allowed." This kind of discrimination distresses Paul Sampson, owner of the Cellar, a teen-age dance place in Arlington Heights. Sampson refuses to approach teen-agers differently on the basis of their group identification. "They're human," he stresses. In the subrban area, the predominate dress tends to be collegiate, he said.

"What if they (greasers) start a fight," collegiates have been known to ask Sampson. "Come to me," Sampson tells them, "but don't you start it." He will tolerate fighting from no one.

"If you respect teen-agers wholeheartedly and are interested in them, you gain their confidence," the youthful looking Sampson contends. When he says "knock it off," they will.

"THEY NEED love. . .we give them added extra time and attention when it's very important," Sampson declared. One longtime Cellar-goer suggested the Cellar was one place where collegiates, rahs, and greasers mixed more amiably. This is one of the few places where, if a greaser bumped into you, he'd say excuse me, someone else added.

In school, teachers favor the rahs as well as a group of good students who don't fit any of the categories. These are the college bound, worrying about grades and college admission. They're quiet and observe the rules. If athletes, they follow the coach's regulations.

The class valedictorian probably will be a rah.

If a teacher likes a lively class, he'll prefer the collegiates, Terri Law, an Arlington High School graduate found. Collegiates still will work for grades. Teachers are "down on" greasers because they don't do homework and show little interest in school. Greasers are seldom found in the college preparatory courses, she said.

Another collegiate, Nancy Kreft, an Arlington High School graduate, found many greasers in her business classes. But home economics is a bigger grease course for the girls, shop for the fellows, she said.

Often the teachers' favorites bear the scorn by the collegiates and greasers who call them "dips." But this is the group adults like most, the kids agree. One policeman said "these are the kids it's good to do business with because you don't make an error by giving them a second chance; they've just made a mistake."

Pat Van Auckland, a graduate of Conant High School, labels the greasers as "troublemakers" in class. They get disciplined more often but they're harder to discipline, she said.

A GUIDANCE counselor at Lake Park High School advised an English teacher not to worry about the greaser. "By high school, no big gains can be expected and you shouldn't worry," she told the earnest teacher. "They are not motivated and little can be done."

Greasers themselves allude to their troubles in school and education does not rate high with them. Most courses seem irrelevant to them.

R. A. Hoese, assistant principal at Forest View High School, calmly said he was not upset by categories the teen-agers place themselves in. The philosophy of the high school faculty has been to ignore the differences.

The school has no more problems with greasers than collegiates, Hoese said. He added that the kinds of problems they had might be different.

As the school's disciplinarian, Hoese finds all students generally "lack respect for adults and authority." Students that are problems at home usually will be problems at schools.

GREASERS MAY be more non-conforming and rebellious than the college bound student, Hoese acknowledged. Yet he noted what becomes a common adult comment, greasers sometimes are easier to talk to when they get in trouble.

"The college bound sometimes believe they're hot stuff," he explained.

Teen-age rebellion against authority is just "a fact of life" and little can be done to change that, a former FBI agent said. Psychologists have recognized that adolescense in conflict.

Seal Design Contest Set

A contest for the 1968 Christmas Seal design has been announced by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County.

The contest is open to all adult artists (18 and over) living or working in Chicago or suburban Cook County. Deadline for entries is noon on Tuesday, Sept. 6.

A $300 CASH prize will be awarded the first-place winner, with $100 going to second place. All designs accepted by the judges for exhibition will compete for a $1,000 award offered by the National Tuberculosis Association for the winning 1968 Christmas Seal.

ENTRIES SHOULD be submitted to the TB Institute, 1440 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago 60607, any time after Aug. 31. Rules for the contest can be obtained now by phoning the institute's public relations department at 243-2000. (A15

Two Appointed For Fund Drive

William Ellingson of 906 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, has been appointed a divisional chairman, and Robert Atherton of 378 Meadow Lane, Rolling Meadows, a regional chairman for the Chicagoland cystic fibrosis campaign Aug. 29 to Sept. 10, according to Marshall Field Jr. of Long Grove, general chairman.

Ellingson, an executive at Arthur Andersen & Co., is business services chairman for the drive, which seeks to raise $150,000 for treatment and research in the children's lung and digestive disease. Atherton, an executive of Demuth Steel Co., will organize and supervise community solicitation in this area. (B10

BORROWING TECHNIQUES learned in sales, Dwight Walton of 1612 N. Douglas Ave., Arlington Heights, is spending his evenings this month training precinct captains for the Wheeling Township Republican organization. Organization Gets Prime Attention of GOP Leaders

By Mary Schlott
Staff Writer

Wheeling Township Republicans are oiling up the party machinery for action.

Stressing organization, not oratory, they're currently engaged in a round of precinct captains' training sessions which they hope to follow with similar meetings at the block worker level.

Dwight Walton of 1612 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights, is putting his computer sales techniques to work to help the Republican party get its gears well meshed. He and township committeeman Eugene Schlickman have been making the rounds of precinct captains meetings with an easel and large poster-size tablet of the sort sales meetings utilize.

A TYPICAL SESSION was held for eight precincts recently in the home of deputy committeeman Charles Mihalek of 409 Meadowbrook, Wheeling.

When Schlickman can attend, he usually leads things off—as he did at Mihalek's—with a discussion of immediate party goals. These are:

—Fund raising, with emphasis on the unified GOP money raiser, a $10-a-ticket dinner dance Oct. 8 at Chevy Chase Country Club. Merchants are being contacted to purchase ads in a program book tied in to the event.

—A "new look" approach which stresses making a place for newcomers, too. "GOP Greeters" in each precinct will call on new residents to show them the neighborhood is friendly, answer the many questions newcomers have and—hopefully—to attract them to the party.

—Improving the organization, starting with the precinct captains' sessions.

WALTON'S STRESS at the precinct captains' sessions is on basic sales.

"In the Republican party and its principles we really have a product," he told workers at Mihalek's home.

"The operation of a precinct is a business itself," he says. "We sell more Republicans with a broad base, with more workers." This stress has been followed up for the precinct captains with a request that each line up 20 block workers before the month is out.

None of the precinct captains' workshops involve just a lecture. There has been ample opportunity at all of them for the GOP workers, veterans and newly-chosen ones alike, to chew the fat about political techniques and problems.

In making his rounds, Walton is collecting ideas on ways that the township Republican leadership can help the worker on the street.

Aids—like guides to government—may be provided if party workers think the need is there.

A GOOD CITY boss keeps votes rolling in because his organization helps the little man—with jobs, food, an "in" with City Hall for the man's complaints. This service approach is being stressed in the Wheeling Republican organization too.

At the meeting at Mihalek's, the deputy committeeman and other precinct workers cited two ways they felt they had been of service to their area recently:

Mihalek said he had been instrumental in getting Cook County Commissioner Floyd Fulle interested in the Husky Park flood situation.

And the group was told that a GOP precinct captain's passing on of complaints by Wheeling post office employes was a factor in bringing U.S. Senator Douglas' recent announcement that a new post office was being planned for Wheeling.

Practical advice is being passed on to the precinct leaders too.

Schlickman told Mihalek's precinct leaders, "Your election judges are officers of the county clerk on election day but they do represent the party. You can't call upon them to do anything on Election Day but before there's nothing wrong with it. I would look upon the three judges as being three block workers."

He added, "Every precinct captain should look on his election judges as three patronage jobs he has."

"And that's three more than the committeeman has," he told them ruefully. (ACM

Convention Is Hosted By Realtor

An Arlington Heights Realtor was host to the Gallery of Homes national convention this week at the Sheraton-O'Hare Motel.

Jim Warriner, 102 S. Fernandez Ave., explained that the Gallery of Homes is a nationwide group of Realtors who maintain similar high standards and work as referral agents for one another.

The convention, Warriner said, gave the 70-some Gallery of Homes members a chance to get better acquainted and discuss their mutual problems.

Warriner's office is located at 314 S. Arlington Heights Road.

FOR BETTER OR WORSE
by ED LANDWEHR

One of those beautiful contestants in a recent beauty contest remarked that the man she marries must have an outstanding personality, be musical, know how to tell a story, sing and dance, be satisfied to stay at home, neither drink nor smoke and be attentive to her wishes.

My better half doesn't think she wants a husband — she wants a television set. And I sneak the idea in here that LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, will keep the set faithful to the end for her if she will just dial Clearbrook 5-0700 whenever it needs service.

Approve Bus Purchase Agreement, 5-2 Vote

Arguments Monday by William Griffith and Richard Bachhuber failed to halt High School District 214 board's approval of a bus purchasing agreement with Davidsmeyer Bus Service.

The board voted 5-2 to okay an arrangement for District 214 to purchase busses for Davidsmeyer's use in hauling Elk Grove High School students. Payments for vehicles will be deducted from the bus company's pay.

Griffith had held up approval for a week by raising questions about another bus-purchase case posed to State Supt. of Public Instruction legal aide N. E. Hutson in a letter from John Benish, vice president of Cook Illinois School Bus Company whose subsidiary lost the contract won by Davidsmeyer. Hutson had said the arrangement described by Benish was illegal.

Monday the board was assured by Supt. Edward H. Gilbert that the bus purchasing agreement with Davidsmeyer was legal. An opinion from District 214 attorney Allyn Franke was cited in support.

GRIFFITH ALSO charged that purchasing the busses for Davidsmeyer was "putting the school back in the bus business."

"If we're going back into the bus business then we owe it to the taxpayers to get competitive bids," Griffith asserted.

Gilbert answered, "If the district is to enter into an arrangement we would want to bid a bus that they (Davidsmeyer) would want to use. I don't think we would force the bus company to take a bus that does not fit into their program."

When Davidsmeyer came to the school district originally with the request regarding bus purchases, the board was told it would be "lending its name" to the bus titles so that more advantageous financing terms could be secured.

Later the proposal was described as one in which the school system would indirectly "lend its money" to the financing arrangement—by guaranteeing payment of the bus purchase costs.

FRANKE'S AUG. 11 letter to the board started out, "If the board decides to purchase the buses and have Davidsmeyer operate them in transporting the students . .". It was this phrase that led Griffith to charge that the school system was "back in the bus business."

Griffith also raised questions about the school's liability being increased, citing a case in southern Illinois where school-owned buses were used for a charter haul. After an accident took place, the school had all state aid withheld.

The board member was told by the superintendent that Davidsmeyer had agreed that the school-purchased buses would only be used for hauling pupils.

Gilbert said that the school would become a "party of the first part" rather than a "party of the third part" in the insurance on those buses and would have to increase the coverage, but added that the additional costs would be paid by Davidsmeyer. (ACME

Museum Fund Drive

At a quiet time in the drive for funds to finance a museum for Arlington Heights, the Wheeling Township Republican Women's Club raised both cash and enthusiasm for the museum.

The women, working to raise a sum of $100, held a bake sale Saturday on the mall at Randhurst shopping center in Mount Prospect. Mrs. Daisy Daniels, curator of the Historical Society Arlington Heights, put up a display of old fashioned cooking utensils and kitchen items to help explain the purpose of the bake sale to onlookers.

"I thought I'd have time to read a book," said Mrs. Daniels, "but I was busy answering questions about the museum the whole time."

THE SALE netted $65 for the museum. Space for the event was donated by Randhurst.

Other facets of the campaign are being carried on less dramatically as 48 workers solicit contributions from individuals in the community and Joe Schneller, of Schneller Furniture, organizes his campaign to contact the local businessmen.

Speaking of the $40,000 goal of the Friends of a Museum for Arlington Heights, a fund raising group organized to help in the drive, John Gillen, who is in charge of the person-to-person contact portion of the campaign, said, "I'm confident we'll make it." (A

The appointment of Mrs. George Ireland, 1511 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, as voter service chairman for the League of Women Voters (LWV) was announced today by Mrs. Frank Moore, LWV president.

One of Mrs. Ireland's first duties will be to assist with the public forum which the League will sponsor Sept. 8 in advance of the Mount Prospect referendum on adoption of a city form of government.

She is also making arrangements for a League "Don't Forget to Register" campaign in early September.

Mrs. Ireland helped with the LWV-sponsored candidates meetings before the 1965 village election and currently is a member of the committee studying U.S. relations with Red China.

A resident of Arlington Heights since 1959, she has also been active in Great Books discussion groups. (A

Medical Centers Are Burglarized

Four medical centers in Arlington Heights an Mount Prospect were burglarized over the weekend, police from the two villages reported this week.

The offices of Dr. Otto Bouc and Dr. Stuart R. Kortebein were ransacked in a break-in of the medical center at 1060 W. Northwest Hwy., Mount Prospect.

Police reported drawers were emptied and files strewn about. Attempts to force open desk drawers failed. No loss was reported, police said. Entry was gained by breaking a window.

BURGLARS obtained $132 in currency and $288 in checks from the offices of Dr. Morris F. Virnig, 201 N. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights. Several other offices in the building were ransacked but no additional losses reported, police said.

Other break-ins were reported at the Northside Medical Center, 1400 N. Arlington Heights Road, and the offices of Dr. Harrie L. Hall, 44 S. Dunton. Police said the main office of the Northwest Medical Center was entered, but the thieves failed to gain entry to individual offices, apparently being scared away. Nothing seemed to be missing, according to the report.

Entry was gained by breaking glass in either a door or window, police said. (A(M

Plan Many Events At Legion Picnic

The annual picnic of Palatine American Legion Post 690 will be held next Sunday. Aug. 28, at Druce Lake, with grounds open at 9 a.m. It is open to all members of the Post and unit, their friends and families.

Recreational facilities for all ages will be available. In addition to swimming and boating, games and races have been planned. Prizes will be awarded winners of each event, and a small gift will be given each child. An all-day horseshoe contest will be featured for the men, and free beer, hot dogs, soda pop and ice cream will be provided.

Druce Lake may be reached by taking Hicks Road (Route 53) to Route 83, then proceeding north to Route 45. The grounds are on Route 45, approximately three miles past the junction with 120.

THERE WILL be a charge of $2 per car, no limit on passengers. Members are asked to call the Post at 359-1606 after 4 p.m. with the number of children who will attend, their sex and ages.

Chairman for the picnic is Dan Novak, ways and means chairman of Post 690, assisted by James Arden, Joe Wundsam, Paul Erickson and other volunteers.

The next regular meeting of Post 690 will be Monday, Sept. 12, a week later than usual.

Officers and members will enter into the new season with plans to increase membership of the Post to an all time high, according to commander Paul Magnuson. The membership committee, headed by senior vice commander Paul Erickson, will encourage present members to renew as soon as possible, and then will conduct a drive for new members in October. (P

Will Attend School for Teachers

Mrs. Marilyn M. Siegert, 258 N. Lytle, Palatine, will attend a Princeton school course for piano teachers Aug. 15 to 19 at DePaul University.

The course, to be taught by Dr. Frances Clark and her staff, will include observation of teaching methods with actual beginning students, methods of retraining transfer students, presentation of lesson plans and assignments, new approaches to teaching keyboard theory, and demonstration of new piano music. 'Coast to Coast' Ends Park Program

The final week of Palatine Park District's supervised playgrounds was devoted to preparing for the 1966 Playground Pageant, held last night at Community Park. Each park presented acts concerning some area of the United States, in keeping with the pageant theme, "Coast to Coast."

The Jane Addams theme was Washington, D. C. Youngsters made a papier-mache elephant and donkey and gave campaign speeches. The boys and girls from Winston Park, having chosen Alaska as their subject, sang Eskimo songs and built igloos.

San Francisco was chosen by Pleasant Hill children, who built a trolley car; Yosemite National Park was honored at Paddock, where the youngsters constructed a geyser they named "Old Facefull;" and the entire Midwest was the setting for Sanborn's display of farm items augmented by a mural of a farm scene.

OTHER EVENTS at the playgrounds during this last week of activities were a bike rodeo and obstacle course contest at Jane Addams, and a scavenger and peanut hunt at Paddock.

On the sports front, Jane Addams announced members of its rope climb team were Matt and Brian Fitzgerald, Jeff Mitchell and Bob Zarzynski; the Winston track team practiced all week to defend their 1964 and 1965 championships; and a special "toober" race was won by Tim Callahan of Winston, followed by Ernie Ippalito of Paddock, Mary Pat Piotrowski of Sanborn and Tom Luhr of Pleasant Hill. Holy Ghost Council Wins Award

Holy Ghost Council, Knights of Columbus, in Palatine was advised recently by Supreme Council Headquarters in New Haven, Conn., that they have been awarded "Star Council Ranking" and that a star council certificate has been forwarded to it.

Holy Ghost Council was one of 14 out of more than 200 Illinois councils awarded this ranking for 1965-66.

A star council ranking is given to those councils who have organized for the six point program, met the requirements of the membership-insurance division, and exceeded the minimum requirements of programming in the fields of public relations, Catholic, fraternal and youth activities. (P

Farm School Holds Sale Saturday

The board of directors and parents of Countryside Farm School for Retarded Children near Palatine are holding a "White Elephant Sale" on the grounds of Countryside Center Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Among the items to be sold are wooden student desks and chairs, assorted tables, mimeograph machine, and miscellaneous items no longer needed by the school or parents. Clothing will not be sold.

Proceeds of the sale will be used for the center's current operating expenses.

The grounds can be reached by going one mile northwest of Routes 12 and 53, north on Plum Grove to Shirley Road, then west on Shirley to the center. (P

Peace Corpsman Instructor Now

Myles R. Dannhausen, 343 N. Elmwood Lane, Palatine, who returned this summer after serving for two years as a peace corpsman in Freetown, Sierra Leone, is a resource instructor in the 11-week Sierra Leone Peace Corps training program at Roosevelt University which ends Aug. 25.

MORE THAN 80 men and women enrolled in the program will leave Sept. 5 for two years of teaching in primary and secondary schools in the African country.

Dannhausen received his B.S. degree from Loyola University. He will begin studies leading toward a Master's in Public Administration at Indiana University this fall. (P

Pack 48 Schedules Baseball Tonight

All cub scouts of Pack 48, sponsored by Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Palatine, are requested to be at the church tonight at 6:30 promptly for a cub baseball game, during which every boy present will have a chance to play and learn the fundamentsl of baseball.

The ball game is a follow-up to the summer activities program of Pack 48, which included a family picnic at Deer Grove last Thursday evening.

About 70 people attended the event, which began with a "silver-block" hunt for the boys of the pack. After the wiener roast and picnic, the evening centered around two bonfires where new cubs received instruction on some of the by-laws, rules and regulations of scouting.

CUBMASTER Augie Penkava entertained the group with several bugle calls, and the evening wound up with a community sing.

Another summer activity for Pack 48 was last month's trip to the Air Show at Glenview Naval Air Station.

Cubmaster Penkava, Ray Hammerl, committee chairman, and Len Diebold, secretary-treasurer, announce they have planned a full program of activities for the new scouting year. (P

Harper College

Begin Building Plans, State Grant Expected

by MARTHA MOSER
Staff Writer

A state promise to fund William Rainey Harper Junior College $3.4 million will enable the college to go ahead with construction plans.

The Illinois Junior College Board tentatively allocated $20.5 million in building funds among six colleges Friday. Official funding will be Sept. 1 after the colleges submit specific construction plans.

Harper College Pres. Robert Lahti said he is waiting for the forms for re-application. He said he will submit plans for the college center and a start on the central utility plant.

The college architects are coming the first week in September to begin construction drawings on these two buildings, Lahti said.

"WE MIGHT do more construction drawings than the center in hopes we get federal funds," Lahti said.

He said they would "play by ear" state emergency appropriations.

"If we think there is a strong chance of deficiency appropriations coming in January, the board may authorize more construction drawings than the center."

As funds come in, the college will next build a science facilities complex, the learning resources center and fine arts buildings.

The state junior college board has divided six colleges' Phase I construction plans into two parts. Phase I-A is to begin with the funds appropriated Friday. Phase I-B may be completed by an extra appropriation the state board will seek from the legislature.

At the July meeting, the st board agreed to seek $4[illegible]illion in funds which would be committed to the six colleges eligible for more funds than the legislature had appropriated for building.

Friday the board changed the emergency amount to only what will be needed. The colleges must submit another application for phase I-B plans, stating what is needed to complete the first phase.

HARPER COLLEGE has submitted a Phase I request for $13 million. The local district would have added its quarter share of $5 million to construct a total $18 million campus.

The $20.5 million was funded Friday as follows:

William Rainey Harper District 512, $3,426,549; Triton Junior College District 504, $3,756,004; Black Hawk College District 503, $3,667,478; Sauk Valley College District 506, $3,283,350; Rock Valley College District 511, $3,691,541; and Chicago City College District 508, $2,675,078.

The colleges' applications originally totaled $44,620,716.

World Problems-Er-'Solved' in Barbershops

Women Less Catty In Battle of Sexes

by KATHY GOSNELL
Staff Writer

The world's problems are solved in barber shops and beauty salons.

Most people, both men and women, like to talk while their hair is being cut or "done," or dyed. The atmosphere is relaxed and patrons are almost always isolated from members of the opposite sex.

Mrs. Jane MacIntosh, who has operated Jane's Beauty Salon in Palatine for 19 years, said women cover a variety of topics in the course of an appointment in her shop.

'We're a pretty well-rounded group," she said, "we have a lot to discuss."

The discussion usually centers around the family, home, shopping bargains, good restaurants.

SOME OF Mrs. MacIntosh's customers have been coming to her regularly for 19 years. With these women the discussion may be more personal, she said.

Customers new to Palatine may get insight into location of churches, stores and other points of interest in the village through one visit to Jane's.

Asked if it were difficult to talk to a total stranger for several hours, Mrs. MacIntosh said she has no problem.

"I've never met a stranger," she said. "After five minutes I know a person."

THREE OTHER women work in her shop They are told they must talk to their customers unless the customer herself does not want to talk. They are forbidden to talk to each other while they work.

This is a courtesy to patrons, explains Mrs. Doris Sandor, manager of the John and Louis Beauty School in Arlington Heights.

The students training there to become beauticians are told never to talk to customers about their own personal problems and never to pry into the customer's life.

They are told in lectures to let the customer set the pace. They are told how to assess a customer's mood when she walks in the door.

different too. While women discuss stores and restaurants, men talk about Mount Prospect's water problems, and, too a lesser extent, proposed government changes in the village.

Business transactions have been known to occur in barber shops, DelGiudice said.

"It's a place where men can relax," he said.

AND IT'S A place to be depended on.

The Beauty Bar in Arlington Heights is like a club of friends, said one woman. "I know who's going to be there every Thursday."

Another woman knows she can expect little chatter from her beautician.

"SHE KNOWS ME and knows I don't like to talk," she said.

And barber shops are just as predictable. "If I go to the barber shop today," said a suburban resident, "the Cubs game will be on the radio and everyone will talk about that." (A15

A beautician with a pleasant personality, said Mrs. Sandor, is likely to be more successful than a high fashion hair stylist.

WOMEN DISCUSS world-wide problems too. Viet Nam is a popular topic, because many women have personal ties through husbands, brothers, and boyfriends in the service.

When men talk about Viet Nam, they treat it as "a matter of policy," said Jerry DelGiudice.

DelGiudice, who is a barber at Moler's Barber Shop in Mount Prospect, said men like to talk too — "about more sensible things than women."

The "more sensible things" include the season's sports, politics (also seasonal), business, the news in the headlines and, naturally, women.

What about women? "The idiotic things you do," he said. "You can't even fry Jello."

When a man talks it's "not like a woman," DelGiudice said.

HE IS ALSO a licensed beautician, he said, and he's worked in women's beauty salons.

"I'm glad I'm working in a barber shop," he said.

Harper College Adopts Bond Retirement Plan

The William Rainey Harper Junior College board has accepted bond payment schedules to retire a total $7,375,000 in bonds.

One schedule retires $3,375,000 in bonds sold on the market. The other schedule retires $4 million in bonds sold to the federal government.

The bond payment schedules were explained to the board Thursday by Tom Zay, associate for Municipal Research Associates, Kenilworth.

The board is selling all bonds on the advice the bond market is rising and the federal government offers substantial savings on interest. The bond sale was authorized by a June referendum.

THE TWO schedules assume a four and one-quarter per cent interest rate on $3,375,000 in bonds on the market and a three per interest rate on $4 million in bonds sold to the government under the 1963 Higher Education Facilities Act.

The college is applying for the government purchase to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The $4 million is a maximum government purchase. The college board plans to invest this money until needed, depending on act restrictions.

Zay said the four and one-quarter interest rate on the market is conservative and reflects the current market for municipal bonds and recent experience of taxing bodies in the district.

At this interest rate, the total interest cost would be $1,466,782 with an average bond life of 10 years. The average annual tax rate would be 1.95 cents, Zay said. The college would pay interest only on the outstanding debt.

THE FIRST TAX levy would be 2.98 cents to pay a $175,000 principal in 1967. The tax levy in 1967 would be 3.51 cents to pay off a $200,000 principal in 1968. From then on, the tax levy would drop though the principal payments would remain at $200,000 per year.

The board considered two other repayment schedules. The schedule accepted retires the debt in equal amounts each year over 18 years, two months.

This results in a savings of more than $200,000 in interest over the other schedules, Zay said.

The $4 million in bonds sold to the government would be retired over 19 years with an average annual tax rate of 1.93 cents.

Zay said the objectives for repayment were to spread it over a long period to take advantage of tax relief in rising assessed valuation and to maintain the bonds' marketability at reasonable interest rates and avoid incurring high interest cost.

THE COLLEGE district is expected to receive an "A" rating from New York bond rating agencies. An "A" rating is third from the top rating and is the same as other college districts in the area.

The college is requesting ratings from Moody's Investor's Service, Inc., and Standard and Poor's Corp., both of New York City. The rating is expected to be assigned by Sept. 15.

The higher the rating, the more attractive the bonds are, College Pres. Robert Lahti said.

The college's bond issue will be offered to 150 potential bidders, Zay said. (B10

Dorsey Orchestra Visits Randhurst

The big band sound — a la Jimmy Dorsey — came to Randhurst Friday evening.

A crowd estimated at 3,000 watched and listened — and several couples who found room danced — as the 15-man Dorsey orchestra played renditions of "Tangerine," and "Marie Elena," and "So Rare," a more recent number.

The ensemble included drums, four saxophones, three trombones and three trumpets.

Teen-agers were not present in great numbers, possibly due to the Beatles' concert in Chicago and the Cellar being open.

Promotion manager Richard McCarthy decided, after couples began to dance, that the Randhurst merchant's association would offer a $50 merchandise certificate as a prize to the couple doing the best jitterbug. Winners were Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Snell, 602 Elderberry, Mount Prospect. (Rh

Membership Bid Slated By Scouts

The Boy Scouts of America are staging their "fall roundup" to bring boys who have missed out on scouting into the local scout troops.

"The fall roundup is one of the most important parts of our national Breakthrough for Youth program which has presented the challenge to all Scout leaders to serve a far greater percentage of an escalating boy populations with a quality program," said John D. M. Shelley, council-wide roundup chairman.

"The left-out boys in every neighborhood should have a chance at Scouting, and our 350 Scout units are ready to welcome them to one of the great adventures of boyhood," Shelley said.

The Scouts are divided according to age groups. Cub Scouts are 8-10 years old; Boy Scouts must be at least 11; Explorers are boys who are at least 14 years old and in the ninth grade.

Information about Scout units is available from the Scout Service Center, 2500 Dempster St., Des Plaines, 299-5505.

Driver License Actions

The latest report from the office of Secy. of State Paul Powell lists one man from Hoffman Estates and two from Streamwood who have had their driver's licenses revoked as the result of convictions for driving while intoxicated.

Named were Edward A. Harsla, 276 Washington, Hoffman Estates; Chris N. Palgen, 21 Edgewood, and Julius M. Pieper, 127 S. Maxon, both of Streamwood.

Twenty other area residents had licenses suspended for three violations. The list includes Daniel G. Baughman, 517 Banbury Road; Richard L. Ceaser, U.S.A.S.M.M.S.D.; Michael G. Horcher, 829 N. Vail, and Louise R. Kitto, 2 E. Suffield Drive, all of Arlington Heights.

FROM ELK Grove Village: Carl J. Aiello, 224 Edgeware Road; Cynthia M. DiSilvio, 626 Crest Ave.; and Stephen T. Fisher, 941 W. Higgins Road.

From Palatine: Michael P. Armato, 1854 W. Atkinson; Charles M. Margraf, 702 N. Ela Road; and Ben M. Snodgrass, 411 N. Hicks.

Prospect Heights residents Helmut Domke, 111 N. Pine, and Bruce F. Gilbert, 604 Elmhurst Road, were also named, as were Ronald N. Katt, 802 Forest Drive, Streamwood; James T. Mitchell, 172 Arlington St., Allan G. Eisenbise, 609 Springinsguth, and Pauline A. O'Dea, 349 Princeton, Roselle; Georgia M. Pirron, 4301 Wilke Road, Rolling Meadows; Elmer V. Vice Versa, Too

Some people seem to go to seed mentally before they have reached physical maturity.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS BY LINDA NORRIS

The British Chad and Jeremy who now reside in Hollywood, follow up their best-selling album of a few months ago, The Best of Chad and Jeremy with another LP that contains some of their top-selling favorites . . . It's entitled More Chad and Jeremy . . . In this collection, the pair harmonize on Lemon Tree, No Tears for Johnny, Donna, Donna, Now and Forever, Dirty Old Town, My Coloring Book, Four Strong Winds, The Girl From Ipanema, It Was a Very Good Year and The Truth Often Hurts the Heart.

Three groups, all from the famed Cavern Club in Liverpool, pool their talents in Where It All Began, a new Capitol LP . . . They are Earl Preston's Realms, the Richmond Group and Michael Allen Group . . . It happens the Cavern Club is also the place where the Beatles first appeared and introduced the sound that was to dominate the American popular music scene . . . The live performances were recorded at the Cavern and emceed by Liverpool disk jockey Bob Wooler, the man who also introduced the Beatles to the Cavern audiences in 1961.

As for the groups: the Richmond group consists of guitarists Barry David, Barry Wheldon, bassist Howie Jones, drummer Pete Taylor and vocalists Dave Kerrigan and Eddie Dave . . . Earl Preston's group consists of guitarists Tony Priestly, Brian Norris; drummer Tom Kelly, sax Tom Husky and Preston. Vocalist Michael Allen is backed by several musicians from other Cavern groups . . . The songs on the LP include Blue Monday, Daddy Rolling Stone, I Can't Stand It and I'm All Right.

DiMatteo Named to Scouting Committee

Dominick DiMatteo, Jr., 1615 Appleby Road, Palatine, is on the committee planning the Boy Scout lunch-o-ree, Sept. 7, 12:15 p.m. at McCormick Place.

Chicago Bear quarterback Rudy Bukich will speak at the lunch, sponsored by the Chicago foods industry to raise funds for the Scouting program in Chicago.

DiMatteo is president of Dominick's Finer Foods.

A GOOD SCOUT award will also be given at the lunch.

Bukich, in his twelfth pro season, was the leading passer in the National Football League last year. He had the lowest percentage of pass interceptions and was second in average yards per attempt, third in completion percentage and fifth in total touchdowns.

In addition to his quarterback duties, Bukich is sports commentator of WBKB-TV. He lives in Glenview. (B10

Quotoons

There is not a more mean, stupid, dastardly, pitiful, selfish, spiteful, envious, ungrateful animal than the Public. It is the greatest of cowards, for it is afraid of itself.—William Hazlitt.

People keep saying it's not good to learn things by heart, but if you don't have things by heart, what are you going to have to think about when you lie awake and can't sleep at night? Pretty things that are well said—it's nice to have them in your head.

—Robert Frost

Helps Solve 3 Biggest FALSE TEETH Worries and Problems

A little FASTEETH sprinkled on your dentures does all this: (1) Helps hold false teeth more firmly in place; (2) Holds them more comfortably; (3) Lets you bite up to 35% harder without discomfort. FASTEETH Powder is alkaline (non-acid). Won't sour. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

No wonder they can't lift it — there's a copy of Paddock Publications on top!

Piano Roll Blues

It takes a big paper to present all of the news in the Paddock area, so it's no wonder the strong men from the moving company are stymied.

The want ads, alone, are so heavy, some people look at nothing else the first day. Then they turn to the Real Estate section, the food and women's section, and the sports.

But whichever way you look at the Paddock paper, front to back, or back to front, take care where you put it — you may want to move the furniture around, too.

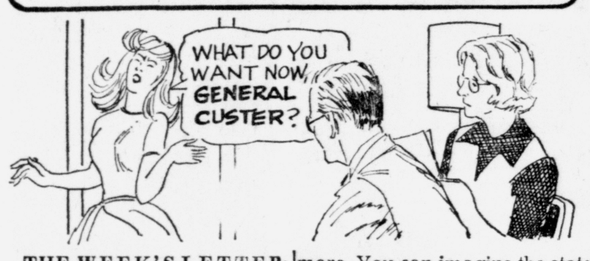
For And About Teenagers



THE WEEK'S LETTER: "My husband and I have been having trouble with our daughter since she was 4½ years old, when she contracted Bronchial-Asthma. At first, she wouldn't mind, or even listen. We thought it was due to her illness and did not react too strongly. As time went on, the situation became worse. She flatly refuses to do anything asked of her and responds with a "Do what you can" attitude. We have tried all sorts of threats and punishments, but to no avail. We are thinking of sending her to a foster home, if nothing else. The last straw came when she stormed into a room, after my calling her 4 or 5 times and asked, "What do you want now, General Custer?" This being a new term she picked up somewhere. Should we resort to violence, or let her get away with "murder" as she has been doing? I can't cope with her any more. You can imagine the state my husband and I are in. Her birthday is coming. She keeps prodding me as to what she will get for this day. I said she will receive just what she give us — nothing. We await your reply."

OUR REPLY: You can — and you must — cope with the situation. Apparently, because you considered her ill, you ignored characteristics in your daughter which are objectionable and obnoxious now. She is old enough to have respect for her parents and to obey their wishes. Insist on obedience and refuse to tolerate impudence. Meet her more than half-way (such as giving her something for her birthday even though she may not deserve it) and find the time and a way to build a better family relationship.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS. COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE. FRANKFORT, KY.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS AD

consider this:

You are about to invest money for an ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results:

1. DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS

Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. DON'T OMIT THE PHONE NUMBER

Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. DON'T USE BLIND BOX NUMBERS

Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED

Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. DON'T LEAVE HOME ON THE DAYS YOU ADVERTISE

Many good prospects will not call the second time if your phone is unanswered.

6. DON'T OMIT IMPORTANT WORDS TO SAVE MONEY

Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and amount to much less in the long run.

7. DON'T OVERLOOK OUR LOWER RATE FOR CONSECUTIV INSERTIONS

You'll get the biggest parade of readers at the lowest price. Your Needs Satisfied thru Paddock Publications Classified.

Arlington Greens

Men's and Women's Bridge, sponsored by the Arlington Greens Community Association, will begin the new season in September, women playing the second Thursday and men on the third at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lett, 1111 N. Belmont.

Substitute lists for both groups are still open, plus a few regular players in the men's group. Those interested are asked to call Ann or Pat Danna, CL 3-8118, not later than Aug. 20.

Couples Bridge will begin the season the first Friday evening in October. Chairing that group are Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCook. Those wishing to join this group are asked to call the McCooks. at CL 3-9408, no later than Labor Day.

LEAVING THE Greens the last of July was the Len Hauskey family, residents for the past six years at 1112 N. Haddow Court, for their new home on North Salem. A farewell party on July 30 for them was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bengal. Guests were Haddow Court neighbors, the Mark Jenkins, Bill Gardners, Mel Kasens, Ray Pressneys and the Harry Kushners.

Billy Keller of North Douglas celebrated her 13th birthday Aug. 3 with an evening party. Dinner guest for the occasion was her school chum, Monica Torretto. Evening guests were grandparents, the Max Kellers of Chicago, the Robert Gentiles of Arlington Heights, Arthur Goebelt family of Lincolnwood and Miss Jean Jamieson of Arlington Heights.

Mid-July began vacation trips for members of the Don Wilczynski family of North Hickory, with a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. LeFevre in Toledo for Mrs. Wilczynski and the children. Lisa and Lynn remained, while Steve and his parents boarded a plane for the West Coast. Sightseeing in San Diego, Capistrano, Los Angeles and a tour of Disneyland were followed by a flight to San Francisco and Sacramento for two more days before returnig east. After a day's stop at home, the family headed for Ohio, where Steve remained to visit his grandparents until last weekend.

A WEEK'S STAY at Lakecrest Resort at Detroit Lakes, Minn. was the vacation choice for the Dennis Bergren family of North Belmont. Before reaching their fishing, swimming and relaxing side, they visited the Elwood Gilbertson family in Minneapolis for a couple of days.

Minnesota was also vacation choice for the Bob Larson family of North Hickory. A flight to Minneapolis for Mrs. Larson and sons, Brad and Brian, began their three-week visit with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Larson and the L. J. Scotts. Joining them a week later, Mr. Larson and the family spent several days visiting relatives in Virginia. Making the return trip the first weekend in August was a niece, Miss Kathy Toomey, who visited with the Larsons until last Tuesday.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zelsmann in their East Clarendon home were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Fonfara of West Bend, Wis. Occasion for their visit was to attend the 25th wedding anniversary of mutual friends, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Eriksen. Eight couples, members of their bridge group met in the Westgate home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoppe to surprise the unsuspecting Eriksens.

Weekend guests in the Leslie Shannon home on North Hickory were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs Sam Shannon of Taylorville.

Government Guide Books Are Offered

Two new publications of the League of Women Voters will help those wishing to be informed on the structure, financing and other problems of Illinois government.

Mrs. Earl Burdsall of Prospect Heights, publications chairman of the local League, has copies of both "The Illinois Voter's Handbook" and "The Key to Our Local Government" —in revised form.

The Handbook in its 200 pages gives the important facts of government in Illinois. First published in 1923, it has for years been widely used by schools, libraries, government officials, businessmen, students and families with school-age children as a dependable, objective source of information.

The Key is a 170-page book explaining Chicago and Cook County government, political parties and elections and metropolitan planning.

BOTH NEW EDITIONS were researched and written entirely by League volunteers and each change was carefully checked by experts.

Several major changes were necessary in this edition of the Handbook. Maps of the newly created congressional, state representative, state senatorial, and judicial districts are reproduced. The organization of the new court system in Illinois is carefully explained as are the recent alterations in the administration of Illinois' public welfare and public assistance programs.

Incorporated, too, are modifications in election laws, such as the lowering of residence requirements so that new Illinois citizens may vote for President and Vice President; and the changes in the educational system, such as the law encouraging the creation of new junior college districts.

In the Key, new statistics are given; many pictures illustrate important changes in the Cook County scene; there is a new judicial section, a Cook County government chart, and a new Land-Tran study map; even the new botanic garden north of Skokie Lagoons is described.

The Handbook sells for $1.50 a copy plus 16 cents for tax and postage; The Key for $1.25 plus 15 cents for tax and postage. Together they are sold for $3.

Bulk rates are offered on large quantities. They may be ordered from Citizen Information Service of Metropolitan Chicago, 67 E. Madison St., Chicago, 60603; or by calling Mrs. Earl Burdsall of the local League, 299-4832. (ACME

Mexican-American Census Is Planned

The Northwest Cook Opportunity Council (Norwesco) agreed last week to provide volunteers to take a census of Mexican-Americans in a four township area.

The Cook County Office of Economic Opportunity has budgeted money to pay for Spanish speaking neighborhood service workers who would work with the Norwesco volunteers in Elk Grove, Wheeling, Palatine and Schaumburg townships.

The census would be taken on weekends and evenings.

Available statistics will be used byt this survey is intended to provide more sophisticated information on the Mexican-American population in the township area.

The Illinois Migrant Council may provide coordination for the census. (B10

Need Drivers To Aid Needy Migrant Moms

Volunteers are needed desperately to drive low income agricultural worker families to a medical clinic at St. Francis Hospital in Evanston.

Mrs. Gene Artemenko of Des Plaines who heads a committee of women from Elk Grove, Wheeling, Schaumburg and Palatine townships, asked for any volunteers to call her at 437-9050. The driving task takes about three hours, she said.

She and a group of women have been driving Mexican-Americans to the clinic for the last year. Eventually the Northwest Cook Opportunity Council (Norwesco) hopes to have a clinic available to the people at St. Alexius Hospital in Elk Grove Village.

Excellence is one quality that is always in short supply

One doesn't have to be president to be eminently successful. Whatever your job is, chances are you view it about the same way we consider the job of building a home.

We make no effort at all to be America's fastest builder. Or the cheapest, and certainly we will never be the biggest. When a builder has a very high regard for excellence, he can't be any of these things, because each of those goals means compromise in one form or another.

There's one thing about success that results from being a little bit better. Such success is likely to last; since there's never enough excellence to satisfy the people who require it, the demand for it is exceptionally stable.

But you've found that out, just as we have. And that's why we think you'd like our homes. Live the casual, gracious CAMBRIDGE way, where you live every day of your life.

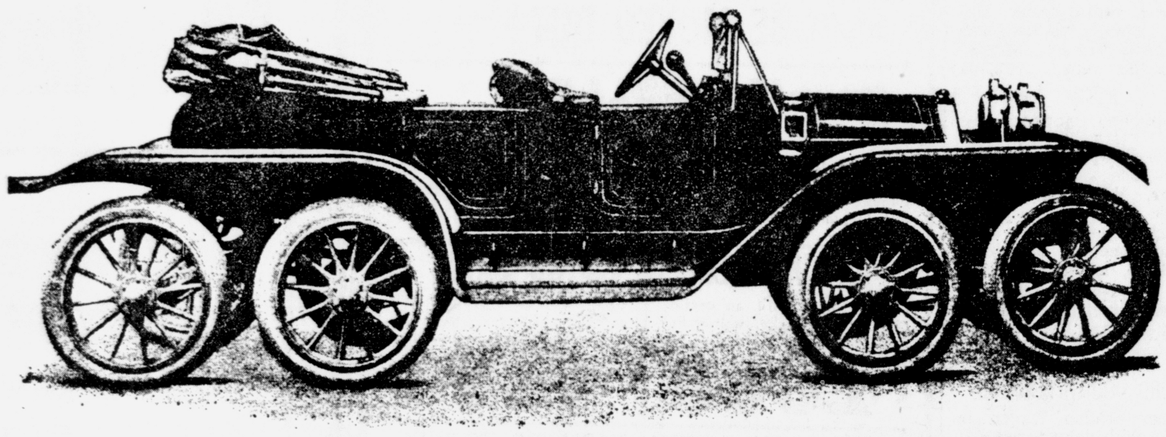
Read the copy, the car features and the price . . . and see the amazing advancements that have been made in the fabulous American automobile industry.

The Paddock

Classic Car SCRAPBOOK



THE 1911 OCTOAUTO

In the good old days when I used to take cattle to the Chicago Stock Yards, I carried a long hickory pole, a basket of grub, and much enthusiasm.

On long runs, my home was in the caboose for perhaps three days and three nights. It was a sad day, however, when, instead of a regular, genuine caboose, they bundled the merry stockmen into a dinkey. The difference between a dinkey and a caboose is that a caboose has four wheels on each side, and a dinkey has only four wheels altogether, one on each corner. The dinkey's business is to bounce, jounce, jolt, jar and jerk, and make a puncture in your vocabulary.

A wheel is a plan of continually hitting the rail. The Pullmans, it was who discovered that when you hit the rail in twelve places in running a car, you gently reduce the amount of jar and wear and tear on the rails and the rolling-stock.

A car having twelve wheels is considered doubly as safe as one having eight.

A wheel lives its life exactly as a man does his. A man will stand a great number of raps and kicks supplied by Fate, provided they are distributed over a long period of time, but when you concentrate them in a few years, or a few months, you destroy the man by destroying his nerve fabric.

In the Reeves Octoauto, the load is distributed over eight wheels, instead of being concentrated on four. In a four-wheeled automobile, a wheel at each corner carries one-fourth of the load. In case of an imperfection in the road, the sudden dropping down into a rut, one wheel may for an instant carry half of the load, and it is this sudden jolt and burden that causes the tire trouble. You get enough of these tremendous pressures in a day, and your tire reaches its limit and explodes with a loud R. G. Dun and Company report. If you are running fast, you may lose control and the ditch, always waiting, gets you.

So the proposition is, if you can save your wheels from these severe jolts which will occasionally come through dropping into a rut, you are going to prolong the life of the tire, the life of the car and the life of its occupants.

Two Youth Choirs In Concert Sunday

Two summer youth choirs will present a sacred concert at 3 p.m. this Sunday, Aug. 21, at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Plum Grove and Wood Streets, Palatine. The concert will be presented in the form of the ancient Office of Vespers.

Officiant will be Vicar James Plackner of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Des Plaines. The two choir directors, Drew Rutz and Vicar Warren Mandel, will serve as organists for the concert. Other instrumentalists will include Elizabeth Losch of Palatine and Betty White of Arlington Heights, violinists; Clinton Prahl of Palatine, oboist; and Michel Prahl, Palatine, trumpeter.

PRINCIPAL WORK of the concert will be Bach Cantata 118, "O Jesus Christ, My Life and Light," and "The Magnificat," by New Yorker James Brauer, will be performed for the first time in this area. Soprano soloist Judy Carlson of Palatine will present the main text of this work. Another solo by tenor Vicar Paul Krause of Brookfield, will be Heinrich Schuetz' "O Dear, Kind, and Gentle Savior."

The concert also will include works by Krebs, Kukuck, Hassler, Bunjes, Gelineau, Luther, Walther, Berger, Vaughn Williams, Willan, Vulpius, Bender, Micheelsen and Kauffmannn, besides chants of the ancient Church.

Rutz is a 1966 graduate of Palatine High School and his choir is made up mostly of students from that school. The young man, matriculating at Concordia Teachers College in River Forest this fall, will open the concert by playing Krebs' "Toccata in E" on the pipe organ.

Vicar Mandel, a 1964 graduate of Concordia Senior College, Ft. Wayne, Ind., will leave shortly for a year's vicarage (a ministerial internship) at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Pensacola, Fla. He has just completed two years of study at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., from which he will graduate in 1968. Members of his choir are high school students, collegians and post-collegians from the Chicagoland area. (A15

Will Preview Chrysler Cars

A private showing for Chrysler-Plymouth dealers and salesmen of Roselle this week gave them their first look at the new 1967 Plymouths, Chryslers and Imperials.

Dealers of the central area were invited to previews at St. Paul, Minn. on Aug. 4 and at Chicago on Aug. 8. They are among 14 cities in which previews are scheduled. Invited to the preview were sales and management personnel from Pabich Motor Sales of Roselle.

Put It on Ice

If you have an idea for a poem or an essay, a soiled envelope and a stub pencil are all you need to put it on ice, till you find time to expand it.

Key to Success

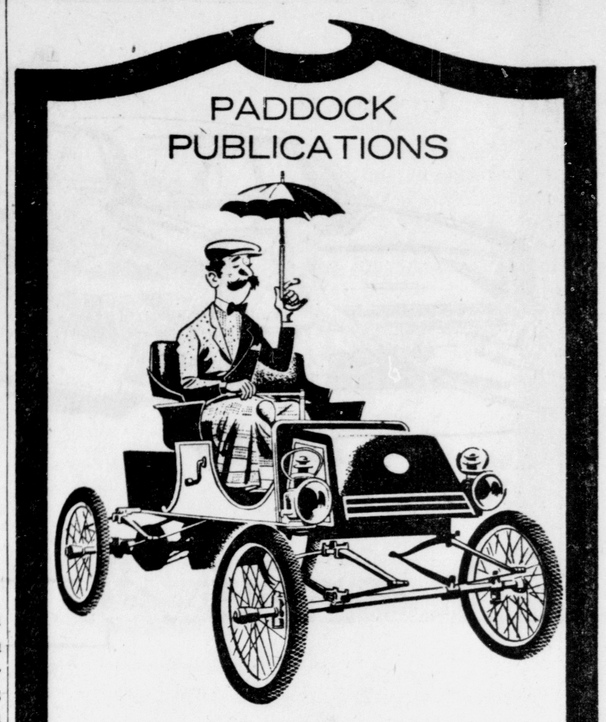
Success seems to pay for success, as I see it, from observation of those who are successful.

SAMUEL E. PHILLIPS

Samuel Phillips Promoted by GE

Samuel E. Phillips, 406 North Clark Crive, Palatine, has been named central sales manager of the General Electric Co.'s photo lamp department with headquarters in Chicago. He has been a central sales district salesman for the last five years.

Phillips joined the G-E lamp division in Kansas City in 1947, transferred to Chicago in 1961. He was named department Salesman of the Year for 1963.



Announce NROTC Exam Date

The 21st annual competitive examination for regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) will be given Dec. 10. Applications must be submitted before Nov. 19.

Application forms are available from high school couselors and Navy Recruiting Stations, or from the chief of Naval personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington, D.C., 20370.

The regular NROTC program prepares a young man for a Navy or Marine Corps commission while he is studying at one of 52 civilian colleges. All tuition, fees, uniforms and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives $50 a month subsistence allowance for not more than four years.

After successfully completing a baccalaureate level college course, he is commissioned in the Navy or Marine Corps. (A15

NIPC 'Choice Train' To Visit Northwest

The Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission's exhibit cars, or "Choice Train," will arrive in Arlington Heights Tuesday for a seven-day stop on a Chicago and North Western railroad siding beside the Northwest Highway, about two blocks north of the Arlington Heights passenger station.

These two former parlor cars, loaned by the North Western Railway, are a traveling exhibit of information about the commission, a description of its research projects, and a display of alternative plans for citizens to consider as guide lines for the future growth of their area.

The train will be officially opened by Mayor John G. Woods at 7 p.m., August 19, and mayors, village managers, zoning board officials, and chamber of commerce officials from neighboring communities have been invited to attend.

These villages include Barrington, Lake Barrington, North Barrington, South Barrington, Bartlett, Buffalo Grove, Des Plaines, Elk Grove, Evasnton, Glenview, Golf, Hoffman Estates, Kenilworth, Lincolnwood, Morton Grove, Mount Prospect, Hanover Park, Niles, Northfield, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Rosemont, Schaumberg Estates, Skokie, Streamwood, Park Ridge, Wilmette, Winnetak.

The displays will be open to the public daily from 1 to 8 p.m.; Saturdays from 10 to3; and Sundays from 3 to 7 p.m. They will feature an animated slide sequence as well as exhibit panels.

Many problems transcend community borders and need study and cooperation in tackling them on a more regional basis. Thus there will be exhibit information on air pollution, water problems, open space and transportation.

Featured also and one of the main reasons for the "Choice Train" will be the alternative plans toward which NIPC is working in developing a Comprehensive Plan, a skeletal structure or framework forged from professional research and goals of the area to be filled in by local decision and action.

'Murdering Guns' Won't Do It Again

One of the policies Dr. Andrew Toman has made in the office of Cook County Coroner is that of gun disposal.

In previous administrations, guns often filtered back into circulation or were dumped out in Lake Michigan. Scuba divers have been known to recover weapons from the lake.

Any gun or weapon used in a crime is forever disposed of by Coroner Toman. All weapons are sent to the crime laboratory where tests are made in ballistics, finger prints and whatever evidence as proof of crime ever may yield and the criminal who used the weapon.

After the weapons are no longer needed as evidence, Coroner Toman has them nailed into crates and the wooden crates are then wirebound and sealed. The coroner has an inflexible rule that no weapon under any circumstances shall ever in any way return to circulation.

HE HAS resisted many kinds of pressure. Many of the weapons are very valuable as collectors items. Many are expensive in manufacture and all have a macabre appeal as possible exhibits in a gun collection.

When the weapons are sealed in the crates, the coroner personally delivers them to the United States Steel Mill in South Chicago and watches as they are dumped into the furnace melting pot.

"A gun that has committed a crime once will never again" Dr. Toman has pledged.

Church School 'Secularism' on Increase

LEARNING NOT ONLY to deal with the world in which they find themselves, but to help better it, these youngsters in vacation church school at Arlington Heights First Methodist study curriculum materials which teach social consciousness. 'Popular Decline' Seen as Problem

by LINDA HUGHES
Staff Writer

Church school teaching will have to change radically in the next few years to save itself against increasing secularism.

That opinion is expressed by young, dynamic Ed Mixon, new minister of Christian education at Arlington Heights First Methodist Church.

Even though church school teaching has been upgraded recently, attendance has declined some in the last three or four years, he says.

"But, we don't have enough information yet to say there is a real trend; it is too early," Mixon adds.

Causes of the decline are several, he says.

THE CHURCH doesn't try to skirt the fact that secularism is on the increase and that a larger number of people all the time see no reason for attending church.

The "decline in the popularity of religion" is well recognized within the church, Mixon says.

We are also competing with more educational opportunities of every kind, he says. Church school is now only a small part of the educational opportunity, whereas it used to be a major one. "This is a youth-conscious society; everything is done for young people."

Church attendance, Mixon concludes, is a tradition. When people move as often as they do today, they break the tradition and fail to establish it again in a new community.

Church officials do not see the decline in attendance as a drastic one, he says, and they are not terribly worried.

BUT THEY ARE taking steps to halt the decline.

This, despite the fact that "because the church deals with tradition, it finds it very easy to be traditional and not to change," Mixon says.

Both curriculum and approach have been altered in the last few years. The curriculum coordinating committee of the National Council of Churches, with representatives from Protestant and Catholic denominations, came out with a basic statement on curriculum in 1964.

Each denomination then interpreted the statement to fit its own theology, he says.

The new curriculum takes better account than the old did of "what has been learned about how people change"—educational psychology, Mixon explains.

And, "the new psychological perspective makes a difference in the teaching," he continues. Church schools now try to do more than just teach information.

This opinion is expressed, too, by the Sunday school superintendent at a Baptist church.

BOTH CHRISTIAN educators note the importance of relating church school curriculum to both the personal life and the outgoing life of the individual in a complex world.

"The information in the Bible has to be made human," the Baptist educator explains. "The teacher must feel, and help the pupil establish, a personal relationship with it. What is most needed today is for people to realize that this is a personal God, not a dead or far-away one."

"The church school teacher must relate what is in the Bible to everyday life concerns," Mixon says.

"The new curriculum," he goes on, "has come out of a re-examination of what the church is.

"It really goes back to the Reformation for an interpretation, to the time when the church saw itself as a people with a talk.

"THE SERMONS OF Martin Luther stressed responsibility to others. And today we can take that responsibility to mean with respect to civil rights, poverty and other social concerns," he explains.

New teaching emphasis has brought about emphasis on the teacher.

"He needs a basic understanding of who he is himself and a basic concern for people," Mixon says.

The minister of Christian education says in getting teachers he looks for people able to communicate well, or who are receptive to training.

SOMETIMES THE training program is as elaborate as in-service training given to public school teachers. New teachers attend a laboratory school with demonstrations in inner-group dynamics and teaching methods.

Team teaching very similar to that in public schools is common. In fact, Mixon says, the new curriculum is written with the assumption that team teaching will be used.

Experiments in public school and church school team teaching went on at about the same time, he says. The two developed out of the same research.

New curriculum, new psychological approach, new teaching methods—these are the changes wrought so far.

But there are others in the making, Mixon continues.

HE ADMITS HE is a dreamer, but adds, "a dreamer in touch with reality."

He says he feels it is his job as minister of education to "help find a dream, a perspective of what's possible."

In the position he held before coming to Arlington Heights, Mixon says he had young people doing research projects much as they do in public schools.

To make them think about the Christian's responsibility toward poverty, he took a group into a poverty-stricken area. When they returned, each turned in a project based on ideas he had picked up.

The winter weekend conference is slowly beginning to supplement, or in some cases, take the place of summer camp, he says. With more young people working or going to school in the summer, enrollment in the longer summer camps has also declined.

SOME CHURCHES are trying backyard vacation church school to shore up sagging enrollment there.

And, Mixon expresses real hope for the coffee houses established by churches in districts where rebels hang out.

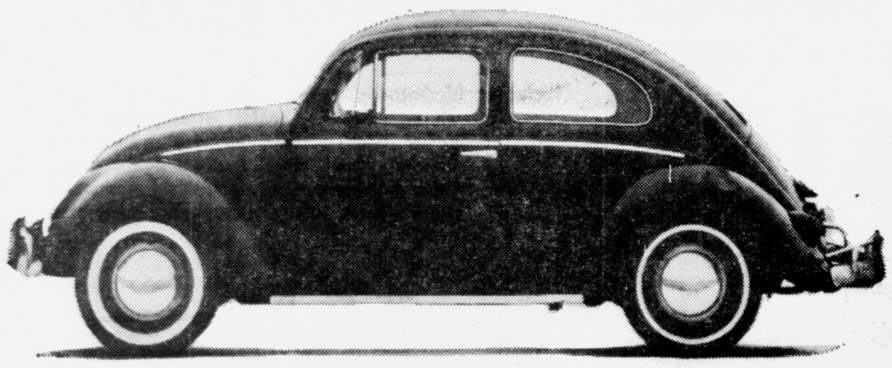
The most economical thing about a VW is how long it's economical.



This VW went 67,000 miles. And back

Unless you've been marooned on a desert island, you probably know the Volkswagen has quite a reputation for being cheap to run.

As a matter of fact, a lot of VW owners have turned into crashing bores by talking endlessly about it.

It may be boring, but it's true.

Almost everyone gets about 29 miles to a gallon of regular gas. (Some get a bit more or a bit less depending on where and how they drive.)

It doesn't take much oil to keep a Volkswagen going. And tires that go 40,000 miles per set is no special news. (They're built to carry almost twice the weight of the car.)

The secret of more tire wear: more tire.

There aren't a lot of repairs and adjustments to put up with, either.

Parts don't cost a fortune because so many of them are interchangeable from one year to the next.

And license plates and insurance generally cost less than for other cars.

All in all, a Volkswagen can save you a good $200 a year.

Not bad.

But the thing that really sets the VW apart from other cars is its low depreciation.

The difference is staggering.

The fact is, domestic cars depreciate 2 times as fast as a Volkswagen in only one year.

A one-year-old VW that costs about $1,700* now is actually worth more than many year-old domestic cars that originally cost $2,100.

Stick around; it gets worse.

A 5-year-old Volkswagen could be sold for as much as $900 if it's in reasonably good shape.

But that 5-year-old $2,100 car is now worth maybe $400-$500. Maybe.

So it doesn't take an Einstein to figure out what an ugly hole depreciation can put in your pocket.

Unless you buy a Volkswagen.

And one Volkswagen may be the only one you'll ever have to buy.

Say you buy a 1966 VW for $1,700*.

And say you save that $200 on running it every year and put it in the bank.

In 5 years or so, you can take that car (if it's in reasonable shape) together with the money you've saved to your local friendly Volkswagen dealer.

Chances are you can drive out with a brand-new VW and not have to add a dime.

One of the nice things about owning it is selling it.

If you don't like that idea, there's another alternative.

Buy a '66 VW and just drive it.

No one will stop you from keeping the same VW for as long as you like. (No one will know the difference anyway; we never change the way it looks.)

So you can just go on saving all that nice money year after year and get rich at our expense.

Maybe the VW really can't make a poor man rich.

But neither can it make a rich man poor.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

How Sociable Are You?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

Are you an introvert, extrovert, or ambivert? The introvert is the individual who is greatly concerned with inner emotions. The extrovert is interested in action, other people, the outside world. The ambivert shares about equally the traits of the other two. All of us possess both introvert and extrovert qualities, but the majority of us lean a bit more in one direction than the other. To take this test, choose the one which comes nearest to the way you believe you would react.

1. Suppose a traffic cop started writing you a ticket. Would you:
   A. Swallow hard and keep still.
   B. Say you were only going twenty. .
   C. Smile and say, "Now, buddy, let's talk this over."
2. If you were asked to give a talk before a taxpayers' meeting, would you:
   A. Feign illness and not go.
   B. Prepare a speech, but read it.
   C. Be glad for the chance to say what you think of the present city administration and its activities.
3. A friend invites you to a picnic, saying he will meet you there and introduce you to the gang. Upon arriving, you find that he has not yet shown up. Would you:
   A. Stand apart from the group until he arrives.
   B. Tell them who you are and wait for him.
   C. Join the group and lead them in the games you enjoy.
4. As you walk down a street you notice a truck loaded with barbed wire. A woman dashes across the street, against the traffic lights. To your embarrassment her skirt is caught by trailing strands of wire which tear a large strip of material. Would you:
   A. Blush and run away.
   B. Yell at the truck driver.
   C. Go to the woman and offer her your coat.
5. You are planning a new business venture, but negotiations are not yet complete. A good friend, who is a trifle nosey, asks you what is new. Would you:
   A. Keep your plans to yourself.
   B. Tell him you are contemplating a change but have not completed your plans.
   C. Slap him on the back and tell him the whole story.
6. Your boss has just given an order which you happen to know will result in the loss of money to the firm. Would you:
   A. Take the order meekly and say nothing.
   B. Acknowledge his authority but tell him you feel this will mean a loss of money.
   C. Explain to him in detail why a loss will result.
7. Someone else has just been given the promotion you had hoped would fall to you. Would you:
   A. Feel personally slighted.
   B. Admit you're disappointment, but feel that the other person deserved it more than you did.
   C. Have a talk with the boss about it.
8. You are entertaining a visitor who likes to monopolize the conversation. Would you:
   A. Let him talk on and enjoy himself.
   B. Try to include others in the conversation.
   C. Join in the conversation and take the limelight yourself.

ANALYSIS:

Count the number of times you have chosen solution A, the number of B's and of C's. If you have chosen more A's than anything else, then A is your key number.

The A's represent introvert reactions, the B's, ambivert or "middling" reaction, while the C's are decidely extrovert. If you have six or more A's, you can be considered an introvert; six or more B's, you are an ambivert; six or more C's, a decided extrovert. If your total of B's plus A's is larger than the total of B's plus C's, you have a rather "middling" temperament with a leaning toward introversion. A large total of B's plus C's indicates a leaning toward extroversion.

LOOKING NORTHWEST, this scale model is a topographic study of the William Rainey Harper Junior College campus. The first construction phase will be nestled into the side of a hill on the Tri-Color Farm, southwest corner of Route 62 and Roselle Road. The lake is a natural peat bog that will be dammed. The original $18 million first phase has been cut to the student center (large building lower right) and part of the physical plant (far right). Other buildings waiting further state funds are the fine arts wings, extending left from the center, and the auditorium extending north from this; a complex of science laboratories, classrooms and demonstration center (far left); the learning resources center (upper left); and classroom buildings.

May Pay Less College Tax Than Predicted

Residents in the four townships of Schaumburg, Wheeling, Elk Grove and Palatine may pay less taxes in support of their college district in 1967 than had earlier been estimated.

The total 1967 taxes are estimated to be 20 to 20.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation. Earlier, the maximum tax of 21.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation had been predicted.

The savings will be made on interest of the $7,375,000 bond issue which passed in June along with a 6.5 cent tax rate to retire the bonds. The tax rate now is expected to be 5.23 cents.

The savings can be made by sale of $4 million in bonds at three per cent interest to the federal government under Title III of the 1963 Higher Education Facilities Act.

The interest rate is one and one-quarter per cent less than the college expects to pay on the market for the sale of $3,375,000 in bonds.

THE OVER-ALL taxes for the college district will go up in 1967, however. Though residents get a break on the bond and interest fund, the education and building fund will be taxed at the maximum of 15 cents.

Residents of the four townships were taxed only 11 cents for these funds this year since the college was in an organizational stage. Plans now are to make the school operational by the fall of 1967.

The taxes on the bonds and interest will be highest in 1967 and 1968. From then on, the tax rate will decline, due partly to retirement of bonds and partly to projected rising assessed valuation.

Watch out for dependable Dale Landsman

In the old-time westerns you could always tell the good guys from the bad guys.

On our highways, today, it couldn't matter less.

Because even the best of drivers get involved in the worst of accidents.

Take a guy like Dale Landsman. He's never been in an accident. Never breaks a law. Yet, his first mistake may be your last!

That's why you have to drive defensively ...every second of every minute you're behind the wheel.

Out on the highway, that means protecting yourself by staying well to the right.

And warning any oncoming driver if he strays over into your lane.

Don't depend on the actions of other drivers and you won't end up on the receiving end of their mistakes or sudden moves.

You can depend on it.

Watch out for the other guy!

Percy Will Lead GOP Fund Affair

Charles H. Percy, Republican senatorial candidate, will be guest speaker at the Wheeling Township Republican fund-raising banquet. The event has been set for Oct. 8 at the Chevy Chase Country Club, Wheeling.

"I want to stress that this will be the major Republican fund-raising event in the township," said Wheeling Township Committeeman Eugene F. Schlickman. "We will use the money to finance the fall campaign locally, maintain headquarters over the next year, pay for advertising and cover all the other expenses of a local political organization.

"IN ADDITION, A proportion of the money raised will be turned over to the local clubs to help finance their activities. None of it will be used ouside the township."

There will be a rception for the candidates before the banquet. Among the invited candidates are U. S. Rep. Donald Rumsfeld and State Sen. John A. Graham, who are both seeking re-election.

County office candidates will include Sheriff Richard Ogilvie, candidate for the presidency of the Cook County Board of Commissioners, and Joseph Woods, Republican candidate for sheriff

Invitations have also been sent to Sen. Everett Dirksen and candidates for state office including Ray Page, who was re-nominated as state superintendent of public instruction, and Harris Rowe, candidate for the office of state treasurer.

SCHLICKMAN WILL host the banquet which, he said, is sponsored jointly by the Republican organization, the Regular Republican Club, the Women's Republican Club, the Young Republicans and the Republican Workshop of the township.

John Gillen, Arlington Heits, is general chairman of the event. He said that tickets will be available shortly from Republican precinct captains, club members and the banquet committee.

Mrs. John Walsh, also of Arlington Heights, is general ticket chairman. Tickets may be ordered from her at CL 5-7377. Reservations for tables may be made with the general reservations chairman, Mrs. Edward Kilfoy at 255-0974. Mrs. Kilfoy said that table locations will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis. THESE STEEL BEAMS will have to be replaced to make way for a second-floor corridor at South Junior High School. Assistant Supt. Robert Campbell points them out to the assistant business manager, Leslie Shadel. The remodeling will be only partially completed in time for fall classes. The remainder plus the addition to the west side of the building is slated for completion next year. (Staff photo)

Notes from Arlington Acres

The best wishes of their friends and neighbors go with the Sidney Johnsons, who sold their home at 512 S. Prindle, and spent the weekend moving to their new home in the Plum Grove area.

Area birthdays and anniversaries are overshadowed by returning vacationers, with a few families combining both events.

Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Rotramel, 517 S. Phelps, who spent their third anniversary Aug. 3 in Washington, D. C., taking in the tourist attractions. Other historical cities on their vacation itinerary were Gettysburg and Williamsburg, followed by a trip to Parris Island, S. C., to spend several days with Pat's sister and brother-in-law, the Robert Kellers.

The James Butkus family, 429 S. Phelps, were en route to a vacation at St. Germaine, Wis., on Scott's fourth birthday, July 31, but celebrated with a birthday cake and a festive dinner on arrival at their cottage. Since Joan's sister and her family were also at the resort, the party was as complete as a celebration at home.

VACATION plans were slightly dampened the first week because the Butkus children all came down with sore throats, and the second week because the rains came and stayed all week. Before and between downpours there were fishing and swimming parties and excursions through the woods, which abounded with deer. It was a special thrill for the children to have forest animals come to the door to be hand fed.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mercer with Pamela and Nicki, 436 S. Waterman, returned last weekend from a two-week vacation divided between Kentucky and Missouri, visiting two sets of grandparents. The first week was spent at Owensboro with the senior Mercers; the second with Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hart, who have retired to a ranch outside Springfield. The girls were particularly taken with a horse on the ranch and found it difficult to say good-bye to farm life.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schmidt and daughters, Carlene, Barbara and Patty, 515 S. Gibbons, enjoyed a spur-of-the-moment trip to Bad Axe, Mich., to see Carl's mother, Mrs. John Schmidt, and to visit other family members. Since the county fair was in progress they took that in too.

THE FRED Boths and daughter, Joanne, 433 S. Phelps, spent last week at Land o' Lakes, Wis., and met with the rain that fell through the area all week. The only redeeming feature of the bad weather was that fishing was unusually good.

The Robert Hanson family, 429 S. Prindle, drove to Geneseo last week to spend a few days with Joann's mother, Mrs. W. A. Love. A few sightseeing trips were made from this focal point, including one to the Amana Colony to visit the woolen mills and food stores. The Hansons were accompanied by their children, Mark and Cathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Knutsen and daughters, Margi, Kris, Kari and Konni, 432 S. Prindle, are home after spending a week at Channel Lake. Most of the time they spent in and on the water, skiing and enjoying the inboard motor boat which they had for the week.

THE EDWARD Truelove family, with the exception of Dick, who is attending Officer Candidate School in Kentucky, spent a week of their annual vacation at Elk Rapids, Mich., where the principal pastimes were water skiing and fishing. The Trueloves live at 532 S. Phelps.

The James Bradys, 508 S. Forrest, accompanied by David, Jimmy and Paul, drove to Pittsburgh on their vacation to visit members of their families, including Fawn's mother, Mrs. Katherine Allen, and her sister, Betty, at Bethel Park.

The Arnold Nelsons, 412 S. Prindle, spent part of their vacation at Spread Eagle, Wis., and took their infant daughter, Janice, with them, since both sets of grandparents were vacationing there also.

On their return home Carol, fairly new to the neighborhood, was guest of honor at a coffee given by Karol Moller, 416 S. Prindle. Guests for cake and coffee were Joyce Wharton, Sharlene Wright, Chris Gryzik, Norma Cerva, Eva Wasem, Rita Shure, Nila Munson and Esther Farina.

DARCY SWITZER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Switzer, 413 S. Gibbons, celebrated her fourth birthday Friday at a party for Brad Smith, Randy and Ricky La Veau, Cindy Wright, Michael Morgan, Robert Miner and cousins, David and Laura Geras of Morton Grove.

Debby Drew's fifth birthday Aug. 13 was officially celebrated at an evening party Saturday. A late supper topped with a birthday cake was on the program for the guests; Debby's godmother and her husband, the Dennis Szczepanskis, and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Zambuto and their children of Chicago.

Debby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Drews, 517 S. Forrest.

An elaborate birthday dinner Sunday marked the third birthday of Grant Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Smith, 512 S. Waterman. The guest list, totaling close to 25, included grandparents, Mrs. Emily Smith of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Aden Wilson of Glen Ellyn, as well as many aunts, uncles and cousins.

A happy Aug. 10 birthday was wished to Dennis O'Donnell, 405 S. Gibbons, by his parents and brothers, Kevin and James, at a family dinner Wednesday of last week. (A

Seeking Volunteers For Campaign

About 120 of the 1,000 workers needed by Sept. 20 for the United Fund campaign have been recruited, according to William J. Pailey, general chairman for Arlington Heights.

Pailey this week urged all Arlington Heights residents who will have a few spare hours in the fall to call the United Fund at 259-2007 and volunteer. No worker will be asked to contact more than 12 families.

John Gillen, president of the United Fund, said there has been some confusion among people who are being approached to work on campaigns for organizations listed as agencies of the United Fund.

GILLEN explained in the past there have been numerous complaints in the village due to the large number of organizations soliciting door-to-door.

To eliminate this constant solicitation, the United Fund has tried to combine all appeals into one effort, he said. Several of the organizations the United Fund lists have not agreed to let the larger organization do their fund raising, however.

The United Fund is listing these agencies, Gillen said, because it intends to support them. Contributors may designate a specific organization if they wish. Gillen said he felt the United Fund could do the best job of canvassing for these groups.

Pailey said the campaign goal will be announced Sept. 8. (A

Elmhurst Dealer Breaks Ground For 1 Million Dollar Auto Facility

Elmhurst Motors, Inc., has broken ground for its new $1 million facility at the northwest corner of York and Industrial Roads in Elmhurst.

"We expect to be in our new quarters by mid-December," Albert Muisenga, president of the dealership, said. The existing dealership was established eight years ago at 183 N. York St., eight blocks south of the new location.

Representing Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. at the ground breaking ceremonies were W. S. Walla, midwestern regional sales manager, and George McLaughlin and T. J. Peters, assistant district sales managers.

Also attending were Robert Palmer, Elmhurst's city manager, Mayor Charles Wigel, and Abner Ganet, past president of the Elmhurst Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Elmhurst Industrial Development Commission.

THE NEW ONE-STORY, steel and brick building, containing 44,000 square feet, will be situated on 6½ acres. The showroom, highlighted by floor-to-ceiling glass, will have room for 15 cars.

"Our service department will incorporate the all-new diagnostic center, making Elmhurst Motors the first Ford dealership in the Chicago area to have this equipment," Muisenga said. "This center will consist of the most modern electronic testing equipment available to accurately and efficiently identify the cause of car problems. More then 100 inspections can be made on a customer's automobile in less than an hour.

"Exploratory teardown of components will be minimized, and the repair man can move directly to replace the defective part.

"Our service department also will contain a completely new body and paint shop."

"THE NEW dealership also will include an ultra-modern car wash which will occupy 6,000 square feet," Muisenga, who has 32 years experience in Ford dealerships, noted. "This car wash operation will clean 130 cars an hour."

"The additional space in the new building will allow us to expand our daily rental and long term leasing programs," he added.

The parts depatment, conveniently located next to the service area, will contain 9,000 square feet of parts storage space. In addition to the showroom, the front portion of the building will house customer and employe lounges, the bookkeeping department and executive offices.

The used car department will be south of the main building. The entire area will be completely paved for customer parking ease. (CR

A reminder that students new to District 59 enrolling at Dempster Junior High, that the student placement tests will be given Wednesday, Aug. 24, at 8:30 a.m., at the school.

They are to bring a lunch and provide their own transportation.

Eugene Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Swiech, Cedar Glen Drive, celebrated his 10th birthday Saturday with his relatives. His cousin, Jim Roszyk of Chicago, stayed Sunday and Monday as Eugene's guest. Jim attended the Cub Scout outing with Eugene and Mrs. Sweich on Sunday, when they toured Great Lakes Naval Base. Monday the family enjoyed a day at the YMCA.

MR. AND Mrs. Jack Nitz, Linda and Jackie, Elk Grove Road, have returned from a fishing trip to Red Indian Lodge, Sioux Narrows, Ontario, Canada.

Jackie and Mr. Nitz went with an Indian guide and caught northern pike and small mouth bass, which they cooked over an open fire, before returning to the lodge with the rest of their catch.

On the way up, they stopped at Rice Lake, Wis., and in Canada they took a side trip to Kenora.

Jackie celebrated her 12th birthday with a party just before their vacation. Guests were Janet, Joyce, Kathy and Lori Olson, Carolyn Dews, Judy Blair, Donna Gordon and her sister, Linda. They played games and enjoyed pony rides. She celebrated during the evening again at a barbecue for her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Newlands of Chicago and Joseph Nitz of Elk Grove Road, aunt, Mrs. Eleanor Newlands, and Mrs. John Clancy of Chicago.

ON SUNDAY Joseph Nitz took the Jack Nitz family to the Black Fox Restaurant at the New Holiday Inn in Rolling Meadows.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gorgius, South Busse Road, visited their newphew and family, the Ralph Soundes in Cary, on Sunday.

Thursday Mrs. Gorgius and Laurie were luncheon guests of Mrs. Mark Kearns in Franklin Park in honor of Mrs. Louise Kause of Fullerton, Calif., who is visiting for the next few weeks in the Chicago area.

Birthday greetings this week go to Robert Giesel, Judy Wuchterl, Violet Piske, Mary Ellen Howerton, Seri Swensdn, Mary Lou Howerton, Carol Wehunt, Jeffery Wilson, Joanne Nason, Rosale Esposito, Albert Morey III, Susan Lynne Morey and Carol Wilkens.

COLONIAL HEIGHTS

Last week Mrs. Robert Harding, R.N., of Mount Prospect attended the PCCA Convention at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago, during which time her daughters, Pamla and Rhonda, visited their grandparents, the Charles Carrolls on Estates Drive.

The James McAuliffs, Myrtle Drive, are the proud grandparents of Anna Therese, infant daughter of the David Rabes of Berwyn.

It has been a fun summer at the Charles Livingstons,' Hatlen Avenue. Bruce and Glen spent two weeks at Hastings YMCA Camp, then the family went camping for two weeks, staying at Devils Lake, Inter State and Yellow Lakes. They spent a day with the George Clark family, also of Halen Avenue, at Yellow Lake.

Professor Expresses Novelty In Design of Family's Home

Plastic plumbing . . . suspended luminous ceilings . . . wall panels of all-climate coated insulating glass . . . a bathtub of fiber glass . . . an environmental control system—these are only a few of the unique ideas which Associate Professor Walter H. Lewis, of the University of Illinois, incorporated in the exciting home he designed for his family.

The house—built to illustrate innovations in site planning, house design, product selection and construction methods—has so many unique features that Professor Lewis has been able to charge admission to the place!

Some of the ideas, according to Lewis, are his own. Others are up to 10 years old but have never been widely used. One of the main purposes of the house is to publicize recent housing technology—which Lewis maintains is doing little to benefit you at the present time because builders are afraid to be daring.

THE LEWIS house is situated on a pie-shaped lot, 50 feet wide at the front and 180 feet at the rear. Wide roof overhangs control much of the sun on the southern side of the house, which is predominantly all-climate insulating glass. The homeowner's constant complaint of hot, glaring afternoon sun is eliminated by a west wall made completely of brick. The east wall is also windowless, ensuring privacy from neighbors.

Seclusion is provided on the northern and front side of the house by a solid white wall which serves as a backdrop for paintings and other art pieces that fill the gallery (an entrance hall that stretches across 30 feet of the front of the house). A new all-climate insulating glass which cuts glare while providing adequate light transmission, forms the outermost wall. Some of it is tinted, gray and some bronze.

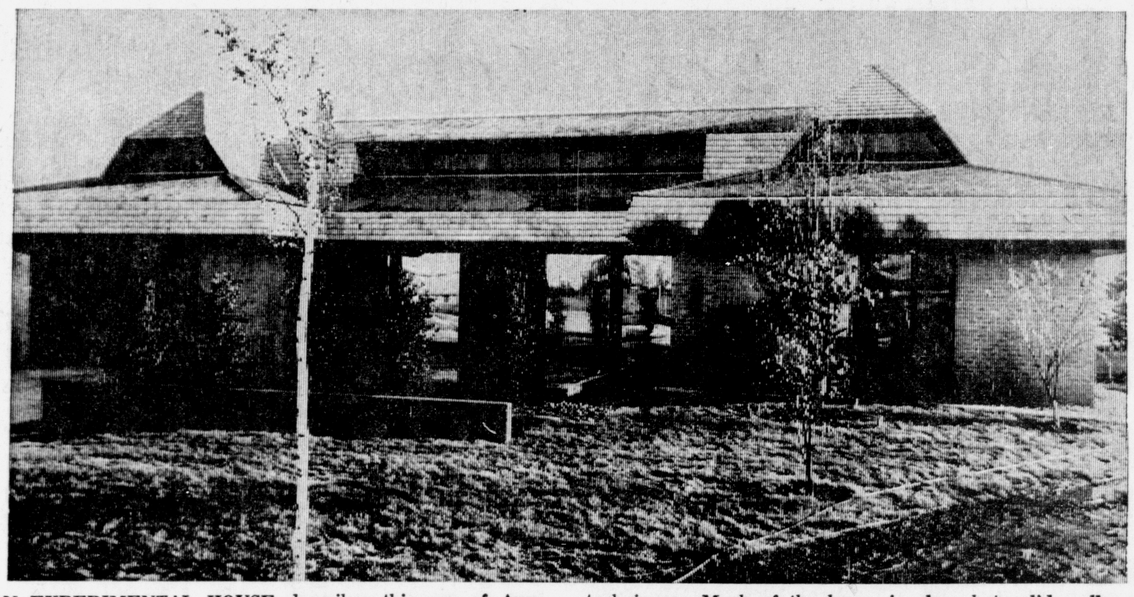
Other materials which have been selected by Lewis include: plastic piping for water, drainage, waste and vents; chrome-plated thermoplastic plumbing fixtures; integral bathtub and enclosing walls of fiber glass and fiber glass ceiling squares secured by hidden steel runners.

Eye-catching features within the house are: suspended luminous ceilings in the two main baths; contemporary rosewood kitchen and bath cabinets with folding doors; a terrazzo kitchen floor and a floor of one-inch squares of varicolored red oak in the informal living room and the play room.

Lewis is especially proud of the continuity of floor covering he has employed. He feels that most houses have a patchwork type of flooring. His flooring conforms largely to the divisions of the house and where different materials join, the contrast is a subtle one.

HIS TREATMENT of closet doors is also a notable detail. The mahogany doors are framed, both at top and on the bottom, with wood of a matching stain for a paneled effect. "Instead of looking like a hole in the wall, the door looks like a whole wall," explained Lewis. The effect is increased by the use of a pop-open door device that requires no knobs.

Think you'll ever live in an experimental lodging like the Lewis home — with plastic plumbing and walls of glass? Who knows? But one thing is fairly certain; some of the innovations which the house offers, which were accepted by builders and public alike with great enthusiasm, will be affecting your living habits in the next few years—perhaps without your even realizing it. (O



AN EXPERIMENTAL HOUSE describes this one of Associate Professor Walter H. Lewis of the University of Illinois. Constructed on a pie-shaped lot, the house demonstrates some of Lewis' ideas as well as many old but unused design techniques. Much of the house is glass but solid walls on the east and west sides afford complete privacy for Lewis' family, as well as eliminating the glaring afternoon sun and heat.

August Is Harvest Month for Peaches

Juicy-ripe Illinois peaches are at the peak of harvest goodness during the month of August.

Keep a dozen in your refrigerator at all times for spur-of-the-moment snacks or for "on purpose" desserts, salads and beverages. Make it your purpose to serve this delightful frozen peach salad at least once during August:

FROZEN PEACH SALAD

¾ c. peeled and pitted fresh Illinois peaches
1 c. miniature marshmallows
¼ c. well-drained crushed pineapple pinch sald
2 tbsp. quartered maraschino cherries
¼ c. slivered almonds
⅛ tsp. almond extract
1 c. dairy sour cream

Crush peaches using a meshtype masher. Add rest of ingredients. If desired, a few drops of red food coloring may be used. Serves 6.

Invite peaches to your August parties. They can come as this peach punch:

PEACH PUNCH

9 med. Illinois peaches blended or ground to make 4½ c. fresh peach pulp
1 quart crashed ice
1 six oz. can frozen orange juice concentrate
1 six oz. can frozen lemonade concentrate

Mix ingredients well. If serving in a punch bowl, float 6 peeled peach halves on top of the punch and add a few sprigs of fresh mint. Makes about ½ gallon.

When choosing peaches at the market, look for a bright fresh plump appearance and yellowish or creamy background color with overlying blush of red. Peaches should be fairly firm to firm and free from bruises.

To prevent sliced peaches from turing brown, spinkle with citrus or pineapple juice.

Too Costly

Most of us know precisely what we want, but can't afford it.

Keep Standing

Consideration for others often means that you don't get a seat.

And Then Again . . .

When everyone is against you, the chances are you're wrong.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

BOB FRISK
Sports Editor

Dahlquist Eyes Norfolk Slot . . .

One of the finest pass receivers in Paddock area football history is trying to make the grade as a quarterback and punter in the highly-regarded ten-team Continental professional football league.

Gene Dahlquist, who just seven years ago this fall was pulling down George Bork passes at a record clip at Arlington High School, is bidding for regular duty on the Norfolk, Va., Neptunes in the pro league that spans the Eastern half of North America.

Dahlquist, who still holds the Arlington school mark for most passes caught in a single season but who lost his total yardage standard to Bruce Hubbard last fall, spent the 1965 season with Norfolk after graduating from the University of Arizona.

Gene is a strong contender for the starting quarterback slot on the Norfolk outfit that kicks off its league season tonight (Thursday) in Toronto, Canada. He is no newcomer to the key assignment in punting as he handled the kicking chores last fall, but he was a reserve signal-caller.

The Continental League consists of two entries from Canada (Toronto and Montreal) and squads from Norfolk, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Charleston, S. C.; Orlando, Fla.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Hartford, Conn.; Richmond, Va.; and Wheeling, W. Va.

Dahlquist hasn't had much spare time since coming to Norfolk. He's tried his hand sports announcing, teaching, and writing in addition to working toward his Master's Degree and playing football. He still handles a sports show on the radio.

Gene is married and the father of a seven-month-old girl. His parents live in Mount Prospect.

Dahlquist, whose ultimate goal is a college coaching position, feels that his time spent in professional football, whatever level that may be, will be invaluable in helping him achieve his ambition.

He hadn't given pro ball a serious thought until the Norfolk entry of the fast-rising Continental League made its pitch. Gene accepted the challenge and made the Norfolk squad after a three-week trial period.

The elevation to professional grid status came after a rugged climb to first-string prominence on the Arizona eleven. Gene was awarded a scholarship after his frosh year and earned a starting shot at quarterback as a senior. He also ranked among the league leaders in punting average in the Western Athletic Conference.

Although Dahlquist started out as a quarterback in high school and played quarterback in college and is now in the play-for-pay game as a quarterback, it was at the end position that he made his biggest splash in high school.

Elliott (Bus) Ormsbee, head football coach at Arlington for 12 seasons and now athletic director at Wheeling High School, was the envy of the area mentors in the late 1950s. Whereas most schoolboy coaches have trouble locating one capable quarterback, Ormsbee had two outstanding boys in Dahlquist and George Bork. The big problem, if you can call it a problem, was how to utilize those rare talents.

Ormsbee decided to alternate quarterbacks in the 1958 campaign when Dahlquist and Bork were juniors. He abandoned that idea in 1959, going with Bork on a full-time basis and shifting Dahlquist to one of the end slots, and he was rewarded with one of the school's finest football seasons in history.

Bork, who was to go on to establish national passing marks at Northern Illinois University, shattered all the school aerial standards (since broken by Steve Allen), and Dahlquist put his name into the record book as the greatest pass receiver in school history.

GENE DAHLQUIST

Bork and Dahlquist teamed up 28 times for 389 yards as Arlington posted a 6-2 season mark, losing 27-26 to Hinsdale in the closing seconds after blowing a 26-13 lead and 6-0 to Maine in a "week after" letdown.

Those 28 receptions by Dahlquist still stand as a school mark although Hubbard, Arlington's 6-6 flank last fall, eclipsed the total yardage figure with 499 on 24 grabs.

Dahlquist also was a basketball and baseball standout at Arlington High School. He started at a guard on the Arlington team that reached the sectional championship in basketball and earned all-league recognition for two seasons as a pitcher in baseball.

In baseball Dahlquist was the right-hander and Fred (Fritz) Peterson, now with the New York Yankees, was the left-hander on an Arlington varsity that lost its first two league games, won eleven straight, and then bowed to Maine in the loop showdown.

Two All-Staters on that Arlington High School football team of 1959 are now in military service. Mike Dundy, an All-State halfback who went on to stardom at the University of Illinois, is with the Army in Germany. A First Lieutenant, Mike will remain in his present position until September of 1967. Dan Striegel, an All-State tackle, is in Viet Nam.

'Magic Glove' Now on Market.

Did you see the latest gimmick for the golf buff?

This one is advertised as capable of adding at least 75 yards to your drive off the tee.

A driving-range professional in Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., and an optometrist (optometrist?) in Philadelphia are marketing an item called the Miracle Golf Glove.

With a simple flick of the left wrist, they say, you can now add those precious yards to your drive.

What these two Pennsylvania men have done is to load a glove with four ounces of metal pellets. These, sewn into the back of the glove, add weight to help pull the hands into the ball faster. Additional hand speed results in longer drives.

"I think this glove will have the same effect on golf that fiber glass had on pole vaulting,"

However, as Sports Illustrated magazine points out, Campbell hasn't asked what the United States Golf Association thinks of the idea.

Ten Years Ago

K. Whitton Realty captured the team championship in the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament with a 354 gross 300 net. . . Members of the victorious team were Bill Salzman, Henry Baylis, Earl Thompson, and Harry Dodds. . . Al Griffith had a 67 net in the tourney. . . The Arlington Boosters baseball team, coached by Dave Ryden, rocked the touted Chicago Yankees 12-5 with Stan Fletcher delivering a home run and single. . .

Three New Schools in Area

Practice to Begin Wednesday; Grid Schedule Opens Sept. 16

For area high school gridiron gladiators, summer vcation ends next Wednesday.

That's the day the sweat begins to pour off, the muscles begin to harden, and the clatter of cleats on the floor returns to school locker rooms.

Football practice for members of the Illinois High School Association officially gets under way Wednesday. Some schools will issue equipment and arrange to have players take their requested physical examinations at an earlier date but under the rules of the Association, no school may organize or practice its team before the second Wednesday preceding Labor Day.

PLAYERS MUST have engaged in a minimum of ninety minutes of actual field practice on each of fourteen days preceeding the first interschool game or scrimmage and no school may play its opening game earlier than Friday, Sept. 16, thi year.

Although official practice cannot begin before Wednesday, many area high school gridders have been working out on their own.

Most local schools will hold grid workouts on a two-a-day basis until school opens Sept. 6. Some camps will even stage three sessions daily as the schoolboy units begin intense training programs.

TWELVE PADDOCK area schools, three of them sporting athletic programs for the first time, are set to launch their 1966 grid slates.

Elk Grove, Addison Trail, and Fremd are the schools new to Illinois high school football this year. Addison Trail, newest member of the Des Plaines Valley Conference, is the only one of the three which will tackle a full varsity schedule in its first year. They open their season at Elk Grove Sept. 17 in a non-conference area headliner.

In another local opening day attraction, Lake Park will entertain Conant.

Elk Grove, which will compete in the Mid-Suburban League, will play a mixed schedule. Fremd has lined up strictly a JV schedule for the 1966 campaign.

FIVE NEW head coaches will skirt the sidelines of area battlefields this fall. In addition to the head men at the three new schools, two other mentors—at Palatine and Conant—will receive their baptism as varsity head coaches this season.

The Elk Grove Grenadiers will be guided by Dick Mudge, a veteran in area coaching circles who is tackling his first assignment as a head grid mentor. Mudge served most recently as JV football and head wrestling coach at Prospect.

Palatine's Pirates, defending M-SL champs and definitely a team to watch in '66, also feature a new head man. Arv Herstedt, who last year served as defensive coach at Palatine on a squad which was unscored on in the conference and didn't allow a point in 22 quarters, will step up this year.

JOHN ELLIS, who guided Palatine to its undefeated season last year, has taken a position

Putting On The Glitter

$50,000 Added Event

Arlington Features 32nd Matron Renewal

Mid-America's premier attraction for fillies and mares, the $50,000 added Arlington Matron Handicap, enjoys its 32nd renewal Saturday as Washington Park Jockey Club stages its second week of activity at Arlington Park.

Many of the nation's top distaffers are expected to contest the 1⅛ miles journey over the turf course, with the event certain to play a major role in deciding the handicap mare of the year.

Thursday (today) a strong field of Illinois bred and/or foaled three-year-olds and upward will contest the $15,000 Governor's Handicap, possibly headed by August Muckler's Someticco, Fred W. Hooper's Mr. Clown, Scottdale Farm's Better Sea, Harvey Peltier's Jungle Boy and Grand Prix Stable's Abe Hope among others in the 7 furlongs event.

THIS YEAR'S Matron shapes up as a wide open test, with such standouts as Harborvale Stable's Summer Scandal, E. Gay Drake's Swoonalong, Harbor View Farm's Swinging Mood, Ernest H. Woods' Margarethen, Mary D. Keim's Amerivan, Charles E. Grinstead's Miss Rincon, William H. Floyd's Fairway Fun, Clifford Lussky's Justakiss and Edward E. Voynow's Cologne set to start.

Four-year-old Summer Scandal is a free-wheeling, front-stepping daughter of Summer Tan—Go Modern. The chestnut won the Top Flight Handicap May 21 at Aqueduct, touring 1 1/8 miles in a respectable 1:49 2/5, breaking directly to the fore and finishing five lengths on top.

The lightly raced filly took three of five outings last season, including the $50,000 added Monmouth Oaks, and was also second in the first division of the Post-Deb Stakes. Her efforts, nevertheless, were worth $46,829.

SWOONALONG enjoyed a sensational campaign, last season, winning seven events and earning $96,508. The Swoon's Son bay, now on the comeback trail, as a five-year-old, captured three stakes events, including the Colonial, Regret and Beverly Handicaps, and ran second in the Arlington Matron and Spinster Stakes.

Like Summer Scandal, she is primarily a front-runner, and quite consistent, having finished in the money during 12 of her 16 outings last year.

Coming off a remarkable eight-lengths victory in the Pucker Up Handicap, Swinging Mood will attempt to become one of the few three-year-olds ever to win the Matron.

THE DAUGHTER of Francis S. showed promise last season as a juvenile running third in the distaff National Stallion until sidelined by an injury. She's

SHOW OF STRENGTH. Fred Prete of Rolling Meadows, holds 400 pounds as he works out in preparation for the Second Annual Meadows Power Meet that will be staged this Sunday at 2703 Cardinal Drive in the Rolling Meadows. The meet, sanctioned and sponsored by the AAU, will begin at 1:30 p.m. The best lift predicted for the meet is over 500 pounds. (Staff photo)

18-Hole Event Slated Sunday

Tee-Off Time Is 9 a.m.; 18 Teams Seek Honors

by BOB FRISK

It is said that once the bug has bitten, the golfer forever pursues his sport.

He is deluded into thinking he may be able, tomorrow, to hit all his iron shots like the one he hit on the fourteenth green today.

The golf addict is a very special person, and for this addict the Paddock Publications annual handicap headliner is a very special tournament.

This is the time that the dubs and duffers and the area hot-shots get together for 18 holes of tourney golf.

AS A HANDICAP affair, everyone is equal when they step up to that first tee. The 25-handicapper means just as muc to his team as the man who flirts with par.

The tourney was initiated in 1950. The 17th edition of this popular late-summer feature will unfold Sunday at Golden Acres Country Club with 18 teams, the best in the Paddock area, seeking the championship hardware.

JIM STAVROS

List Foursomes

The complete list of foursomes with tee-off times for the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament will be found on page two of the sports section. Eighteen foursomes will be in action at Golden Acres Sunday.

Golden Acres is located between Irving Park and Higgins roads on Roselle Road in Schaumburg.

TO THE TEAM winner Sunday will go a trophy and medals for the players on the squad. There are also medals for the members of the second and third place outfits, and a dozen golf balls to the low individual net player.

It all begins at 9:00 a.m. when low-handicappers John Hernandez, Len Arnold, Dennis Harrod, and Jim Stavros attack the 485-yard, par five first hole.

Hernandez is the only golfer in the Paddock meet without a handicap. His best round this season was a snappy 33 over the par 35 layout at Old Orchard and he also brings two 36s and two 37s into the tourney.

ARNOLD, A member of the rugged Peters & Co. Scratch League entry, is no newcomer to the Paddock event. A leading player in the area for several years, Len holds the tournament's low gross record with a 71 in 1955. Arnold will carry a one handicap Sunday.

Harrod of the Pure Oil Tuesday division is another one-handicapper. Harrod could be the man to watch Sunday as he calls Golden Acres his home course during the season so should know his way around in the tournament.

Rounding out the first foursome will be Jim Stavros, Wheeling Township Democratic Commiteeman. Stavros, who had a 15-handicap in the 1965 tourney, will bring a stingy two into the '66 meet. A member of the Flite Champs team of the St. Alphonsus Holy Name golf league, Jim shot an 85 over the White Pines layout last summer.

TWENTY OF THE golfers in Sunday's tournament will carry handicaps of less than ten. Thirty-nine are bracketed between 10 and 20. High man will be Bill Kohnke of Quadriga Manufacturing Co. with a 37 handicap.

Quadriga, representing the St. Colette division, features the extremes in the tourney. Hernandez is the team leader with a zero handicap and Kohnke has his 37. Should alternate Don Larson be pressed into service, a 50-handicapper will be on the

Winter Rules

Winter rules will be in effect Sunday at the Paddock golf tournament, according to tournament director G. A. McElroy who examined the Golden Acres Country Club course earlier in the week.

"Golf courses in the area look green," McElroy pointed out, "but when you get on them, they have a lot of rough spots. Most leagues have been playing winter rules in their competition, and I'm in favor of continuing this policy for the Paddock tourney."

Call for Results

Information on the team and individual leaders in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament will be available on the special sports telephone service (392-2100) after 6:00 p.m. Sunday.

At Prospect H.S.

Dog Obedience Exhibit Slated

"Dog days" will be at Prospect High School this Sunday, Aug. 21, as the Northwest Obedience Club holds its annual obedience trial in the school fieldhouse.

Beginning at 9 a.m. and continuing throughout the day, more than 200 pure-bred dogs of all breeds will compete for the top scores with about 100 trophies and ribbons awarded as prizes.

These dogs, which will come from all over the Chicago and Suburban area, will work in novice classes which include walking at the heel, standing on command, figure eights, recalls, and long sits and downs. Open classes will add retrieving and jumping while Utility classes, for the more advanced dogs, will include scent discrimination and hand signals.

President of the Obedience Club, Coy Woodridge of Prospect Heights, comments, "With the increasing dog population in our growing suburbs, proper training increases in importance; therefore, new or prospective dog owners and also dog owners with problems would benefit by watching the results of obedience training."

Leo Smolinski of Bartlett is Director of Training and Jerry Shinberg of Niles is Show Chairman of the Obedience Club, which meets every Wednesday evening in Palatine.

Food will be served on the grounds and there is plenty of free parking available.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Publicity Chairman Mrs. Walter Ross of 1720 S. Roselle Road, Palatine. Mrs. Ross' telephone number is 358-1660.

Matron Heads Racing Card

been slow in regaining her true form this season, but now appears destined to a brilliant career.

Swinging Mood has now earned $43,624 and will no doubt be ridden by Earlie Fires, sensational 19-year-old native of Arkansas, who has rapidly become one of America's top pilots. She also ran second in the Misty Isle Handicap on the grass, proving her versatility.

Whenever there's a turf event for fillies, four-year-old Margarethen is sure to put in an appearance. She has won a pair of stakes at Arlington this season, taking the first division of the Modesty June 8 and the second division of the Beverly July 16.

JIMMY NICHOLS, the capable veteran, will ride Margarethen, who was struggling badly last year until trainer Charlie Sanborn decided to run the daughter of Tulyar on the grass. She then proceeded to win five in succession, and has continued to enjoy success this season.

Amerivan appears back to her previous stakes-winning form after turning in several bad performances earlier this year. The four-year-old Americ-go filly won the coveted Kentucky Oaks last season, earning $54,891. She also won three allowance events and was third on five occasions.

The bay now comes off a three-lengths score Aug. 4, taking the measure of Fairway Fun with ease. She ran third in the second division of the Beverly July 16 and followed that up with a solid runner-up to Sailor's Alibhai in an allowance July 26. Henry Moreno will again ride.

Hard-luck Miss Rincon has made a habit of barely losing. The five-year-old sports a fondness for the grass, and ran second in both the Santa Barbara and Modesty Handicaps with third place finishes in the San Marino and Stars and Stripes. She owns a strong late closing kick and is slated to have Martinez Heath up.

Fairway Fun has won three stakes while owning a lifetime bankroll in excess of the century marker; Justakiss, another three-year-old, won the Ashland Stakes, Oaks Prep and Cleopatra Handicap; and Cologne was second in the Cinderella, second division of the Beverly, and Pucker Up Hanicaps.

The team handicaps range from a 16 for Peters & Co. to the 71 for Quadriga.

CHAMPIONS, individual or team, can't be predicted because of the uncertainties of handicap performances, but tourney entries can get some idea from past performances on what it takes to claim top honors.

For example, Carter Music Shop of the Mount Prospect Tuesday league won the 1965 event with a 294 net, utilizing a 51 handicap in the process. In 1964 Hoffman Estates Standard Service used a 48 handicap for a 306 net.

Based on past records, don't bet against the teams that carry handicaps in the 45-65 range. More often than not that's the handicap range of the tourney champs.

The tournament record for low team net is 281 established in 1960 by Morton Pontiac over the White Pines course. Individually, the marks to shoot at are the 71 gross by Arnold and 64 (73-9) net by Clarke Robinson.

The long wait is almost over. The 17th Paddock tournament begins at 9 a.m. Sunday.

Muscle Meet Held; AAU Aces Compete

Eleven area weight-lifters will compete in the Second Annual Meadows Power Meet this Sunday, Aug. 21, at 1:30 p.m.

This meet, sanctioned and sponsored by the AAU, will be staged at 2307 Cardinal Drive, Rolling Meadows. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to cover purchase of materials necessary for the meet.

Quite a display of brawn will be in store for those who attend. Events will be of a wide variety and will include bench presses up to 350 pounds, squats up to 400 pounds, and dead lifts up to 450 pounds.

George Goets of Arlington Heights and Bob Jennings of Rolling Meadows will be in the spotlight at the Power Meet. Both of these boys are Central AAU record-holders in weightlifting.

There is also a possibility that Bob Gyida will be on hand. Gyida's muscles have won him titles of Mr. U.S.A. and Mr. America. He is presently working towards a Ph.D. in Physical Fitness.

Other contestants in the meet, all from the Arlington Heights-Rolling Meadows area, include Fred Prete, Steve Yakes, Stu-Wanke, Craig Murrey, and Jim Sager.

Football Practice Begins Wednesday

as assistant to Bob Scott at Forest View.

Ron Rio will be another head grid coach in the M-SL. He will be the boss of the Conant Cougars' varsity eleven.

Rio takes over at Conant after serving under former head man Ron Smith as an assistant coach. Before last year, Conant's initial season, Rio was a line coach at Lane Tech in Chicago.

THE FOURTH new head coach in area grid circles is Dick Gavigan, who will rule the Fremd Vikings.

Gavigan has been a long-time operative in the District 211 athletic framework. Last year, he guided the Conant JV football and varsity tennis aggregations.

Rounding out the newcomers is Vic Lesch, who has been named head coach of the Addison Trail Blazers. Lesch was formerly head football boss at Willowbrook.

Seven of the 12 schools to be covered by Paddock's chain of suburban newspapers will have veteran grid mentors. Among those returning to the local igskin scene are Al Allen at Arlington, Bob Scott at Forest View, Don Williams at Prospect, Bill Daletski at Wheeling, Joe Gliwa at St. Viator, Bob Appleby at Fenton, and Bob Monken at Lake Park.

FENTON AND Lake Park will again vie in the Tri-County Suburban Conference, with Fenton defending its 1965 league grid crown. St. Viator will compete in the Chicagoland Prep League.

The enlarged nine-team M-SL this year will include three new schools—Fremd, the third member of District 211, Arlington, which has broken its ties with the West Suburban Conference after 14 years, and Elk Grove, the fifth District 214 school.

The other six teams will be the same ones that made up the 1965-66 M-SL circuit—Conant, Forest View, Palatine, Prospect, Wheeling, and Maine West. In the new M-SL lineup, only Maine West is not a Paddock area school.

The Mid-Suburban looks to be one of the strongest leagues in the suburban area this fall with several classy schoolboy elevens set to take the field the weekend of Sept. 16 and 17.

The local scene this fall should show one of the most interesting gridiron campaigns ever.

No Yank Blanks

The only major league team to play a full season without once being shut out was the New York Yankees. They performed this feat in 1932, and it helped them set a record of 309 consecutive games without being blanked.

Special Attraction Slated at O'Hare

By popular request, a second special Monza 150 stock car racing show will be presented Saturday night to highlight the regular Friday, Saturday and Sunday night racing schedule this wekend at O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim and Irving Park rds., Schiller Park. First race nightly is 8 p.m.

The Monza special will consist of three 50-lap main events that will start 24 cars. The same 24 cars will run in all three races—if they can. A special point system will be used to determine the over-all winnner and leaders at the end of the night.

As an added thrill bonus, there will be two Figure 8 races in addition to the three 50 lappers Saturday. Figure 8 racing also continues to thrill fans every Friday and Sunday at O'Hare.

Seeking to pick up where he left off in last month's Monza 150 will be Roy Martinelli of Prairie View who was the winner of all three of the specials. John Kennedy of Villa Park, Paul Heitz of Arlington Heights, Denny Harvey of Bensenville, Bob Weyrauch of Des Plaines, Eddie Jast of Melrose Park, and LeRoy Roberts of Elmwood Park.

Merkel, Raeder Cop Net Titles

Jim Merkel and Paul Raeder captured singles championships last week in the Arlington Heights Park District Junior Tennis tournament.

Merkel defeated Nancy Skarzynski 6-2, 1-6, 6-4 for the 11-and-under championship.

Raeder topped Randy Fischer crown.

Third place awards were claimed by Ken Koski (11-and-under) and Gary Aldrich.

Arlington Netters Win 2 of 3 Meets

Three of the four Arlington Heights Tennis Club teams were successful in a meet against Berwyn.

In A team action, Don Johnson and Larry Brown lost in no. 1 and no. 2 singles, but Arlington came back to rack up five straight points.

Bob Fink won no. 3 singles by default, Lother Peistrup took no. 4 by a 6-3, 6-3 count, and Chuck Schwak gave the locals the lead with a 6-1, 6-0 win in no. 5.

The Arlington A team then won both doubles by default. Final score was Arlington 5, Berwyn 2.

The B team was most impressive, sweeping all seven points from its hapless opponents.

Victories in singles action were racked up, in order, by Jim Jakubiec (7-5, 6-3), Dave Milligan (6-2, 6-1), Harley Gates (6-3, 6-1), Bob Sir (6-1, 6-1), and Jim Roman (6-3, 6-2).

The no. 1 doubles unit of Jakubiec and Gates copped a 6-4, 6-2 decision, while the no. 2 tandem of Milligan and Bob Van Ee won by a 6-3, 6-1 count. The B team thus claimed a 7-0 whitewashing.

The Junior squad won a 5-0 victory by default.

A defeat for the Women's team prevented a perfect day for the local netters. The only winner was Audrey Cox by 6-2, 6-3 verdict as the women went down to a 4-1 defeat.

Meadowhill Track Scene of Nationals

Two Mount Prospect cyclers recorded third-place finishes in the action last Thursday (Aug. 11) at Northbrook's Meadowhill park race track.

Dan Jilek was third in the Senior Class C Half-Mile, and Jim Zuckermandel achieved similar status in the Senior Class B Half-Mile Final. Both are from Mount Prospect.

The races of Thursday were one of the final tuneups before the long-awaited National Finals, grand finale of the amateur bike racing season, on Aug. 19, 20, and 21.

Several of the riders will go on from that competition to Frankfort, Germany, to take part in the World Championships the following week.

The nationals are broken down into three days of racing. On Aug. 19 and 20, the races will be held at 8 p.m. (Those on the 20th will be televised live on channel 32, WFDL). On Sunday, Aug. 21, there will be a 125-mile road race, starting and finishing at Frontage and Sunset Roads. This race will start at 6 a.m.

Competing in the Nationals will be the state champs from 28 states. They should put on some exciting races on the new quarter-mile track. Lighting at the track is excellent and more than 6,000 persons are expected to attend each day of the nationals. It is likely that they will see many speed records broken.

3 in Top Ten

Local Golfers Place in Meet

Three area golfers made fine showings in the 39th Annual Midwest Amateur Golf Tournament which ended Saturday.

The meet was staged at Palos Country Club on the Waveland course in Lincoln Park.

Len Fiocca of Arlington Heights, Palatine High School golf coach who guided his linksmen to a downstate berth in the Illinois tourney this past spring, finished third in the Midwest field, just a single stroke behind runnerup Wayne Etherton (winner of this year's Chick Evans Tourney).

Only a bad third round, in which Fiocca carded an 80, kept him from contention for the top prize and spoiled his second-place hopes.

Fiocca recorded a 78-71-80-69 for a 298 total. This was nine strokes behind runaway winner Joe McDermott (runner-up in the Chick Evans Tourney) who, after a below-average first round, nearly made a joke of the meet.

Fiocca's home course is Arlington Country Club.

Just two strokes behind Fiocca in fourth place was Warren Luebcke, a Prospect High School grad who plays out of Rob Roy Glf club. Luebcke registered scored of 73, 76, 70, and 81 for a 300 total and was only three strokes off the pace entering the final round.

A third area golfer who finished in the top ten in the Midwest Tourney was Mike Spinello. An Arlington High School grad who like Luebcke plays out of Rob Roy, Spinello carded a 74-79-76-75 for a 304 finish and a four-way tie for seventh place.

Spinello was an outstanding golfer at Arlington during the mid-50's and appeared in the state high school tourney.

WARREN LUEBCKE

49ers Standout Prepped in Area

ONE OF THE best of those ever to play football for Palatine High School was singled out for some high plaudits in the 1966 edition of Street and Smith's Pro Football magazine.

To quote from the journal: "The San Francisco line is a source of joy. Tackle Len Rohde has been called the league's best by some of his opponents."

Rohde, now 28 years old, is in his seventh year in the National Football League, all with the 49ers. A whopping 6-4, 255 pounds, he's obviously grown up even more from the boy who was not only an outstanding football player, but heavyweight wrestling champion of Illinois 10 years ago.

Keefer's Now Leads Friday Night Loop

Keefer's Pharmacy and Bainbridge Apartments scored impressive victories which knocked Doyno Motors from the top spot in the Mount Prospect Friday Night League Standings.

Don Odbert, Augie Bonnuchhi and Bob Gits garnered all of Bainbridge's points as they defeated Doyno Motors, 6-2. The only points for the losers were registered by Roger Roggatz.

Taking advantage of Doyno's setback was Keefer's Pharmacy which moved into the league lead with their solid 8-2 defeat of Esquire Barber Shop. Druggist captain Gordon Stephen with teammates Dick Haden and G. Borgeson turned back the challenge of Joe Wylie, Chuck Vojta, and Walt Rutkowski. Ray Downing averted a washout for the Barbers with his defeat of Bill Mottweiler.

Two outstanding team efforts were turned in as the rapidly improving Kruse's Tavern set down Pete's Standard Service, 6.5-3.5. In other matches, the George S. May quartet startled Willie Fuel and Lumber with an 8-2 upset win, Arlington Camera was stunned 7.5-.5 by Mount Prospect State Bank, Clayton Courts turned aside FBK Realtors, 8-2, and Meeske's Supermarket topped Pro Sport Shop 6.5-2.5.

Rick Lindstrom and George Borgeson won low gross and low net honors, respectively. Birdies were scored by Joe Kubik, Jordan Italia, Bob Tesmer, E. Borgeson, Joe Wylie, Chuck Vokta, and Chet Spak.

TEAM STANDINGS:

Keefer's Pharmacy	75.1
Doyno Motors	73.1
Pro Sport Shop	67.5

Grid Issue at Arlington High

Football equipment will be issued next week in the weight room at Arlington High School.

Lettermen and seniors will draw their grid gear from 9 to 10 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 22.

Juniors will pick up their equipment from 10 a.m. to noon Monday, and sophomores are scheduled for 1:00 to 3:00 p.m.

Freshmen candidates should report from 9:00 to 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Underclassmen must be registered.

Practice will get under way at 9:00 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 24, with a squad meeting set for 7:30 that evening in the Little Theater.

Issue Gear On Monday at Prospect High

Equipment issue at Prospect High School will be held from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Monday, Aug. 22, for freshmen through seniors.

Candidates should report to the fieldhouse area.

Equipment will be issued upon completion of athletic registration. A physical card, insurance, and parent's permit are required. Boys must have a combination lock.

Late registrants will draw their equipment in the office of Athletic Director George Gattas.

Forest View Sets Times of Equipment Issue

Attention all Forest View High School football candidates.

Head coach Bob Scott announced this week the times set aside for the issue of equipment for the 1966 season.

Juniors and seniors will draw their gear from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 22, in the boys gymnasium.

Sophomores should report from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m .on Tuesday, Aug. 23, and freshmen will be given their equipment from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 24.

All candidates must have their physicals, insurance number, and a lock.

Practice officially opens at 8:02 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 24.

Fall Athletes Must Pay Fees

Boys in fall sports at Arlington High School, including incoming freshmen, should pay the required fees next Monday and Tuesday so that they may purchase insurance and have fee payment completed by the first day of practice.

Cross country and football candidates must have a parent's permit card and physical before participating in the opening workouts.

Rugby Club Trains For 1966 Campaign

Coach Bob Robinson of Arlington Heights and his North Shore Rugby Club will start training for the fall season on Saturday, Aug. 20, at Whittier Field in Waukegan.

Robinson is looking for a successful season in 1966. His leading point-scorer, Ron Seegers of Mount Prospect, will be in the lineup.

One problem to overcome will be the replacing of star forward Martin Shakespeare of Arlington Heights. Shakespeare is out of action for several weeks with a broken foot.

The North Shore Rugby Club draws its players from all over the north and northwest suburbs, and is one of four clubs in the Chicago area. Their fall schedule includes Cook County Rugby Club, Quad Cities, University of Chicago, University of Illinois, and Chicago Lions.

The team's initial contest will be against Cook County in Waukegan Sept. 18.

For the uninitiated, Rugby is a handling, body-contact sport played between two teams of 15 players each. There are some similarities to football and in fact, most of the North Shore team members have played football extensively.

Rugby is one of the fastest-growing team sports in the U.S.A. It is strictly amateur, but is inexpensive to play because very little equipment is needed.

The North Shore club welcomes potential players whether they have played Rugby or not. Newcomers are taught the rudiments of the game. The minimum age for prospective players is 20.

Coach Robinson plans to run an A team for the experts and a B squad for the novices. Anyone interested should call him for more details at 392-9180.

The days are drifting quickly from the warm greenery of late summer to the cool blaze of autumn, and that, of course, means a renewal of the hunting seasons.

Most lengths and limits have now been set by the Illinois conservation department, among them these:

Pheasant: Begins noon Friday, Nov. 11, and runs through Sunday, Dec. 11, with a daily bag limit of two and possession limit of four.

Partridge: Dates and limits same as for pheasant.

Quail: Begins noon Friday, Nov. 11, and runs through Saturday, Dec. 31, with a daily bag limit of eight and possession limit of 16.

Rabbit: Begins at sunrise Saturday, Nov. 19, and runs through Tuesday, Jan, 31, 1967, with a daily bag limit of five and possession limit of 10.

Squirrel: Northern zone (North of U.S. 36) begins sunrise Thursday, Sept. 1, and runs through Monday, Oct. 31; Southern zone began sunrise Monday, Aug. 1 and ends Saturday, Oct. 15; bag limit five and possession 10 in both.

Mourning dove: Begins Thursday, Sept. 1 at 1 p.m. and runs through Wednesday, Nov. 9, with a daily bag limit of 12 and possession limit of 24. The hours each day will be 1 p.m. CDT to sunset, unlike other game, which can be taken from sunrise to sunset, except for some opening days.

Deer: Shotgun season Nov. 18-20 and Dec. 9-11; Bow season Oct. 1 through Dec. 31, excepting the periods Nov. 16-20 and Dec. 6-12. The limit: one.

Teal: Special season running Sept. 17 through 25 for those with free federal permits, with a daily bag limit of four.

The seasons and the limits—it will be noted—are almost precisely the same as those of a year ago.

The seasons for ducks, geese and other waterfowl—which come under federal jurisdiction because they're interstate birds—are now being planned.

The advance word on them is good, with the Interior Department indicating there'll be an easing of last year's restrictive regulations. There is continuing evidence that ducks are making a comeback from last year's dismal numbers. In fact, says the department, the comeback has been remarkable, and with better conditions in the vital Northern prairie breeding grounds, it may continue to get better. Only the popular mallard is lagging a bit.

WISCONSIN'S hunting seasons have been put on the calendar for 1966. Among those most likely to interest hunters migrating to the Badger state:

—Pheasants: Oct. 22 through Nov. 27.

—Rabbits: Oct. 22 through Jan. 31.

—Squirrel: Oct. 1 through Jan. 31.

—Deer: General season Nov. 19 through Nov. 27; Apostle Islands Oct. 15 through Nov. 27; Menomenee County Oct. 15 through Dec. 31; Bow and arrow Sept. 24 through Nov. 15 and Dec. 3 through Dec. 31.

—Bear: General and bow and arrow seasons same as those for deer, but special early season runs from Sept. 10 through Sept. 25.

A TRAP AND skeet shooting bonanza—designed to make the gunning sports comparable to something like big-time golf—is being offered up by the Winchester gun people.

They're putting on this fall and winter their first Winchester National Claybird Tournament, a competition that has a booty including shotguns, swimming pools, motorcycles, and trips to Florida and London.

It's being operated through the Winchester franchise gun clubs, and there's the rub for local addicts. The one Winchester club in this area—the old Fieldale layout on Rt. 72 in Schaumburg Township—is no longer affiliated with the company, and the only one now operative in Illinois is the Greater Kankakee Shooting Center at Manteno.

Contestants—after turning over a $7.50 entry fee before Oct. 16—start the competition by shooting 100 targets each of skeet and trap. If they rank high, they go into regional competition, and from there—if they make it—to the nationals at Lake Wales, Fla., Dec. 10-11. The national finals—culminating a series of shoot-offs in which $121,400 worth of prizes will be handed out—will be carried on network television.

CANOEISTS ALSO have a competition coming up, an endurance race this Sunday to cap Chicago's Lake Front Festival. Open in six classes, the event is expected to draw at least 300 people from eight states.

It'll begin at 5 a.m. at the Great Lakes Naval Center in North Chicago and run to the 12th Street Beach, 35 miles south. The race—open to all amateur canoeists—is sponsored by the American Indian Center Canoe Club, and entry rules and forms can be obtained from President LeRoy Wesaw, 2209 N. Campbell, Chicago, telephone 278-8120.

Midget Football Clinic Slated

A football clinic sponsored by Prospect High School for coaches of the Mount Prospect Midget Football Association will be held this Saturday, Aug. 20, at 1:00 p.m. at Prospect High School.

Discussion groups will be conducted by the Prospect and Forest View high school coaching staffs.

All coaches affiliated with the midget football program are invited. They should report at the fieldhouse.

Issue Call for Grove Harriers

All boys interested in cross country at Elk Grove High School should report to the fieldhouse on Monday, Aug. 29, at 9:00 a.m.

Harrier candidates should bring their physical exam, fee receipt and running equipment.

Arlington 34 Points Back

Mount Prospect Wins Conference Swimming

Mount Prospect's tankers grabbed top honors last week, finishing 34 points ahead of second-place Arlington Heights in the Northern Illinois Swim Conference.

The Prospect swimmers collected 13 first places, which was one less than Arlington, but on the strength of better balance accumulated 238 points to Arlington Heights' 204.

The other Paddock area entries in the meet were Prospect Heights, which earned 172 points and fourth place, and Rolling Meadows, whose 17½ markers placed them 11th in the 12-team affair.

CONNIE FOSTER led Mount Prospect's assault with four of their 13 first-place finishes. Connie, who swam in the girls' 13-14 division, ruled the 100-yard free-style in :49.3, the 100-yard Individual Medley in 1:08.8, and the 50 Yard Butterfly in :30.6. In addition, she swam a leg on the winning 200-Yard Freestyle Relay quartet, which was clocked in 1:55.9.

Mount Prospect's balance was evident in that nine others notched first-place finishes besides Miss Foster and that made 13 firsts in all events.

Besides Connie, other blue ribbons were copped by Rich Hines (2), Gail Schlak (3), Doug Schlak, Paul Sigfusson, Jodie Lee Epstein, and Jeanne Pollard.

Joining Connie on the first-place relay team were Cathy Barale, Karen Sigfusson, and Chris Peterson.

Cathy Rowe and Marsha Kaipus matched Connie's performance, as each captured three firsts and swam on victorious relay teams.

CATHY WAS IN the Girls' 15-and-over division, in which she won the 100-Yard Freestyle (1:02.4), 100-Yard Individual Medley (1:09.5), and 50-Yard Butterfly (:29.8).

Marsha, in the girls' 11-12 division, was best in the 100-Yard Freestyle, 100-Yard Medley, and 50-Yard Backstroke.

Other firsts for Arlington were collected by Bonnie Kenny, Marylee Cronin, Steve Balow (3), Tom Rowe, Ed Laue, Fred Westdale, Kathy Dalton (3), and Barb Raasch.

For Prospect Heights, firsts were garnered by Andy Sue Hibbs, Geisler, Takata, Lesniak, Mike Salerno, Flip Hibbs, and Wendell.

Rolling Meadows failed to notch a first-place finish.

Rooney Triumphs Twice

Lions Split Four Clashes; Luzinski's Stick Potent

With touted Greg Luzinski back from a vacation and ripping the ball as effectively as ever and Brian Rooney and Frank Patzke also fashioning productive weeks with the lumber, the Arlington Heights Lions broke even in four games last week.

Luzinski picked up where he had left off two weeks earlier when he had been the Lions' most valuable piece of property with a bat in his hands. The big Notre Dame High School junior rapped five hits in ten tries, including two triples, for a fancy .500 average in the three games in which he played.

Rooney's and Patzke's marks were more modest but still-impressive .384's for the week's work. Each picked up five hits in 13 at-bats, playing all four games.

ROONEY WAS the slab victor in both of the locals' successes, and Patzke showed some timely hitting, batting in five runs and scoring two others.

Tom Epperly, seeing brief action for the first time since the summer of 1965 when he broke his leg, helped with two hits in six trips and played two games. Epperly must now undergo another operation and will not play for the remainder of the season. He was a key cog last year when St. Viator was state runner-up in the high school tourney.

Saturday the Lions ventured to Winnemac Park in Chicago for a league clash against the Trojans and were turned back, 5-2.

A THREE-RUN first against starter John Brawley gave the host Trojans an edge they never lost. They padded the lead with single runs in the fourth and sixth.

The Lions pushed across a single tally in the third on a walk to John Wendell, single by Pat Loughman, groundout by Tom Collins and sacrifice fly by Frank Patzke.

Coach Larry Nomellini's crew scored a consolation run in the seventh after the game was all but iced. A leadoff triple by Dan Miksta and another sacrifice fly by Bill Wasilewski was responsible.

BRAWLEY went all the way on the hill, giving up seven hits and five walks. Wendell led the offense with a 2-for-2 day, getting on base four times.

The Lions' other loss of the week also came in a league tussle, this one Friday against the Spartans.

The Arlington Heights nine turned in a fine effort against the formidable Spartans but still lost a close 5-3 verdict behind the six-hit pitching of Tom Collins.

AFTER putting themselves in a hole by spotting the hosts four runs in the second stanza, the Lions clawed back with a run in the third and two in the fourth.

Epperly started the third with a one-bagger. After a pop out and fielder's choice, a marker was forced in on a successive free passes to Brawley, Loughman, and Rooney.

The two-run rally in the fourth started with one out when Collins was safe at first on a dropped third strike. Epperly walked and Luzinski flied out, but Patzke doubled home two tallies.

PATZKE was the stick leader in the five-inning clash with two hits in three trips, a run scored, and two more batted in.

The Lions emerged triumphant in the only non-league argument of the week, downing Dundee No. 2 8-3 after coming from behind.

Rooney had a three-hit shutout going through the first four innings. He finally allowed a total of seven hits but had more than enough support from his teammates as the St. Viator boys wiped out a 3-1 deficit with a seven-run sixth.

ROONEY recorded seven strikeouts against just one walk in the route victory.

The host Lions drew first blood in the second inning. Rooney ripped a one-out triple and scored on a groundout by Miksta.

Dundee put up a two-spot in the fifth and added another marker in the sixth, but their lead was short-lived as the Lions' seven-run explosion in the sixth settled the issue.

THE OUTBURST started with successive singles by Epperly, Luzinski, and Patzke. Rooney then walked to load the bases and Miksta singled home runs no. 2 and 3 of the inning.

Wasilewski was hit by a pitch, jamming the sacks again, and a walk to Alyward forced in another run with still nobody out.

Loughman fanned for the first out, finally, but Nomellini coaxed another free pass and another marker. Epperly reached on a fielder's choice for the second out before singles by Luzinski and Patzke, their second hits of the inning, did the rest of the damage.

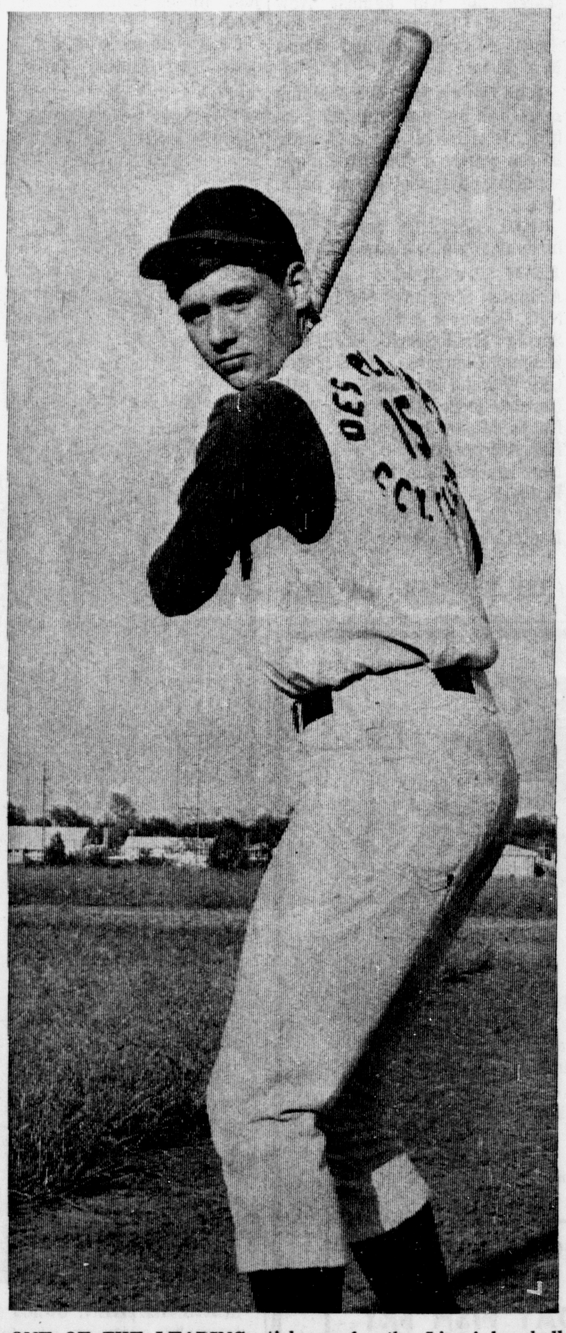
THE LOCALS' only league win of the week came last Tuesday (Aug. 9) when masterful three-hitter by Rooney was good for a 3-1 success over the Barons at Winnemac Park.

The contest was knotted, 1-1, until the bottom of the sixth when Rooney decided to win his own game. A walk to Brawley, an error, and big two-run single by Rooney were decisive.

The Lions had struck in the initial frame for a 1-0 lead until the fourth. The first-inning talley was effected by a two-out triple by Luzinski and a single by Patzke.

After the week's 2-2 split, the St. Viator boys stand 31-37-1 for the summer.

The Lions are idle this week due to a week's absence of Coach Nomellini who is at Ray Meyer's basketball camp.



ONE OF THE LEADING stickmen for the Lions' baseball crew this year has been Frank Patzke. Frank had five hits in 13 trips for an impressive .384 average in the Lions' four games last week and also batted in five runs, getting some clutch hits and aiding his team to a 2-2 split.

Play Starts In Softball Tournament

The River Trails Park District softball tournament got underway last week with the four top teams of the league participating.

In the first game of the single elimination, the Lakers looked strong in beating Grove Dodge 28-13 with a 31-hit attack. Sunday, the Lakers played the Cubs and lost 17-2. Shaw hit two home runs and Weinberg hit one for the Cubs, while Goone held the Lakers to six hits.

Woodview upset the league champions Littlefuse team in an exciting 11-8 win. The game was tied going into the sixth inning when Littelfuse made four errors and allowed four runs to score. Woodview and the Cubs will meet this Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Feehanville School field to play for the Tournament Championship.

Tourney Jitters?

Thunderbird's Lead Dwindles

Apparently succumbing to a bad attack of Paddock Tournament tremors, Thunderbird Bowl last week suffered their second successive defeat, this time to fifth-place Busse-Biermann Hardware Co., 6½-3½.

The defeat, coupled with a pair of high point victories by the second and third place teams, narrowed Thunderbird's point margin from a once commanding 10 points to an insignificant 1½ points and with only two nights of play remaining, leadership of the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf League once again is up for grabs.

In second place, only 1½ points out was Licht's Paint Store after shellacking Moler's Barber Shop 8-2. At 1-5/6 points back after eradicating Kersting's Garden Center by a similar 8-2 score was Kruse's Tavern and Restaurant.

IN FOURTH place and still a very definite threat was Mt. Prospect Electric Constr. Co. who could not improve on a 5-5 tie with Kirchhoff Insurance.

Keefer's Pharmacy meanwhile bowed to Wille Lumber and Fuel 6½-3½, enabling Wille's to move up a notch in the standings.

Finally, in the battle for the basement, Illinois Range topped Carter Music Shop 6½-3½ giving the Rangers half a point advantage over Carter's in total points won and enabling them to vacate the cellar spot they had held since May 10.

Low shooters for the night were Don Snyder 38 and Ken Shipley 39. Birdies were reported by J. Driscoll No. 9, P. Danna No. 10, R. Lee No. 11 and 13, E. Ayres and D. Snyder No. 13, D. Elliott No. 15 and E. Hendricks and Red Barrow No. 18.

Front-Runners Are Upset in Rob Roy

C. P. Floor and Wall Coverings scored the biggest upset of the season in the Rob Roy Tuesday night Golf League, whitewashing the league-leading Rodewald Dairy team, 7-0.

Vince Hoffman, playing in the No. 2 spot for the C. P. squad, which moved from ninth to seventh with the win, led the charge on the high-flying Dairymen. His 40-6-34 was good for two of his team's seven points.

Prospect Heights Pharmacy blew a golden opportunity to gain on the pace-setters as they could garner just two points in a 5-2 loss to Stone Perforating. Burt Casteel of Stone Perforating flashed his old form of a couple of years ago when he carded a 37-4-33 to tie his opponent Bob Peterson of the Pharmacy team for league low net. Peterson had a 39-6-33.

L-Nor Cleaners managed to gain slightly in the standings when they got by Gunnell's Restaurant, 4-3. George Noverini was the big gun for L-Nor as he shot a neat 39-3-36 for two of the winners' four points.

Clancy Kelly of Girder Process tied Burt Casteel for league low gross honors with a 37-2-35.

Joe Bodor of Webber Paint turned in the shot of the night when he canned a 20-yard approach on the 4th hole for a birdie two.

Bob Cook led the alternates with a 39-3-36.

Steelers Win; Still Rule Arlington Twilight Golf

Arlington Structural Steel continued their winning ways in the Arlington Heights Twilight Golf League with an 8-4 win over Lauterburg & Oehler.

Hot on the pace National Conveyer and Supply moved up to second place by whipping City Welding Sales 8½-3½.

Springs Shell Service suffered another loss 6½-5½ with Harris Pharmacy the victor. However they stayed in the running, only 3½ points out.

Heights Cleaners improved their standing by defeating Crest Heating and Air Conditioning 7½ to 4½. In other matches Horcher Decorators scored big win against New Emerald Cleaners 9½-2½ and Koops Mustard downed Bruns Real Estate 8-4.

John Coffey with City Welding scored an eagle on the 295 yard fifth. John hit his drive to within ten yards of the green and sunk his pitch shot for an eagle two.

Gene Connerty scored two birds in route to his win.

New Pace-Setter

Twilight Loop Chase Frantic

Angelo Karras carded an unbelievable eagle two on the 13th hole at Mount Prospect Country Club, highlighting last week's action in the Monday Twilight League.

The other big news was J & B Village Market, which became the fourth team in the last four weeks to grab first place in the frantic, red-hot race for top honors.

It was a disasterous week for George Busse Realtors, who will be the league's representative in the Paddock Tournament this Sunday. The Realtors tumbled from first all the way down to fourth place as they could muster only 2½ points.

ANNEN & BUSSE Realtors, after having skidded from the top spot to third, began a comeback. Their seven points last week moved them back up to second, just a point and a half off the pace.

Morton Pontiac also continued to move up, as their 7½-point gain lifted them to third place, just three points behind the leaders.

George Busse is 4½ points out and Juhn Mufich Buick remained within striking distance after picking up a healthy nine points last week. The Buick unit is only six points out of first.

Besides Karras with his eagle, five others distinguished themselves with birdies. They were Dick Fox on the 3rd, Bob Gewecke on the 7th, Bob Kramer on the 8th, Roy Stobe on the 12th, and Howard Bersted on the 13th.

Karras notched low gross honors with a 37, while a 39-9-30 score by Ken Willert was good for low net.

The top three point leaders are Art Peterson and Paul Seleski with 18 totals and Bob Kramer with 17.

MARGARETHEN, owned by Ernest H. Woods, is expected to make a strong run for first place money Saturday in the $50,000 added Arlington Matron Handicap. She has won a pair of stakes at Arlington this season, taking the first division of the Modesty June 8 and the second division of the Beverly July 16. Jimmy Nichols, shown here on the four-year-old, will ride Margarethen.

In Second Half

Kunkel's Holds Edge in YMCA

With only four nights remaining in the 1966 season, Kunkel Realtors have an impressive lead in the YMCA Golf Twilight League. The Realtors three-point advantage will be tough to overcome by the three teams still in contention.

Tied for second, three points off the pace, are Allen's Store for Men and Louie's Barber Shop. Mount Prospect State Bank is just a half-point behind them.

The first half of the season has already been won by Coloramic Tile, which seems to be out of contention to repeat. Coloramic will play the winner of the second half for the Winner's Trophy currently held by last year's winner, Mount Prospect State Bank.

LAST WEEK'S action was almost rained out, but the "true blue" members of the league who did show up — about two-thirds of the total membership — were blessed with parting clouds and relatively good golfing conditions.

Putting on some of the greens required "almost" a full swing, but those who finally found the formula came up with some fine putting. Though no records were broken, six birdies were scored which, considering a full day of rain, was not bad.

Sub-par shooters included Dick Dixon on the 11th, Art King on the 16th, Milt Koehler and Max Pemoller on the third, and Ed Nixon on the ninth.

Ed Nixon won low gross honors with a 37, followed by Bart Kenny and Ed Then with 40's and Bob Frink, Dick Dixon, and Max Pemoller with 41's. Low net leaders were Jack Barry and Ed Nixon (34), Milt Koehler, Harold Schlichting and Bart Kenny (35).

3rd-Place Heaters Upset Pace-Setters

With only two more nights of play remaining in the Arlington V.F.W. golf league Glidden Country Store held first place Monday night despite losing the match with the fast-charging Active Heating team 13-11.

Second place Kehe, Foy & Snelten failed to take advantage as they lost 16-8 to L'Nor Cleaners.

Keoelling & Leach, now in fourth place, kept their hopes alive by beating last-place Heights Wall & Floor 16-8; Pitzen Cartage trounced Annen & Busse 22-2 and moved into tenth place while the Cake Box jumped two notches to seventh place as they whipped Nebel Insurance 20-4.

General Electric, still entertaining thoughts of capturing one of the top three positions, moved within 13 points of third place by defeating Canopy Beauty Salon 16-8.

Stew Sage had another good night as he fired a 36 for low gross while Ernie Dettinger easily walked off with low net honors by carding a 45-16-29.

Jim's Service Near Top in St. Colette

Jim's Service pounded to the front in the St. Colette Golf League last Wednesday. Under rain-laden skies the All-Star team of Tom Schramm, Ed Cremerius and Bill Ahrens whipped their opponents, Chet Mrozek, Bill Hickey and Ernie Wonders.

John Tofilon lost a half-point in a disputed play on the 18th hole. Even the alternates helped Jim's cause as Larry Tompkins carded a sensational 43-12-31 low net.

Jim's opponents, Clark Brass, conceded that they had met the strongest team in the league in this match.

Beverly Lanes came alive with a 5-1 victory over Mitchell-DeBurring. Jim Houldsworth whipped Rod Peltier, Bill Mueller crushed Louie Pryby and Ray Harles clobbered Syl Seick. Joe Smrz saved the day for Mitchell when he edged past Herb Nauman. Harles picked up the low net with a 44-9-35.

Harris Steel stopped Quadriga's drive by setting them down 3½-2½.

"Fantastic" Willie Austin handed John Hernandez a resounding defeat in the first five holes. Al Austin still showed the effects of his recent injury by letting Oscar Dolleslager squeeze past him. Russ Niesen tied his match against Bob Ulbrich and Don Larson downed Dick Ulbrich.

F. J. Die Mold had an easy time with Imprinting Service. Apparently some of the Imprinters were afraid they would melt in the rain as only three men showed up to play matches. Bob Wirth whipped John O'Connor and Perry Camodeca downed Ray Ganczak. Phil Pryby won over Gene Folkes.

Quadriga Is Champ, In Paddock Field

Quadriga Mfg. Co. reached the top spot in the St. Colette Golf League when they attained enough points to represent the league in the Paddock tournament. All of the other teams were happy to see Quadriga gain the honor this year as most of that teams members most of that team's members are due for retirement after Quadriga's number one golfer turned in an unbelieveable score of par 36 with an ice-cold putter. John Hernandez recorded one four-putt green and two of them needed three putts, and he still came in with an even par.

Beverly Lanes picked up an easy 4½ points by whipping F. J. Die Mold. Herb Naumann downed Perry Camodeca and Al Medina crushed Elmer Houlberg. Bill Mueller had an off-night, played a miserable round but still was able to tie Phil Jarczyk. Only Phil Pryby's win over Ray Harles saved F. J. from a complete shutout.

Clark Brass had an easy mark in Harris Steel. Chet Mrozek, Bill Hickey and Ernie Wonders found an easy time with Bill Austin, Bill Rademacher and Russ Niesen. Mrozek and Bryant shared the low net honors. Ted and Al Austin both injured during the past week and unable to play are expected to be back in good shape for next week.

Jim's Service gave golf lessons to Mitchell DeBurring. Ed Cremerius and Larry Tompkins clobbered Syl Seick and Irv Alquist, while Jim Niesen squeezed a tie out of Rod Peltier Alternate Tom Schramm picked up the low individual net with a 39-6-33 for an additional point.

Auto Team Sweeps to Keep Lead

Portage auto parts again swept all five points from their opponents, remaining in first place by a two-point margin over Joy-Di and five points ahead of Wheeling Lumber.

Portage is ready for the upcoming Paddock Tourney to be held at Golden Acres this Sunday, Aug. 21. Captain Russell Knight says this is the best-balanced team he has had the priviledge of leading.

Al Snell, an alternate replacing Fred Jaumans, is a capable substitute and Maurie Weil and Paul Forslund are steady players who can shoot their handicap or better.

As usual, the front nine last week was reluctant to yield a birdie, but Jim Durand still had one of his best rounds of the season, firing a neat 35. He picked up two birds—on the 1st and 8th holes.

Bob Helfers was the only shooter other than Durand to bust par. His birdie came on the 4th.

Durand enjoyed a banner day, copping both low gross honors (with a 35) and low net (30).

REVENUE ARTICLE AMENDMENT

ARTICLE IX

Section 1. The General Assembly shall provide such revenue as may be needful by levying taxes, or by authorizing the levy of taxes, in accordance with the provisions of this Article.

Real estate shall constitute one class except as provided in this Article.

The General Assembly may classify tangible personal property into the following classes: (a) household goods and personal effects not used in the production of income, (b) business and farm inventories, including grain, livestock and poultry, (c) motor vehicles, ships, boats and aircraft, and (d) all other tangible personal property; and may abolish property taxes on any or all classes thereof.

Subject to the provisions of the succeeding paragraph of this Section, any tax upon real estate and personal property shall be levied by valuation, such value to be ascertained by some person or persons to be elected or appointed in such manner as the General Assembly shall direct and not otherwise.

The General Assembly may levy a use, privilege or franchise tax, uniform throughout the State, upon ships, boats and aircraft, and upon motor vehicles, or upon any class or classes thereof, in lieu of all property taxes thereon, provided, however, that the proceeds of any tax so levied shall be distributed to local taxing districts and for such purposes as the General Assembly may direct by general law.

The General Assembly may classify intangible property for taxation and may abolish taxation of any or all classes thereof. Classifications of intangible personal property shall be reasonable and based solely upon the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the amount or number owned, and each class may be taxed in such manner as the General Assembly may direct by general law, uniform as to the class upon which it operates. Intangible personal property not employed in carrying on any business by the owner shall be deemed to be located at the domicile of the owner for purposes of taxation; and if such intangible personal property is held in trust, the owner for the purpose of taxation shall be deemed to be the person or persons, according to their respective interests, who have the present beneficial enjoyment of such property. However, intangible personal property employed in or resulting from carrying on a trade or business outside the state shall be deemed to be located outside the state for the purposes of taxation, notwithstanding that the domicile of the owner thereof is within the state.

No class of personal property in any county shall be assessed for the taxation at a percentage of actual value greater than the percentage used in assessing real property, other than in Cook county.

Section 2. The General Assembly may levy or authorize the levy of occupation, sales, use, inheritance, privilege and franchise taxes, uniform as to the objects and subjects taxed within the jurisdiction of the authority levying the tax and uniform as to exemptions granted from any such tax. Any such tax on or measured by gross receipts shall be nongraduated and shall be imposed uniformly upon persons and corporations.

The General Assembly may levy a tax on or measured by income, the rate of which tax shall be nongraduated and shall be levied only by the State uniformly upon corporation and persons with deductions, exemptions and credits not to exceed those permitted from time to time under the Internal Revenue Code of the United States and with credits for taxes and fees as the General Assembly may direct by general law and shall not exceed the rate of 3% unless and until the question whether such a tax should be levied at a rate exceeding 3%, including the maximum rate of tax which might be so levied, has been submitted as a proposition at a general election to the people of the state and has received a majority of the votes cast at such election for or against such proposition. No such tax shall exceed in any event the rate of 6%. Except as provided in this paragraph, the General Assembly shall neither levy nor authorize the levy of any tax on or measured by income. If an income tax is levied, the General Assembly shall fix a date, not later than 4 years after the effective date of the Act levying such tax, after which no ad valorem tax shall be levied on any tangible or intangible personal poperty; and the proceeds of not less than 1% of any such income tax shall be distributed to local taxing districts and for such purposes as the General Assembly may direct by general law.

Section 3. The property, both real and personal, and the income of the state, counties and other municipal corporations, intangible personal property and the income therefrom held for the purpose of providing pension or welfare benefits, and such other property or part thereof as may be used exclusively, as defined by general law, for agricultural or horticultural societies, school, religious, cemetery or charitable purposes, and the income of organizations organized for such purposes, may be exempted from taxation, but such exemption shall be only by general law. In the assessment of real estate encumbered by public easement, any depreciation occasioned by such easement may be deducted in the valuation of such property.

Section 9. The General Assembly may vest the corporate authorities of cities, towns and villages, with power to make local improvements by special assessment or by special taxation of contiguous property, or otherwise. For all other corporate purposes, all municipal corporations may be vested with authority to assess and collect taxes, but such taxes shall be uniform, in respect to persons and property, within the jurisdiction of the body imposing the same, except as otherwise authorized by Sections 1 and 2 of this Article.

Section 10. The General Assembly shall not impose taxes upon municipal corporations, or the inhabitants or property thereof, for corporate purposes, but shall require the corporate authorities to levy taxes for the payment of debts contracted under authority of law. Private property shall not be liable to be taken or sold for the payment of the corporate debts of a municipal corporation. The General Assembly may distribute in whole or in part, the proceeds of any tax levied by the state to such local governments and for such purposes as it may direct by general law.

Section 12. No county, city, township, school district, or other municipal corporation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding 5% or in the case of school districts maintaining grades 1 through 12 exceeding 10%, on the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. Any county, city, school district, or other municipal corporation, incurring any indebtedness as aforesaid, shall before, or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt, as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within 20 years from the time of contracting the same. In the event the tax on all personal property is abolished, the foregoing limitations of 5% and 10% shall be increased to 6% and 12%, respectively.

Section 13. Any classification of real property for purposes of taxation in effect in the County of Cook on January 1, 1965, shall continue in effect unless modified as hereinafter provided.

The County Assessor of Cook County may abolish existing classes, and may create new and additional classes as may be reasonable and equitable; but no property shall, by reason of the creation of a new or additional class or by the abolition of any existing class, be placed in a class assessed at a higher percentage of actual value than the class in which such property was previously assessed.

The County Assessor of Cook County may change the level of assessment of any class of real property provided that the difference between the percentage of actual value used in the County of Cook for taxation of the lowest taxed class of real property and the percentage of actual value used in the assessment for taxation of any other class of real property is not greater than the difference in effect on January 1, 1965.

The substance of procedures in effect on January 1, 1965, with respect to real property assessed for taxation by the State of Illinois shall continue in effect without modification.

Any person or corporation aggrieved by any violation of this Section shall be entitled to appropriate relief at law or in equity.

The classification of real property herein provided for may be abolished by a vote of registered voters of Cook County in the following manner. The county board of such county shall, upon petition signed by 33% of the registered voters in the county, cause a proposition for the abolition of such classification of real property, to be submitted to the registered voters of the county at a general election or at a special election called for such purpose. If two-thirds of all of the registered voters of such county vote affirmatively upon the proposition, then such classification shall thereupon be abandoned.

SCHEDULE

Paragraph 1. This Amendment of Article IX, if adopted, shall become effective on July 1, 1967, hereinafter called the "Effective Date." After the adoption of this Amendment of Article IX, the General Assembly shall enact such laws and make such appropriations as may be necessary or proper to give effect to its provisions.

Paragraph 2. All laws in force on the Effective Date of this Amendment of Article IX and consistent therewith shall remain in full force and effect until amended or repealed by the General Assembly. All laws in force on the Effective Date of this Amendment of Article IX and inconsistent therewith, unless sooner repealed or amended to conform with this Amendment, shall remain in full force and effect until July 1, 1968.

Paragraph 3. All fines, taxes, penalties and forfeitures levied, due or owing prior to the Effective Date of this Amendment of Article IX shall continue to be as valid as if this Amendment had not been adopted.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 12 AND 13 OF ARTICLE IX

(Revenue Article)

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT

This Amendment would:

a. Make no change in the present manner of taxing real estate.

b. Permit various kinds of personal property to be taxed at different rates and also permit the elimination of taxes on any or all types of personal property, for example, household goods and personal effects.

Permit the legislature to abolish the present retailers' occupation tax and use tax, and replace them with a true sales tax, under which such items as food and medicine could then be exempted.

Limit any income tax, if enacted, to a maximum of 3%, unless the people at a later election vote to increase the limit, but even then, not beyond 6%. If an income tax were adopted, all personal property taxes would be abolished. Further, the proceeds of at least the first 1% rate of income tax, if enacted, shall be distributed to local governments to replace the revenue from the personal property tax.

c. Equalize the bonding power of school districts.

"Place an X in the blank square opposite "Yes" or "No" to indicate your choice."

	YES	For the proposed Amendment to Sections 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 12 and 13 of ARTICLE IX (REVENUE ARTICLE).
	NO

COUNTY OFFICERS' RE-ELECTION AMENDMENT

ARTICLE X

Section 8. In each county there shall be elected the following County Officers at the general election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November A.D. 1966, a County Clerk, Sheriff and Treasurer and at the election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November A.D. 1968, a Coroner. Unless a method of selection by the Judges is provided by law, at the election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November A.D. 1968, a Clerk of the Circuit Court shall be elected. The County Clerk may be ex-officio Recorder of Deeds, except in counties having 60,000 and more inhabitants, in which counties a Recorder of Deeds shall be elected at the general election in 1968. Each of said officers shall enter upon the duties of his office, respectively on the first Monday of December, after his election, and they shall hold their respective offices for the term of four years, and until their successors are elected or selected and qualified.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article X will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 8 OF ARTICLE X

(County Officers' Re-Election)

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT

The purpose of the amendment is to allow county sheriffs and county treasurers to run for re-election and succeed themselves in office, now prohibited by the Illinois Constitution. The amendment will place county sheriffs and county treasurers under the same elective process as other county officers. This amendment further clarifies the method of election or selection of circuit court clerks.

"Place an X in the blank square opposite "Yes" or "No" to indicate your choice."

	YES	For the proposed Amendment to Section 8 of ARTICLE X of the Constitution (County Officers' Re-election).

An Ordinance

AMENDING THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

SECTION ONE: Section 3.2-80 of the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Arlington Heights, adopted December 21, 1959, as amended, which section defines "lot area measurement" is hereby amended by adding thereto the following paragraphs:

"For the purpose of calculating the lot area per dwelling unit requirements of a multiple-family planned development when such planned development is bounded on at least two (2) sides by streets, at least twenty per cent (20%) of the total land area within the tract designated for multiple-family planned development shall be deducted from the square foot area to be divided for determining the maximum number of permitted dwelling units. Said portion of the area may be dedicated for public ways in accordance with the plan for development; provided that any area originally part of the tract designated for multiple-family planned development which has previously been dedicated for street purposes shall be included within the computation of the minimum twenty per cent (20%) requirement."

SECTION TWO: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication in the manner provided by law.

Spotlight Playground Volunteers

Volunteer Junior Leaders at the five organized playgrounds in Palatine are recipients of this week's "Spotlight on Youth" awards presented by the Township Youth Committee.

These teen boys and girls lend a hand in many ways. Their duties include care and checking of equipment and helping the younger children in all areas of recreation and crafts. They also act as group leaders during special events such as a rodeo, track meet, hockey tournament, boat regatta, and contests of all kinds.

Mrs. Dorothy Ortman, supervisor of the Park District playgrounds, commented, "These youngsters are real jewels. Their help and enthusiasm have contributed a great deal to our program. We hope they'll be with us again next year."

The 19 receiving the awards for volunteer service to the community are Sherrie Newel, 22 E. Comfort Lane; Jackie Kohler 20 S. Greenwood; Jane Gavigan, 258 N. Schubert; Kim Abbott, 32 S. Greenwood; Barbie McDaniels, 601 Bennett; Kate and Mig Groves, 649 Bennett; Phil and Greg Deger, 133 W. Hellen Road; Karen Magnus, 139 S. Ash; Karen Stewart, 220 S. Greeley; Jim Hanks, 250 S. Bothwell; Susan McWilliams, 343 N. Babcock; Betsy Koenig, 235 Richards; Kristy Jones, 1405 Gloria; Ann Marie Walters, 907 E. Slayton; Debbie Dramer, 506 N. Williams; and Carol and Michele Minor, 2145 E. Plate, all of Palatine. (P

Push Anti-County Zoning Measure

Arlington Heights officials Monday night took further steps to end county zoning of land within 1.5 miles of a village's limits.

John F. White, chairman of the village board's legal committee, reported that a resolution, formalizing the statement made by Village Pres. John G. Woods at the July 5 board meeting, had been drafted and sent to the Illinois state legislature.

WOODS' recommendation came after Cook County rezoned the 32-acre Gosch tract (located between Central and Kirchoff roads) from R-4 (single family) to R-6 (multiple family).

Woods at that time asked that a resolution be sent to legislators, petitioning them to "take from the county board of Cook County the right to zone property within 1.5 miles of corporate limits of any municipality and further extend the zoning power of municipalities to the area covered by their subdivision control powers."

White said recent Cook County action rezoning five acres of land adjacent to Randhurst shopping center and owned by J. M. Brickman Mid-West Corp. has "strengthened" the legal committee's conviction that legislation is needed. (A

Mrs. Trimble to Judge Pet Show

Mrs. Irene Trimble, 77 E. Fairfax, Palatine, will be a judge for the Children's Pet Show Sept. 3, sponsored by St. John's Country Fair in Streamwood.

The show, to begin at 4 and run until about 6:30 p.m., is open to all northwest suburban children, age five and older. It is to be on the grounds of St. John the Evangelist School, at Parkside Circle and Park Blvd. in Streamwood.

MRS. TRIMBLE has been a breeder and exhibitor of fine poodle and saluki dogs. She and her husband, Bruce, also raise rare Abyssinian cats, considered to be the oldest of domestic breeds.

Mrs. Trimble will be one of the judges to award trophies and rosettes in all age group classes, as well as special prizes for costume, birds, reptiles, fat cat and spotted dog. Every entry will be presented with a memento of the occasion.

ENTRIES SHOULD be sent to Patricia Hallahan, entry clerk, of 426 Beaver Dr., Streamwood, prior to Aug. 31. Entries should include the child's name, address, phone number, age, type of pet and pet's name.

Registration fee is 25 cents.

Long Grove Trustees OK Vacation of Prairie Wind Road

Long Grove trustees at the Aug. 9 meeting passed an ordinance vacating Prairie Wind road. The decision, made by roll call vote, marked the end of a 10-year two-way controversy among trustees and Prairie Wind residents. Trustees also voted to turn over a $1500 deposit held by the village to those who will maintain the Prairie Wind Road as a private thoroughfare.

Reporting on road and bridge repair, Trustee Johnson stated work on Buffalo Creek bridge is proceeding in spite of repeated vandalism. Johnson also stated that a letter to the state authorities has been sent requesting that lights be installed at Gilmer Road and Route 53. It was also agreed to continue Long Grove's plea to the state asking to lower the speed limit on Route 53.

MORE DEFINITE developments regarding the Lincolnshire rezoning issue near the Stevenson High School area will come up in September, it was mentioned. Likewise, all seems to be quiet regarding building plans of the General American Realty Co. and the proposal as introduced by Bert Wild.

Appearing as spokesman for Mardan Woods, Gilbert Smith asked that the village of Long Grove pay the complete cost of all ditching in both the Woods and Mardan Estates. He spoke unfavorably of Mardan Estates' offer to pay half its ditching cost, referring to such a practice as an illegal precedent. "If Mardan Estates wants to be generous, let it make a donation to the village, but not label it for specific use," said Gilbert Smith.

President Coffin appealed to both Mardan Woods and Estates residents to help keep the ditches from blocking up.

While voters in the Aptakisic-Tripp Elementary School Dist. 102 are getting set for the Aug. 27 referendum to approve or reject the educational tax rate increase and this area, along with the rest of Lake County, weighs the subject of a junior college, there are also summer activities of a lighter tempo.

ON AUG. 25, the 24 women who have been meeting Thursday mornings at Sportsmen's Country Club for 18 holes of golf will officially end their season's play. As members of the Newcomer's League they, along with their husbands, will gather for a dinner Aug. 27 at Uncle Andy's Cow Palace, Palatine. Event will begin at 8 p.m. with a presentation of awards to take place that evening. Chairman Mrs. Warren Pankau says next year's golf committee will be announced at that time. Reservations are to be made with her no later than the 24th.

Relaxation coming up for our Nags is a weekend of fishing and golf at Elkhorn, Wis., combined with a stay at the Sterlingworth Motel. Scheduled for Oct. 7, 8 and 9, the holiday looks to be timed so that participants may reap the benefits of the autumn foliage. Those wishing to be in on the fun are to call Mrs. Clifford Marx. Heading the group's activities this year are the Harry Keeleys and the Clifford Marxes.

JENI JOHNSON left Tuesday for Strassbourg, three miles within the border of France, where she'll spend her junior year attending the University of Strassbourg. Flying from O'Hare to New York, Jeni will spend four days there before boarding a student boat, the Italian liner Aurelia for the journey overseas, the group planning to go as far as Le Havre. A three-day stay in Paris is scheduled. Also among the group of students making the trip and engaging in the year's study is former Long Grover Anita Briggs who has been attending Florida Presbyterian College.

When Mrs. Alida Trumbull had volunteered to spend the afternoon of Aug. 9 sewing cancer dressings as one of a women's group, she left home with needle and thread and returned hours later with a load of birthday cards. Invited to Mrs. Bessie Geest's home to help fill an SOS hospital quota, the honoree was pleasantly startled with a birthday song, as she and her 10 friends sat down to a potluck luncheon. A festive angel food, as only Bessie Geest bakes them, highlighted the table. The entree was fried chicken, the honored one's favorite. After Mrs. Trumbull read her cards and acknowledged the remembrances of her 91st birthday, the group spent the afternoon catching up on the sewing quota.

ROBERT GADKE, 75, a longtime resident of the Checker Road area, died Aug. 10 in Condell Hospital, following a period of steadily decreasing health. Services were held Saturday at Long Grove Church, with burial at the local cemetery.

Always a lover of the soil, his cattle and crops, he kept up a lively interest until the very end in farmyard activities as well as those in the nation, even though in late years most of what he knew of the outside world had to be learned from his rocking chair. Our sympathies to Elden, Ruth and his grandsons, Richard and Raymond.

Pre-nuptial momentum mounts this week at the Orville Helds', as preparations are in the final stage for Saturday's wedding in which Joan Held will become the bride of Larry Tidrick of Evanston. Because of her many fond past remembrances, the bride has asked that the Rev. Alfred Williams officiate at the ceremony at Long Grove Church.

A TRANSPARENT umbrella decorated with pink streamers served as the container for Joan Held's gifts at the linen shower which Mrs. Frank Hurley gave Aug. 7. Fifteen friends were invited to the afternoon lunch eon occasion.

A wedding was on the social calendar for the Martin Wulffs Aug. 6. They and Muriel's parents, the Arthur Malms of Half Day, attended the marriage of Miss Sharon Peterson to Carl Lamp Jr. at a near north side church.

Driving to Deerfield on Wednesday of last week, the Martin Wulffs were dinner guests of relatives, the Allen Danners, it being a birthday event for the man of the house. On Friday Martin and Muriel and Palatine friends made it a foursome for fish at the Moose Lodge in Elgin.

Mrs. Warren Pankau's aunt, Miss Gertrud Bayless, a Californian and one time missionary, was a recent vacationer at the Warren Pankaus' of Long Grove Country Club Estates. The visitor spent 21 years in China and four in India.

FROM WINTER PARK, Fla., came Mrs. Clifford Marx's sister and husband, the K. W. Osbornes, to visit here; also keeping the days lively have been their daughter and family, the Harry Stuttses, here from Washington, D. C., with their sons, Tony and Mike.

Chicago's Old Town was among the vacation features when Bob Kenan Jr. played host for his friend, Jim Irwin, here last week from Pittsburgh.

The George Schroders have sold their Mardan Woods home to the John Blakes who have been transferred here from Tacoma, Wash., because of his position with Weyerhauser Co. The family includes Deborah, 10, Jennifer who is in college and Pamela who is married.

The latter part of November Long Grove will wave the last of its fond goodbyes to the Schroders; Bud and Mary Ann will leave to make their home in Florida. Mary Ann's mother, Mrs. Ann Wasko, expects to make her home with a brother in Cleveland.

En route to summer Bible camp at Waupaca, the Andrew Sims' daughter and family, the Eimo Hinrichs, Peter and Becky, livened the weekend for them recently.

EATING SWEET corn, swimming and watching wild ducks were among the pastimes which contributed to make it a week's vacation recently for Mrs. Bernice Taylor, Barbara and Bobby at the home of Bernice's mother, Mrs. Mary Sayner on Plum Lake in Sayner, Wis.; named for her mother, the town for Bernice brought back the nostalgia of going back home.

Seeing Supt. Murphy sitting at his Kildeer School desk Monday morning, one couldn't help thinking, "The opening day of school is much closer than one realizes." The Murphys are back after a four-week stay at Lake Havasu in Arizona.

'Tis a small world after all; it turns out that Robert Hannigan's sister, Mrs. Joseph Worrall of Cheshire, Conn., a vacationer at their Farmington home, is a close friend of Mrs. Charles Johnson. Friendship began when the Johnsons lived in Westport, Conn.

Six grandchildren, ranging from 7 months to 8 years, recently provided a week of lively activity at the Ray Fassbender home during the visit of their son, Ray Jr. and family of Detroit.

An hour's boat ride on Lake Geneva made it an adventure for Randy and Wendy Towner when their parents, the Mel Towners, spent a recent Sunday in that area.

MAKING IT A luncheon get-together on Friday of last week at the home of Mrs. Arthur Potts were her cousins, Mrs. Edith Peterson and Mrs. Ida Carlson of Highland Park.

When Mrs. George Umbdenstock says, "We did it again," she means that the women of their pinochle group were the winners. Making it a fast-moving table at the Umbdenstock home Thursday night were the George Meyers and the Wally Gosswillers.

The Richard Irelands' was the scene of a barbecue picnic for a group of seventh and eighth graders Friday, members following up their get-together with a trip to Ravinia to enjoy the Serendipity Singers.

Taking advantage of an opportunity presented to youth of the United Church of Christ, Scott Ireland left Tuesday on a canoe trip which will take in the Minnesota region near Ely. Scott will be among a group from a Glenview church.

Rick Ireland left Thursday for Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico for 10 days of adventure and novelty.

With blueberries from Saugatuck, Mich., "stashed" in their freezer to await the winter eating, the Fred Dahlbergs were free only to fish and loaf and look for new scenic spots during their recent week's drive toward Copper Harbor on Lake Superior. Sharing the fun were Rene's brother and family, the Ed Rastalls of Holland, Mich.

Providing conversation pieces for John Hurley and Keith Dahlberg were the 20 and 16-inch bass Keith pulled in and the 25-inch northern pike John was able to land during a previous weekend at the Dahlbergs' cottage on James Lake in upper Michigan. Also sharing the fun were Phil and Bob Opsal.

MAKING IT A bridge luncheon Aug. 9 at Mrs. George Schroder's were regular monthly meeters, Mrs. Whit Kuhn, Mrs. Frank Bivins, Mrs. Floyd Trumbull, Mrs. Jim Korbelik, Mrs. Joe Klemeyer, Mrs. Clifford Marx and Mrs. Robert Kenan.

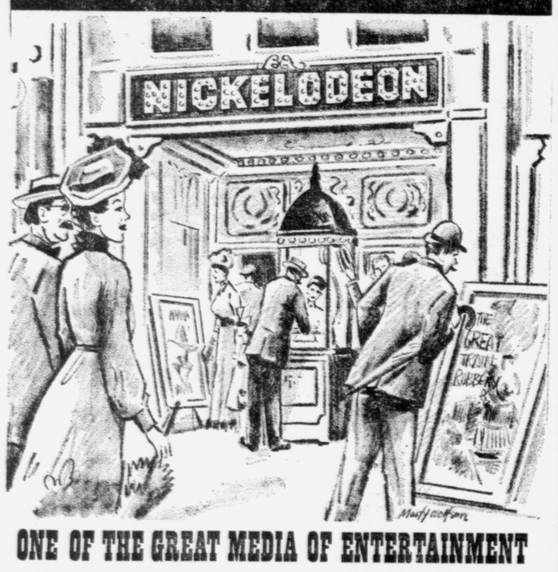
Happy birthday wishes go to Harriet Johnson, Aug. 18; Pearl Haseman and Margaret Evans, 20th; Katie Eissler and Helen Salmen, 21st; Steve Berg, 22nd.

Hosting a rehearsal dinner for 46 the week before her son, Guy's wedding, didn't bother Mrs. Guy Edmunds Sr. Except that she must have ordered enough fried chicken for 146. The Edmunds' expect to be eating rehearsal-dinner chicken until Christmas.

Speaking of rehearsal dinners, we hear that this was one which almost did away with the wedding. Up to their usual pranks, Art and Dave Edmunds, we hear, tried to "kidnap" their brother, Guy, the soon-to-be bridegroom. Luckily for all, they brought him back just in time to see his irate bride-to-be ready to call the whole event off.

"Sometimes they carry their pranks a bit too far," says their mother. (WP

Greatest Events In American History—No. 33



ONE OF THE GREAT MEDIA OF ENTERTAINMENT & EDUCATION — THE MOVIES — COME TO AMERICA

On June 5, 1905, John P. Harris and Harry Davis opened a room in downtown Pittsburgh, Pa., to show motion pictures to the public; they called their room the "Nickelodeon" because it cost a nickel to get in; soon there were hundreds of "nickelodeons" throughout the nation—and the movies had come to America.

The invention of movies was the product of many minds including Thomas Edison who produced a moving picture in 1896.

First movie to tell a story was "The Great Train Robbery" made in 1903 by Edwin Porter.

Then came the nickelodeons and this was the event that spurred the growth of motion pictures. Companies were quickly formed to make more and more pictures to meet the demand of nickelodeon owners and the movie industry was born—an industry that became one of the great forms of entertainment and education in the history of mankind.

George Busse George L. Busse George R. Busse George K. Busse

That's 4 generations of confidence ...by George!

When Great Grandfather Busse planted his roots in the Mount Prospect area in 1911, both he and the Mount Prospect State Bank shared the vision and confidence that helped Mount Prospect grow into one of the country's most progressive communities.

Since then, the bank has grown with the community . . . answering the demands of the people . . . and the industry.

Since 1911, the big bank downtown has helped many families grow . . . with financial aid . . . savings assistance and personal pride and confidence.

This confidence is reflected in the many families who have second, third and even fourth generations actively banking with us. We invite you to share the same pride and confidence that 4 generations of the Busse Family have enjoyed since 1911 . . . join the Mount Prospect State Bank family . . . and grow with us.

The Northwest Suburban Area's most Complete Real Estate Shopping Guide

CLASSIFIED ADS | DISPLAY ADS | RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY | RENTALS | COMMERCIAL PROPERTY | NEW HOMES | HOME REMODELING | APARTMENTS

Live where the streets are wider

Gracious living is reflected in many ways in the Northwest Suburban Area. The parks are cleaner . . . the trees are greener . . . the homes are prettier . . . the sky seems higher . . . even the streets are wider.

They're wider because that's the way they were planned . . . to allow residents even more privacy, more natural beauty and of course, more safety for the family.

When you go to inspect homes for sale with any of the many local Realtors, notice how easily they can travel from home to home, thanks to the uncluttered, uncrowded streets and roads in the area.

See the many home values in this section offered by the many area Realtors each week . . . let them put you on easy street . . . in the Northwest Suburbs.

THE ACCEPTED INFLUENCE IN THE NORTHWEST SUBURBS

Home Prices Up But Should Remain Stable, Says Builder

If you were going to buy a home six months ago but decided to wait until prices go down, you missed a good investment. According to George Arquilla, Jr., president of the Home Builders Association of Chicagoland, prices went up rather than down.

One big reason, said Arquilla, was the rising cost of labor. "Right now is a good time to buy if you waited because all major labor negotiations have been completed and prices should remain stable for the rest of the year," he pointed out.

A recent survey by a home building trade magazine predicted that the rising cost of labor and materials would hike new home prices across the nation by 20 to 25 per cent, the HBAC president said. "This indicates that those who can afford a new home now should buy one now," Arquilla added.

"A new home is the best hedge against inflation caused by rising labor costs. Add to that the convenience and new innovations in today's homes and you can see that a new home is a bargain," Arquilla noted.

What do 1966 homes have to offer? Facts and figures show that 1966 homes have more of the things that make for more comfortable and pleasant living. Nearly a third are air-conditioned. More than two-thirds have a family room; more than 80 per cent a garage or carport.

In addition, you get more living space in 1966 homes than in homes built five years ago. Bathroom space is just one indicator of the growing overall size of new homes. The 1960 census showed that 67 per cent of owner-occupied units had only one bathroom. The change in six years has been startling—the latest survey of members of the National Association of Home Builders shows that more than 60 per cent of their homes have at least two baths.

The growth trend in total square footage of new homes is illustrated by Federal Housing Administration figures. The median in 1950 was 838 square feet. Now it is more than 1,200.

National Realtors Tour NW Suburbs

The nationwide "Gallery of Homes" real estate group last week held its first meeting in the northwest suburbs. About 60 Realtors and their wives attended the three-day session at the Sheraton-O'Hare Inn sponsored by Jim Warriner Realtors of Arlington Heights, local members of the organization.

Heading up the contingent of visiting real estate leaders from coast to coast was John T. Nothnagle, Rochester, N. Y., founder of the "Gallery of Homes" system and president of its organization.

Founded in 1961, the "Gallery of Homes" features a new personalized concept in residential buying and selling, including inter-office assistance for those moving into other areas.

Edward M. Shanahan, vice president, Bell Savings and Loan, Chicago, discussed the current money market. Other speakers talked on the use of video tape and computers in the real estate business.

The visiting Realtors had a first-hand look at the northwest suburban area during their stay. On Monday the group toured Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights to give them a better knowledge of what people in their areas might expect in transferring to these communities.

After the tour, the group visited Arlington Park for lunch and a day at the races. The fifth race was named "Gallery of Homes" in their honor.

At Tuesday's all-day business meeting, Jim Warriner was awarded a plaque as "Gallery of Homes" Realtor of the year.

MONY Increases Interest Rates

Mutual of New York has increased the interest rates at which it will discount life insurance premiums paid in advance, according to Philip W. St. Aubin Jr., Manager for the company in Des Plaines.

Under the new rates, which are compounded annually, MONY policyholders will receive a premium discount of 5 per cent for the first 5 years paid in advance and 4.5 per cent for the sixth through tenth years. This compares with the company's previous rate of4.5 per cent for the first 10 years. (BB

Oakton-Lee Corner Sold to Developer

Ben F. Eidamiller & Co., Realtors, 680 Lee St., Des Plaines, announces the sale of the 25-acre commercial southwest corner of Oakton and Lee Streets in Des Plaines.

Fred M. Ownes, commercial director for Eidamiller, negotiated the sale of the property. Projected plans for this site are for commercial development.

Ben F. Eidamiller & Co. opened its realty firm on Lee Street over 38 years ago. It played a substantial part in the development of Des Plaines—from a population of 8,500 to its present population of more than 50,000.

EARLIER, LeRoy J. Minnich, sales manager, reported the sales volume for the first six months of 1966 as $4,198,724.00, reflecting an increase over 1965 volume of $1,309,058.00.

Ben F. Eidamiller and Charles A. Hodlmair, partners, relate their constant 38 years of growth in sales to the strategic location of Des Plaines in industrial and residential development.

Real estate valuations have increased approximately 400 per cent in Des Plaines since 1929. The company has just opened a branch office in the southwest area to better service the large influx of residents.

Medicare Insurance Program Explained

Medicare offers two kinds of health insurance: hospital insurance, which helps pay for certain covered hospital and hospital-related services, and medical insurance, which helps pay doctor bills.

Hospital insurance covers services in a participating hospital, an extended care facility (a skilled nursing home or a special part of a hospital), or in a private home from a home health agency such as the visiting nurses association.

The doctor or person arranging for these services will know whether an institution or agency is participating in the program.

To participate in the medicare program, hospitals, extended care facilities and home health agencies must meet specified standards which demonstrate that they provide high quality health care. In addition, they must agree not to charge the medicare beneficiary for services paid for by the program and they must abide by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act, which prohibits discrimination based on race, color, or national origin.

Hospital insurance payments will be made directly to the hospital or other organization furnishing the services by the insurance firm, upon presentation of the insurance card.

The insurance company will notify the customer when payment has been made. The notice will show the number of days left in that "spell of illness" or the number of home health visits still available.

Benefits under the hospital insurance program are paid during a certain period of time, called a "spell of illness." This does not refer to any particular illness, nor does it refer to a single stay in a hospital or extended care facility. Your first "spell of illness" begins on the first day (after June 30, 1966) you receive covered hospital or extended care services. It ends when the customer has not been in any hospital or extended care facility for 60 consecutive days.

Then a new "spell of illness" can begin the next time the patient receives covered hospital or extended care services.

Most people will not have to bother about trying to keep the details of this rule in mind. Usually, if they enter a hospital or extended care facility, they will not stay long enough to use all benefits.

When they use hospital or extended care benefits, the Social Security Administration will keep track of the "spell of illness" and give information on how many "benefit" days are left. BB

Five Elected to Chicago's NAA

Five area residents recently were elected members of the Chicago chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

They are: Donald G. Strebel, 210 Pickwick Drive, and P. P. Pappas, 903 W. Sigwalt St., both of Arlington Heights; R. Dale Cronk, 901 Hemlock Lane, Mount Prospect; Andrew Yurksaitis, 405 N. Williams Drive, Palatine; Joseph J. Novelle, 207 Hiawatha Trail, Wood Dale.

NAA IS AN educational organization designed to bring about a better understanding of the nature, purpose and uses of management accounting in all types of economic endeavor.

Strebel is employed with Glenn Ingram & Co., Chicago. Pappas and Cronk came from NAA chapters in Westchester, N. Y., and Muskegon, Mich., respectively.

Yurksaitis is employed with Consolidated Packaging Corp., Chicago, and Novelle works for Automatic Electric Co., Northlake. (BB

Evelyn Hines Joins Realty Sales Staff

Arlington Realty, Inc., Arlington Heights, this week announced the appointment of Evelyn Hines, 216 S. Drury Lane, Arlington Heights, as a member of their sales staff.

Mrs. Hines has been a resident of Arlington Heights since 1940 and will specialize in residential sales from the firm's North Office at 550 W. Northwest Hwy.

EVELYN HINES

Mrs. Hines is a charter member of the Northwest Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary and was active in the organization of that group. She was a member of the first Board of Directors of Northwest Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary, and was a Pink Lady volunteer at the hospital from opening until 1962.

Mrs. Hines has 25 years experience in business and management, including the past three years in real estate sales in Arlington Heights. She is a member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Mount Prospect.

Her appointment to Arlington Realty gives the firm 15 full-time, licensed real estate sales people. Arlington Realty has two sales offices in Arlington Heights, at 535 S. Arlington Heights Road and 550 W. Northwest Hwy.

The firm is a charter member of MAP Multiple Listing Service and belongs to the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors. They are also the exclusive representatives in the area for HOMERICA, a home referral service serving all major cities from coast to coast. (RE

Bruning's Youth Program Honored

Formal commendation has been received by the Charles Bruning Co., Mount Prospect, for its support of President Johnson's youth opportunity campaign of 1966. The commendation came in the form of a letter received by the company from Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

The youth opportunity campaign requested employers to make jobs available to young men and women during the summer months. It is designed to help students earn funds in summer which can be used to assist them through the coming school year. Bruning employed 170 high school and college students this year, 10 times the number recommended for a company of its size.

"We are pleased that we could provide meaningful work and training opportunities for these young men and women of our community and thus aid the President's campaign," said Walter G. Lange, personnel manager of the firm. "Their performances on the job have been very satisfying to Bruning management and reaffirm our belief in the stature of today's youth," he said.

Bruning, a division of Addressograph Multigraph Corp., is a leading maker of electrostatic and diazo copying equipment and supplies. (BB

"Ten Commandments to Sell House" Offered

Remember the Joneses, who tried to sell their house for two years and never got a buyer? And the Smiths, who sold their house in two weeks? They lived in the same block in similar houses. "Why did we have such bad luck?" groaned the Joneses. "Why weren't we lucky like the Smiths?"

The Smiths weren't lucky. They just obeyed "Ten Commandments That Sell Houses." The Jones didn't. Here's the story:

First: The Smiths kept their yard neat, grass trimmed. The Joneses had a driveway full of bicycles and tools, a dead bush by the front door, and a broken lawn chair in back that could have been removed in ten seconds, but somehow no one ever did it.

Second: The Smiths weren't fussy, but they were clean. The Joneses seemed to leave sticky glasses in every room, never got around to fixing drawers that stuck or faucets that dripped or doorknobs that came off in your hand.

THIRD: The Smiths knew the facts about their house. The Joneses never did learn the amperage of their home, and were even vague as to the taxes on their property.

Fourth: The Smiths always told the truth. The Joneses lied about the school bus service, the commuting time to the city, the age of the house, the fuel bills and the reason for that ominous stain on the dining-room ceiling.

Fifth: The Smiths set a realistic price. The Joneses decided there must be an idiot somewhere who would pay an outlandish price, so why not sell to him? Trouble was, the idiot never showed up.

SIXTH: The Smiths kept the sale simple and sold their house as it was. The Joneses tried to hold a rummage sale at the same time, offering the prospect drapes for a song, the washing machine at a bargain, along with old lamps, worn-out rugs and a cut glass bowl. Somehow they sold the bowl but not the house.

Seventh: The Smiths never argued a point with a prospect. The Joneses won lots of arguments but lost lots of sales.

Eighth: The Smiths maintained a quiet atmosphere when prospects came. The Joneses often had the radio, TV and stereo blasting for attention.

NINTH: The Smiths took advantage of the broker's experience. The Joneses decided anyone could sell a house, and why pay a fee for something so simple? So they spent a year trying to sell the house themselves before they called a Realtor for help.

Tenth: The Smiths let the Realtor do his job. The Joneses tagged along with the prospect and the salesman, interjecting comments, trying to make a social occasion out of a business call. "We offered them a drink," Jones would say later. "How come they didn't buy?" They never learned prospects don't come for chit-chat.

It all comes down to this: When trying to sell your house, keep it like you planned a party, let a Realtor do the catering, and then, hardest of all, let him play host.

Q: MY COMMUNITY seems to be deteriorating, but no one seems to care. Our local government only satisfies local needs, and we're falling behind other cities of our size. What can be done?

—R.J.B.

A: Plenty, and more power to you. Organize a citizens' committee, preferably of people with the drive and hide of a rhinoceros. Alone you're helpless. Neighborhood organizations with gumption are the tried and tested, and nearly 100 per cent effective, means of starting action for common good in any community. Once you are organized, tell the city fathers what you think and what you want.

But what do you want? You'd better know, and one way is to GET EXPERT HELP. The B America Better committee of the National Association of Real Estate Boards is composed of advisory teams of Realtors who are experts in housing and urban development. At the request of city officials and the local board of Realtors, they will make a study of an area and offer recommendations. Write them for information at 1300 Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20036.

Don't delay, and don't give up. Urban dry rot is hard to stop but it can be done. It's happening all over. (RE

Appraisal Course Planned This Fall

Members of the faculty were announced this week for the Appraisal Course I to be co-sponsored this fall by the Chicago Real Estate Board and the Illinois Chapter 6 of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers.

Course Dean Joseph G. Kuehnle will be joined by two other M.A.I.'s in the classroom: Paul E. Leason, Applegate, Leason and Co., and F. Gregory Opelka, Fairfield Savings & Loan Assn.

Sessions begin Sept. 13 and continue on Tuesday evenings through Feb. 21, 1967, at First Federal Savings and Loan Assn., 6 to 8 p.m.

Registrations are now being accepted by course secretary, Lana Girando, at CREB headquarters, 105 West Madison St.

THIS COURSE is similar to those taught at leading universities on a full-time basis and is presented as a convenience for those in the Chicagoland area. Basic appraisal theory and principles will be explained in detail with illustrations and examples used frequently to demonstrate application in actual appraisal practice, according to Dean Kuehnle.

For information and registration blank, contact Mrs. Girando at CE 6-4688. (RE

IT'S AN IDEA — HOME DECORATIONS

Two pedestals are better than one in the case of this new oval extension table. Twin columns of polished aluminum are accented and strengthened by curving struts surfaced with wood-grained melamine plastic to withstand kicks and scuffs. The self-edged top in English Walnut pattern plastic measures 41 x 54 inches, 41 x 71 inches with leaf added. Swivel chairs sweep high in back for maximum dining comfort. Upholstery is supported in vinyl in new Country Blue, a quilt-effect floral. The five piece set will be available in a wide range of table-top and upholstery patterns.

The Law Serves You

A Public Service of the ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

Who pays if a forged or altered check drawn on your account is cashed by your bank?

Ordinarily, the bank must stand the loss unless it manages to recover, through legal action, from the person who forged or altered the check it honored.

Illinois law protects you from suffering losses in such instances. The bank is expected to know the signatures of its depositors and to recognize forgeries no matter how clever the deception.

Also, if it cashes a check which was altered to a higher amount, the bank is responsible for the difference between the "tenor" of the check — the amount for which it was originally drawn — and the amount as altered. You can be charged for the difference only if it can be shown that negligence on your part invited the alteration.

It is up to you to examine the cancelled checks returned with your bank statement and notify your bank of any forgeries or alterations.

In case of repeated forgeries by the same wrongdoer, the law requires you to notify the bank within 14 days after the first forged check and statement was available to you. Your failure to notify the bank within this period may have the effect of preventing your recovery from the bank if it can show that it suffered a loss by reason of your failure.

In other instances, you are allowed one year within which to notify the bank of forged or altered checks and the bank must stand the loss unless you have been negligent in other respects.

To guard against alterations, make out your checks carefully. Your handwriting and figures should be neat and legible. If the amount for which the check is drawn is difficult to read it is more easily altered. Also, use all of the blank spaces provided when filling out the check so as to discourage insertions.

IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY!

Mr. Ivi, my children have to be enrolled in school in Pennsylvania by the first of September, so please sell our home here in beautiful Lions Park. We have enjoyed living in this large 3-bedroom home. The walls of our paneled family room have resounded with our laughter and, I'm sure, with a sob or two. You see, we have enjoyed living in this home but due to circumstances we must leave. So please sell our home! Priced at $31,900. MR. IVI

LARGEST OF THE three furnished models in the new Mount Prospect area community, Runnymeade, is the Colonial Stonebridge. The $36,950 two-story has nine rooms plus a basement and a 2-car garage.

Mor-Well Opens Runnymeade, Third Northwest Development

Mor-Well Builders now has three new northwest suburban communities under development with the opening, last weekend, of Runnymeade in the Mount Prospect area.

Mor-Well is also the builder of Timbercrest in Schaumburg and Elsinore in Arlington Heights.

Three furnished model homes are open to the public in 74-home Runnymeade, which is located on River Road (Route 45) just south of Euclid-Lake Road.

Priced in the thirties, the new homes are in 2-story Colonial and multi-level styles and are offered with many exterior variations involving face brick, rough hewn cedar and aluminum siding.

All Runnymeade homes will include a 2-car garage; a kitchen with custom cabinets, built-in oven, range, dishwasher and waste disposer; ceramic tiled baths with cultured marble-topped vanities; paneled, finished family room with insulated glass patio doors; oak hardwood floors and oak stair rails.

EACH HOME'S price also includes the fully improved homesite with concrete driveway.

The Renfield, lowest-priced of the three models, has a traditional Colonial-style exterior that belies the contemporary layout of its multi-level interior. The home has a two level living-dining room beneath a cathedral ceiling. The dining section is on a balcony overlooking the living room. Priced at $31,750, the Priced at $31,750, the Renfield has three bedrooms, two baths, family room, basement and two-car garage.

The unusual Cordoba tri-level model has a contemporary Spanish exterior and four bedrooms, 2½ baths, 24-foot family room and two-car garage. It has a 20-foot living room, separate 14-foot dining room, a convenient ground floor laundry-utility room and is priced at $36,250. The Cordoba has a 15-foot entry foyer that rises two full stories and has a wood-railed balcony overlooking it from the bedroom level.

A SIMILARLY dramatic two-story entrance hall is a feature of the Colonial Stonebridge model, which is priced at $36,950. This home has four bedrooms, 2½ baths, separate living and formal dining rooms, a breakfast room, 20-foot family room, basement and a two-car garage.

Irving Miller, sales manager for Mor-Well said that a new public elementary school is already open within Runnymeade, and that shopping, a Catholic school and the forest preserves are all within easy walking distance. The Runnymeade models are open for inspection every day of the week from 10 a.m. until dark. (RE

Elk Grove Village Leads Way In Underground Utilities

From cornfield to a booming community of over 15,000 residents within 10 short years is the proud story of Elk Grove Village. Few projects anywhere can point at a similar spectacular success.

There are several reasons. One is that here are spacious homes at reasonable prices, backed by the reputation of the Centex Corporation.

Just as important is, however, the careful planning that went into the creation of the new community.

Many years of ground work preceded the turning of the first shovel of earth. Foresighted plans visualized a sprawling residential section, sites reserved for shopping centers, schools, parks, a community center, swimming pool, other recreational facilities, wide winding concrete streets, — and also, for a huge industrial park, far enough away so as not to affect the quiet residential character of the village, yet, close enough to offer the advantages of a wide variety of local job opportunities.

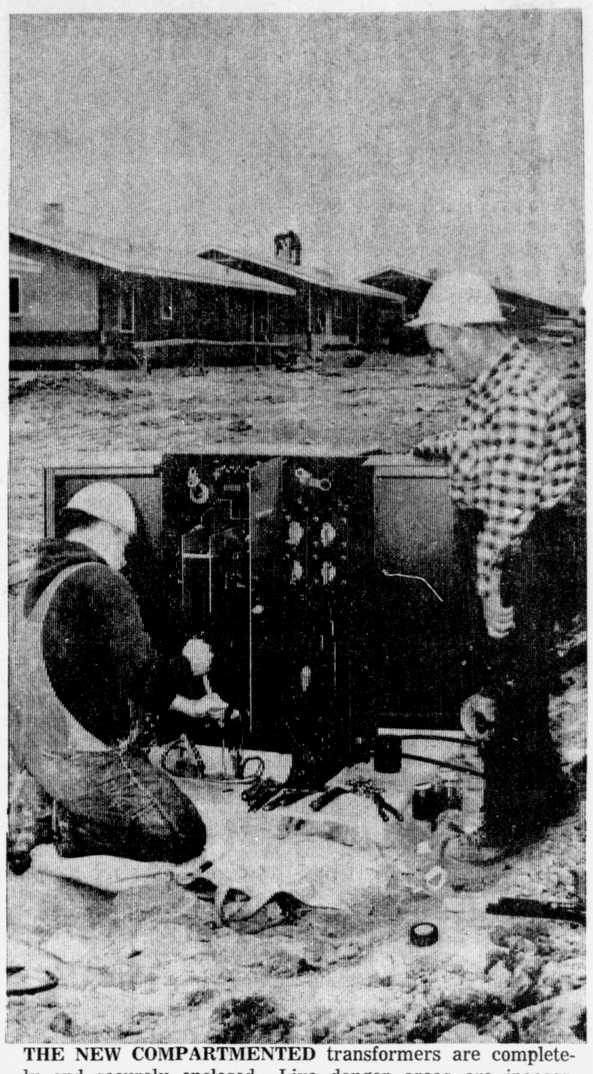
Elk Grove Village was among the pioneers in the Chicagoland area to adopt a system of underground utilities.

Trenching operations were modernized. Separation trenching, the usual method, requires that power and phone cables must be separated by at least one foot of tamped earth and the trenches must be 36" deep. This means two backfills and two wire-laying passes.

Random trenching, adopted in Elk Grove Village and now permitted in Illinois, needs only 30" deep trenches and one backfill and both the phone and power cables can be laid at the same time.

A new type of transformer was designed which is completely and securely enclosed, with no live danger areas accessible. It is so solidly built that it won't budge even if hit with a baseball. This new compartmental type transformer projects four feet above ground, can be manhandled into place without heavy equipment, offers more safety and costs less.

Improved, yet lower priced burial cables produced additional savings. Modernized secondary and service cables added to savings, at the same time reducing maintenance and repair costs. (RE



THE NEW COMPARTMENTED transformers are completely and securely enclosed. Live danger areas are inaccessible; the vaults won't budge even if hit by a baseball bat. Such features, parts of the underground utility system in Elk Grove Village, reduce the probability that residents suddenly find themselves without power when the fury of elements strikes.

Gayle New Branch Manager at Victor

Sheldon S. Gayle of 1105 W. St. James, Arlington Heights, has been appointed Chicago branch manager for Victor Comptometer Corp.

Bell Gives Sales Post To Renfro

Larry E. Renfro, 2032 Rosehill Drive, Arlington Heights, has been promoted to an account salesman in Illinois Bell Telephone's Arlington Heights sales office.

He will be responsible for the accounts of large switchboard customers in the Arlington Heights district, an area that includes Elk Grove, Libertyville, Mundelein, Palatine and Barrington.

Renfro was formerly a salesman in Arlington Heights, a post he has held since joining the company in 1965. Before starting his telephone career he served more than three years with the Marine Corps and is presently a captain in the Marine Reserve.

L. E. RENFRO

A native of Wheaton, Renfro graduated from Wheaton High School and received his B.S. degree in business administration from Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Mo.

He and his wife, Naomi, have a daughter, Linda, 1½; and a son, Richard, two-months-old.

GARDENING TIPS

FROM THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS GARDEN CLUB

Your Garden . . . Day by Day

by MARY B. GOOD

August 18

"Consider the intimate and curious acquaintance one makes with various kinds of weeds . . . disturbing their delicate organizations so ruthlessly . . have at him, chop him up . . . don't let him have a fibre in the shade; if you do he'll turn himself t'other side up and be as green as a leek in two days."

from "Waldon"
by Henry David Thoreau

August 19

Green intruders bothering you? Crab grass still ranks as the No. 1 lawn pest. If you're plagued by it, use post emergence control: The Sodar family —DSMA, OAMA, DAMA. Repeat applications necessary.

August 20

Would you believe fresh garden carrots in winter? Carrots sown from seed this month can be left in the ground and covered with a thick, thick layer of straw. When dug all winter, they're tastier than stored varieties.

August 21

Remember room temperature water for all house plants. Ring spot of African violets is one disease caused by cold water coming in contact with leaves. For more on indoor gardening pick up a copy of "All About House Plants" by Montague Free.

August 22

Clematis, the most popular of all flowering vines, gives a house and garden that friendly, homey look. Consider it for next year if you're not already enjoying its beauty.

August 23

Leaves curling on zinnias? That's mildew! Dust or spray with a good fungicide.

August 24

Iris hybridizers have made great strides in breeding in the last few years. You can now buy iris in almost every color of the rainbow. Today's tip: Prior to planting, soak rhizomes in Rapid-Gro solution (according to label dilution table) for one hour. It'll get your iris off to a good start.

Inquiries may be directed to the Arlington Heights Garden Club, Box 362, Arlington Heights.

Aster Yellows: the Dutch Elm Of Petunias and Marigolds

by: RICHARD DeLANO
Assistant Cook County
Farm Adviser

About the easiest flowers to grow are petunias and marigolds. However, this year they've been struck by a strange sounding virus disease, aster yellows.

It's called aster yellows because the condition was first described on this plant. If its in your garden you'll notice it quite readily. The growing tips of petunias or marigolds have a lighter green color than the adjacent plants. In addition growth may be curly, tight, compact and somewhat distorted.

In petunias the condition appears as many flower buds on short stems. These buds however never develop.

ASTER YELLOWS, once it appears, is controled by destroying infected plants. This prevents further spread. The disease is transmitted by disease carrying aphids thus prevention centers around control of this insect. This is easier said than done.

It takes only five seconds for a disease carrying aphid to infect a plant. And no insecticide can work that fast. In fact, according to some entomologist, the greyish color of some insecticides actually attracts aphids.

There is a non-chemical method of repelling aphids that works for United States Department of Agriculture Scientists. It involves using aluminum foil. Since aphids cannot survive in it the USDA scientists have been growing squash, cucumbers and watermelons in beds spread with foil.

You probably wouldn't want the aluminum strips in your flower garden but possibly this unusual control measure will be practical in our vegetable patches.

UNUSUAL CONTROL measures don't always work though. Zinc nails, turpentine and table salt have no proven value for the control of Dutch elm disease. In this case stay with tried and proven methods spray with DDT or methoxychlor before leaves appear, fertilize and remove infected trees as soon as possible. If Dutch elm disease has been proven to be present by laboratory culture have a band of soil near the tree treated with vapam. This material will sterilize the soil and burn off roots that can transmit the disease to adjacent healthy trees. (O

Vanity Lavatories Highly Decorative

The newest thing in bedroom furnishings, according to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, is the vanity lavatory, the modern version of great grandmother's china bowl and pitcher.

The vanity lavatory consists of one or two bowls installed in a generous countertop, with drawers and shelves underneath providing storage space. Wash bowls for the fixture are available in literally hundreds of colors, shapes and sizes.

Both countertops and cabinets come in dozens of finishes and decorator styles. Thus, they can be blended very successfully into any type of bedroom decor. In fact, many modern bedrooms are planned around them.

Highly decorative faucets are available too, with gold-plated ones among the leaders in the popularity parade.

Besides adding a note of distinction to the bedroom, the vanity lavatory eases the bathroom traffic jam. Mother and her daughters can primp to their heart's content without tying up the bathroom. (O

What Does Your Handwriting Tell?

Witness to Personality

By DIANE SARGOL
Staff Writer

Have you ever wondered what your daughter's steady is really like? Or have you felt the urge to play supersleuth and discover the character of the author of those cryptic notes you find secretly stuffed in your son's books? Here is one way to train yourself into the Sherlock Holmes way of thinking.

Handwriting is one true witness to a person's personality. It's a thing which is difficult to disguise and its basic structure is rarely changed.

Handwriting analysis which was actually begun in the mid-Rennaisance days by the Italian physician, Camillo Baldi, is now becoming a widely accepted science.

OFTEN ASSOCIATED with fortune telling, graphoanalysis actually is based on scientific technique, not on chance.

"Our idea is to find out what a person is . . . capable of doing, but we have no way of knowing what he actually does," explained Rosemary Calhoun, 110 Willow St., Roselle, a staff member of the International Graphoanalysis Society, headquartered in Chicago.

And another advocate of the graphoanalysis technique, John Ficht, 170 Forest Glen Road, Wood Dale, said, "It is just as accurate as other projective techniques."

A senior in psychology at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids, Mich., Ficht has made graphoanalysis his avocation for the past seven years.

HE BEGAN studying handwriting analysis when he was a high school freshman and was awarded the first Bunker Scholarship from the International Graphoanalysis Society (IGAS) for further study. The scholarship is named for Milton Newman Bunker, the originator of graphoanalysis.

Ficht now differs with the Society because he maintains that detailed psychological research is imperative to accurate analysis.

"It's very important to know the psychology behind it and have a firm background in experimental psychology," he said.

IGAS does not advocate such detailed psychological study, according to Miss Calhoun.

FICHT HAS done research in graphoanalysis in college in relation to his psychology courses and has found statistical studies to be most necessary.

"Handwriting analysis should be done with a sound basis of psychology and considered a tool of psychology," he maintains.

If handwriting analysis is to be undertaken as a profession, Ficht thinks a degree in psychology is imperative, particularly if the profession is relative to the field of counseling. The handwriting analysis should be verified with other tests, he said. It should not stand solely on its own merits — not yet, although it is "quick, economical and accurate."

ACTUALLY THE United States is extremely slow in accepting this technique, he points out. It is taught as a course in German universities, and it is generally accepted throughout Europe, particularly in France, Germany and Italy.

How is such an analysis actually determined? Contrary to popular opinion, the analyst is not particularly concerned with how one forms a letter, but rather with the strokes used in writing.

As everyone knows, you may form a letter one way today and quite another way tomorrow. However, if you look at your words closely, you will find that the strokes in your writing are basically unchanged.

DOES THIS mean that it is impossible to alter your handwriting and therefore correct unwanted traits in your personality? According to IGAS, the possibility of such change is now being researched, and indications are that such measures may be successful.

But the numerous quacks in the field of handwriting analysis have placed an undesirable stigma on the scientific process itself.

If you've ever ventured into one of the loop stores where the perpetual demonstrator is barking over a microphone, you may have noticed one booth where you can learn about "the real you" by having your handwriting analyzed for only $1.25.

THOUGH YOU may have patronized such stands for the novelty of finding the results, how many persons actually take to heart the words of these charlatans?

Or perhaps you've been to Old Town lately and discovered the mechanical imposters that analyze your entire personality on the basis of your signature. All you have to do is insert the card into the gaping mouth of the machine. Within minutes, you have been analyzed and the omniscient machine has spit 10 cards at you, each one bearing a trait supposedly characteristic of you, a trait which, on closer study will be found to fit any number of persons.

Such machines are not advocated by IGAS. As Miss Calhoun said, "We advocate personal analysis." That is why a graphoanalyst likes to have a couple of sample pages of handwriting so he can study it and determine a person's true characteristics.

BUT HOW ARE the true graphoanalysts distinguished? IGAS offers a course which is basically a home-study course. It will generally take anywhere from one year to 18 months to complete. At the termination of the program, the successful student is certified as a graphoanalyst. Once certified a person may go on to advanced study leading to a master certificate of graphoanalysis.

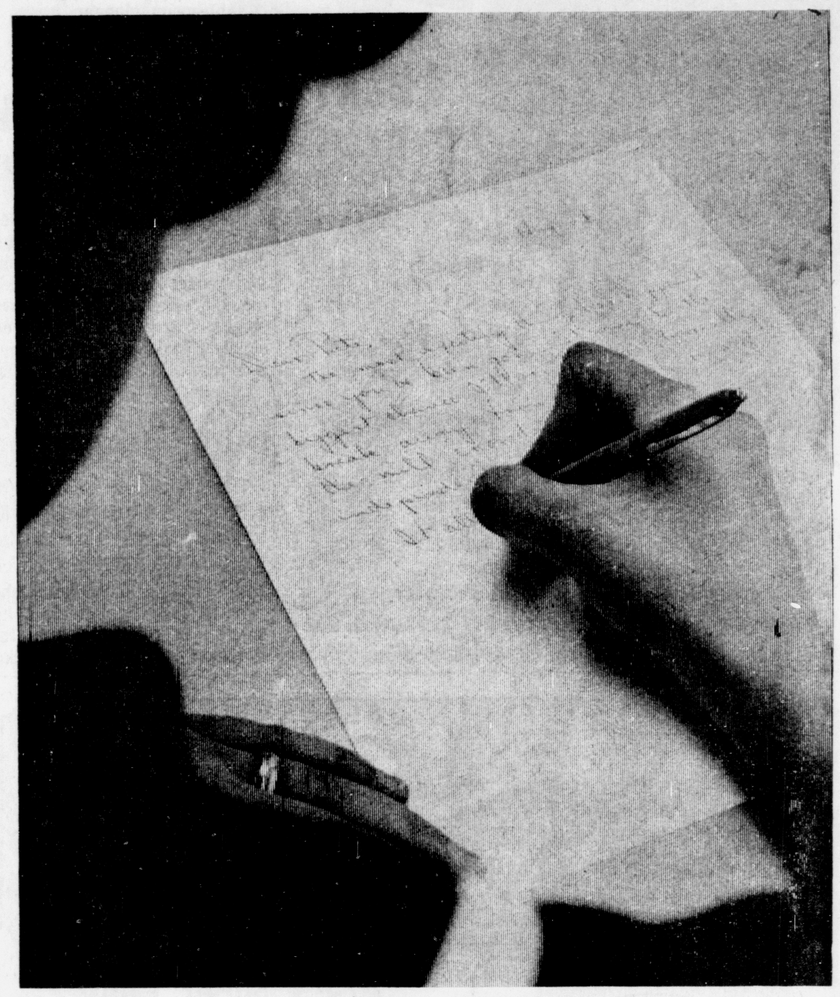
The work itself is difficult and requires a good memory, according to IGAS members attending their recent Congress in Chicago. And John Ficht pointed out that the master's indicates proficiency above the normal.

When asked about the charge of graphoanalysis being a form of fortune telling, he stated that the certificate will at least distinguish the real graphoanalyst from the imposter.

AND, HE added, it is possible to pick up the basics of graphoanalysis on your own.

"Part of it is intuition. You gain through experience."

So maybe with a little effort and the exertion of some of that woman's intuition, you will be able to uncover the character of the mysterious person behind those esoteric scribblings. Interested?



"DEAR PETE: THE most exciting thing has happened since you've been gone. . ." But how will she accept this new venture? And will she be optimistic or pessimistic about the final outcome of this new occurence? Only time will tell? Not so, for a trained graphoanalyst can determine her potentiality by the strokes of her handwriting. (Staff photo)

Everything Is 'Sew-Sew'

by MARY B. GOOD

Everything is "sew-sew" with four million American women who take to their sewing machines when they need a new frock.

Woman's world is expanding and although very little is mentioned about the industrious little American sew-it-yourselfer, the fabrics, patterns, notions and other paraphernalia she employs are big business. And why not! Printers Ink magazine estimates the American middle class women control 60 to 70 per cent of all consumer expenditures.

Many women, being practical as well as handy with a needle, sew to save money. Edith Head, fashion designer for the movie industry, says that an original designer dress might cost $600; an off-the-rack copy might cost $60, and a do-it-yourself home version could be made for $6 (depending on material).

IN ADDITION to economy, women make their own clothes for a variety of reasons: hard-to-find sizes, better fit than ready-mades, more attention to detail and better workmanship. Still others sew to enlarge or vary their wardrobe or sew strictly for their own pleasure.

According to Miss Head, there are four types of women dressers: the sophisitic ated, the kooky, the glamorous and the average.

The sophisticated type dresses to compete with other women. She's extravagant and likes to "label-drop" like others "name-drop." Seldom does she make her own clothes. She's aggressive and competitive—the tiger.

NEXT, THERE'S the kook: the gal who prides herself on being first with the latest fad. Sometimes her styles lay an Easter egg. She wears "in" items like Mod pants-suits, granny outfits, Paco Rabonne plastic cube earrings.

The glamorous type dresses only for men. She wears ultra-feminine clothes. The "Zsa-Zsa's" of the world fall into this category.

But the best dressed of all, according to the experts, is the average American woman. She dresses in good taste, according to her age, figure and complexion. She is most likely to be a career girl, middle class homemaker or business woman. Desiring a varied wardrobe, she may make some of her own clothes. So she turns to the pattern manufacturers for handsome, fashionable designs she can construct.

THE PATTERN people insist that they have progressed to the point where their patterns are simply engineered and easy to make. If you buy a dress, you're stuck with it, they say; make it yourself and you can change it any way you want.

By now I may have whetted your interest in sewing to the point where you're chomping at the bit to learn how to sew, if you haven't developed this talent as yet.

I must warn you, though, that this needle-wielding genius does not evolve over night Be leery of anyone who tells you that sewing is quick and easy. Chances are this little lady has been at the game for some time and runs up everything from hankies through men's shirts, pajamas, suits to bridal gowns.

ANY NON-ILGWU member will tell you that success comes only after at least one, but sometimes a series of unbelievable flops. Preparation for your first disaster starts when you purchase your first "easy-to-do" pattern and find you're more adept at ripping than sewing.

On your initial venture, allow yourself about 20 to 30 uninterrupted hours of sewing madness. Shoo the children away from your "garment district" or ship them off to grandma for an undetermined stay.

With the "easy" patterns you won't need to know hieroglypics (I hope), but be sure to read and interpret all those little stay stitchings, dartings, notching of A to B at C, etc., precisely. Don't let those words in italics, like IMPORTANT, WRONG SIDE, FACE UP, RIGHT SIDES TOGETHER, scare you. There's only one word to worry about—SLASH!

ONE OF the first lessons you will need to learn is to do away with your first-try flops. Keeping them around only serves to remind you of your inadequacies. The stretched necklines, the disaster buttonholes, the ill-fitting skirts, blouses, dresses and slacks and all the rest of the "Wrong Way Corrigans" belong in one place—the waste basket.

Now this might give the impression that you have to make an awful lot of Salvation Army-oriented clothes before you hit the first big winner. But it really depends on how well you 1) sew a straight line, 2) operate your machine, 3) follow pattern directions, 4) are able to alter to your figure faults and 5) how much time your sister and/or neighbor, mother, friend who sews has to devote to "your" project.

The item of figure faults is one that needs particular attention. When you start to sew, you seldom consider that dress manufacturers and people who design patterns use the same measurements for sizes. So you may be right back where you started—when you couldn't find a ready-made dress to fit and decided to make your own! Here's hoping you know how to alter, baby! There's hardly a gal walking around that doesn't have some little problem.

OF COURSE, you can always hope that no one will realize that the sheath you made is supposed to be an A-line dress, or that your dropped waistline creation really missed the target. After all, who'll know that your bell-bottoms weren't planned that way?

You're on the road to proficiency when you can wear one of your finished products and not a soul says, "Did you make that yourself, dearie?" Of course, if you get too good at sewing and find yourself making most of your clothes, your friends invariably know this. Then it will be the one time you splurge at Saks on a Coco Chanel suit that they'll say, "You make that?" You'll then react in one of two ways: by sending a bobbin whizzing in their direction, or (hopefully) by considering yourself flattered—in the league of the professionals.

ENJOYING SUNDAY BRUNCH and a polo game at the Oak Brook polo game recently were Denny Derbyshire and Charlene Cecchi, both of Bensenville, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon A. Pedersen of Elmhurst. Mrs. Pedersen presents a gold charm to Charlene as a memento of the party. The Bensenville girl is one of 18 young women to be presented at Elmhurst Memorial Hospital Guild's Kuan Yin Ball at the Ambassador West Hotel Sept. 24.

Parents Can Teach Readiness for Reading

Why not teach your child to read before he enters school? Many parents, knowing that reading skills are important to success in school and eager for their children to succeed, have pondered this question.

Lawrence Carrillo, associate professor of education at San Francisco State College, has some sobering thoughts for these well-meaning do-it-yourselfers.

"Teaching reading too soon (before the child is ready to learn) may cause permanent damage through too many failure experiences," he says.

TO SUPPORT his view, Dr. Carrillo cites the experience of a young boy whose parents hired a tutor to teach reading when he was 4½. The child was not ready to read; he became emotional, pouting and sulking, and he generalized his distress to all reading instruction. When he was taken to a reading clinic at the age of 12, he could read only three words.

The fact that some children teach themselves (or are taught) to read before attending school, Carrillo says, in no way refutes the importance of teaching a child to read only when he is ready to learn. Early reading is simply another expression of the individual differences between children and demonstrates that some of them develop the necessary skills before others.

Although it has long been known that many children, given very special attention be taught to read to some degree while very young, very taught) to read before little is known about the effect on the child.

"IT HAS NOT yet been proven that these children maintain their advantage or that they might have arrived with less effort at the same skill level with normal reading instruction," according to Carrillo.

"Finally, there is some question about the meaning in reading—the understanding of the concepts rather than mere word calling—when reading is taught to very young children. There is much question about the value of this early reading, especially if all children are considered."

Readiness for reading, however, can and should be taught at home, Carrillo says—though with care. Parents must first understand what "reading readiness" is. "Readiness" means simply that the child is physically, emotionally and intellectually prepared to read.

"IT IS SIGNIFICANT that those children who are preschool readers generally come from homes in which there is at least one person with the time and patience to answer the constant questions that foster the learning process," Carrillo notes.

In a training manual for teachers, published by Science Research Associates, Inc., Chicago - based educational publishing firm, the reading expert suggests several things which parents can do to help their children become ready to learn how to read:

Encourage your child to be independent and self-reliant. A child who has all decisions made and all things done for him cannot suddenly go "on his own" in school.

EXPRESS YOUR approval of any successful, or even nearly successful, achievement.

Let your child see that you enjoy reading. Demonstrate that it is a profitable experience for all; don't merely tell him so.

Provide books, paper, and pencils for the child's use.

Read children's materials to your child, especially those with jingly repetitions or rhymes. Give your child an opportunity to listen to and enjoy word sounds.

Encourage friendships at your child's own age level and provide both free play and supervised game activities.

Accept the individual differences among children, especially the fact that boys are less verbal than girls and that they develop more slowly physiologically.

TAKE YOUR CHILD to the public library and withdraw books for both child and parent.

Encourage your child to watch television programs with some educational merit.

Avoid any name - calling (dumb, dopey, stupid) or comparisons with other children.

Avoid open criticism of schools and teachers. The child must feel that school is a worthwhile experience.

For Better Publicity

Clinic to Help News Chairmen

Reservations for Paddock Publications' morning coffee and third annual publicity clinic are coming in by the scores, according to Mrs. Charlotte Shaughnessy, who is taking calls from presidents and news chairmen who plan to attend the session.

Scheduled for Thursday and Friday, Sept. 8 and 9, the first coffee will be held in Ehlen's Green Tree Inn, Bensenville, and the second coffee will be at the new Holiday Inn, Rolling Meadows. The Bensenville site was chosen to accommodate the clubwomen in Paddock's DuPage County circulation area and will begin at 9:15 a.m.

FOR MANY of the Cook County area clubwomen, the clinic will serve as an introduction to the area's new Holiday Inn, recently completed and located on Algonquin Road. The management of the new motel is looking forward to hosting the hundreds of area club presidents and publicity chairmen, according to Marianne Scott, Paddock Publications' women's editor, who will conduct the 2-hour clinics. Friday's session also will begin at 9:15 a.m., and both days' clinics will conclude by 11:30 a.m.

"Material properly prepared has a much better chance of getting into the newspaper," said Mrs. Scott. "We hope our clinics will again provide publicity chairmen with helps and suggestions that will enable them to write better copy and get better news coverage for their club activities."

In addition to Mrs. Scott, other speakers will include Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of the chain's 16 suburan newspapers; Doris McClelbanl, assistant women's editor; Pat Adam, Suburban Living editor, and Bob Finch, staff photographer.

INCLUDED WILL be sessions on copy preparation, what is "news," valuable hints on writing style, deadlines, how to submit news copy, writing publicity stories to interest others, use of names and an explanation of Paddock news policies. Of special value will be the discussion on news photos, which will include examples of good as well as poor publicity pictures illustrated by slides and posters.

Tips will be offered on how to get more and better photos of club activities published, and helpful pamphlets will be given to each woman attending.

Reservations for the clinics can be made by calling Mrs. Shaughnessy at CL 3-1520 or 773-1520, Extension 232.

Prepare Cubed Beef Steaks Barbecue Style

It's a quick steak, though not a large one, the beef cubed steak. Homemakers like it because it's easy to prepare and that's just fine for warm weather eating.

A number of beef sections may contribute meat for the cubed steak, the chuck, rump, sirloin or sirloin tip. These are mechanically tenderized by machine, leaving them covered with a small, squared design.

Keep barbecue sauce simple so it doesn't detract from the flavor of the meat. This sauce is used for enhancing the meat flavor, rather than hiding it.

BARBECUED CUBED BEEF STEAKS

4 beef cubed steaks
¼ cup flour
Salt
Pepper
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 medium onion, chopped
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 tablespoon brown sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup catsup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
teaspoon pepper

Dredge steaks with flour. Season. Brown the steaks in lard or drippings. Add chopped onion and brown lightly. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over steaks. Cover tightly and cook slowly 35 minutes or until meat is tender. 4 servings. (S

Sting Danger

The honeybee can sting only once and usually dies within a few minutes after stinging. However, World Book Encyclopedia points out, the bumblebee can sting again and again — and so can its relatives, the wasp, the hornet and the yellow jacket.

Milwaukee Road Club Cares for Its Own

One dollar a year in dues doesn't seem like much, but it's enough to finance a good part of the work of the Milwaukee Road Woman's Club, an organization of women affiliated with the Milwaukee Road railway line.

The club also augments its treasury with 25 cents a year from the men of the line who are contributing members and with assistance from the general governing board of the Milwaukee Road Line whose headquarters are in Chicago. This board assists the 52 clubs associated with the line.

Membership in the local club, which was begun in 1923, is restrictive, according to Mrs. Phillip Schneck, 115 Pershing, Bensenville, current club president. It's "for railroad people only." Either the husband or wife must be in railroad work with the line or the woman must be the daughter of a Milwaukee Road employe.

"WE DO THE welfare work of the railroad people," Mrs. Schneck explained.

Because it came into being before unions or Social Security was conceived, it was the job of the club to help the railroad employes in financial need, whether this entailed assuming hospital bills or contributing food to the families of unemployed railroad people.

"There didn't used to be all of this assistance, such as is prevalent today," Mrs. Schneck declared.

But now the club only supplements the funds given the worker through other organizations.

"The work of the club today is just what can be done locally," she continued. If a railroad worker needs help and cannot get it from other sources, the club will assist him.

THOUGH THE club solicits membership once a year, today there are only 150 persons in the organization. Mrs. Schneck attributes the decreasing membership to deaths, retirements and relocations. Also, she says, not many young people go into railroad work today. While it is possible for retired persons to remain in the club, it is a rare case when they do. After retirement many persons leave the area, according to Mrs. Schneck.

Though this club is not actively engaged in community work today, it does support local drives for cancer, polio, the heart fund and Red Cross. Other than this, however, the club work is strictly concerned with the railroad.

The majority of the club's business is treated by an 18-member board which meets monthly. The board then presents its recommendations to the members at a monthly meeting of the entire club, Mrs. Schneck said. These meetings are held in what was a depot at one time and is now called the Milwaukee Road Woman's Club. It is located right in the middle of downtown Bensenville.

RELATIVES TRAVELED from Canada and all points of the United States, from California to Boston to attend the wedding of Suzanne Laura Miller, daughter of the Charles W. Millers of Wheeling, and James P. Jensen Jr., son of the senior James P. Jensens of Hanover Park. The June newlyweds, married in Prospect Heights' Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, are now residing in DeKalb where the groom is attending Northern Illinois University. The bride also studied at DeKalb.

Hello Hostess

By MARY KAY ROBBINS

Want a festive farewell send-off for a son or daughter who's off to college? Have a Coketail Party — easiest way ever to entertain a large teen group. (You might invite the entire June graduation class by staggering hours on your invitations.)

Your food need be only chips, digs, nibbles . . . the kind of refreshments you'd serve at an adult open house, only about twice as much per guest! Plus, of course, Coketails.

Your Decorations: Use college stickers and pennants. Mount a map on a bulletin board and let guests stick map pins in where they're going. And play records of college songs.

Your Entertainment: Chit-chat and calories. Plus dancing, if there's room. (Many suburbs report a growing fad for dancing in the kitchen . . . good floor, more space. And can you think of anywhere a teenager should feel more at home?)

Special Event: Of course, these kids will see each other often during holidays and vacations. But they'll never be together again in quite the same close way. So do provide some lasting mementoes of this Milestone Moment.

Bring out your camera and/or tape recorder. Give the guest of honor a new address book, to be filled in by all those present. Or guests might autograph a blanket, sweatshirt or stuffed animal. (One smart mother ordered a school mascot from the bookstore at the university her daughter will attend.)

And we hear that an especially ambitious group made quite a production last year of burying a Time Capsule. Each guest brought a photograph and small souvenir of high school days. These were buried in a metal box in the host's back yard. And all those present were invited to come back for the Big Dig — exactly four years later!

One Final Word: These ideas have been tested and approved by our teen board. But do consult your own guest of honor . . or, if the party's to be a surprise, his or her best friends. These young adults prefer to plan and run their own affairs and have surprisingly good ideas. (Besides, they're willing and eager to help and work. You'll probably wind up with little more to do than catering.)

PARTY LINE: A new mother shares this delightful idea: "To write thanks for all those welcomebaby gifts, I bought plain notes. Then I touched the baby's foot to an inked stamp pad and impressed a tiny foot print on each sheet. This really brought me lots of compliments."

And you deserved them! We hope every reader lucky enough to have a new baby will make up her own box of personalized "Footnotes."

R.S.V.P. We sincerely thank all our readers who have generously contributed so many interesting and original ideas on entertaining. Won't you send yours now? To "Hello, Hostess," c/o this newspaper.

Hairdressers at School

Three area residents were among 113 hairdressers who recently completed work in the 12th annual School of Advanced Cosmetology on Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus.

Armand N. Gentile, 111 S. Patton, Arlington Heights; Barbara E. Fahn, 3303 St. James St., Rolling Meadows; and Roberta Scholz, 18 Weathersfield Common, Roselle, attended the 10-day school conducted by the Illinois Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association and Southern's Division of Technical and Adult Education.

In addition to learning the latest fashions and practices in hair styling and coloring, students also studied psychology, the physics of hair, chemistry of beauty products, business practices, public relations and beauty salon operation practices. (SSD

Thousands of Visitors Expected at Bonsai Show

Thousands of visitors are expected to attend the eighth annual Midwest Bonsai Show held this weekend at D. Hill Nursery, Highways 31 and 72, in Dundee.

Three gardens will be constructed during the three-day show, one each day at 1:30 p.m. 'Kanji Domoto, nationally famous landscape architect, will design and demonstrate building of the Mound, Mountain and Ryoan-ji Gardens. Admission is free and the public is invited.

THE FIRST bonsai trees seen in this country were brought from Japan by Arthur Hill in 1902. The Hill Nursery has propagated the dwarf trees over the years, and today has the largest collection of bonsai in the nation.

Visitors can see the more than 900 living dwarf miniatures in the Rama Bonsai Keeping House, as well as the permanent Japanese Terrace Garden, the Hill Yama Pool Garden, the Patio Garden, the Flat Garden, the Mound Garden, the Tea Garden and the Corner Garden. (SSD

Use Nature's Bounty With Homemade Biscuits

Summer is generous with her bounty of fruits. Though these offer eating pleasure in their fresh, natural state, it shouldn't stop there.

Why not let fresh blackberries join this parade with saucy rolls?

These can be made from Homemade Biscuit Mix which is kept refrigerated when market or garden yields the fruit or berries.

SAUCY BLACKBERY ROLLS

3 cups Homemade Biscuit Mix
½ cup water
1 quart blackberries
1½ cups sugar
1 egg yolk
1/3 to ½ cup milk
1 egg white, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons sugar

Add water to the blackberries, simmer 20 minutes and press through a sieve to remove seeds Add 1½ cups sugar to the pulp and simmer until thickened. Cool 1 cup mixture. Beat egg yolk and mix with 1/3 cup milk. Add to biscuit mix. Add 2 to 3 more tablespoons milk if necessary to make a soft dough.

Knead slightly and roll into a rectangular piece approximately 14x12 inches. Spread with cold blackberry mixture and roll as jelly roll. Cut into 8 or 10 slices, place cut side down in a greased 9-inch square baking pan.

Brush the top of each roll with slightly beaten egg white and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Serve hot with remaining blackberry sauce. Yield: 8 to 10 rolls.

HOMEMADE BISCUT MIX

8 cups sifted enriched flour
¼ cup baking powder
4 teaspoons salt
1 cup lard for soft wheat flour or 1½ cups lard for hard wheat flour

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until the mixture has a fine even crumb. Cover closely and store in the refrigerator until ready to use.

Seven Girls Attend Bride In Siwek-Loebach Wedding

A large wedding party, the girls all dressed alike in two shades of green and the men in summer formal wear, attended Ruth Carolynn Siwek of Arlington Heights and John Richard Loebach of Spring Valley, Ill., at their July 9 nuptial rites. The ceremony was performed at 11 a.m. in St. James Catholic Church, with a reception and dinner for 275 guests later in the day at Arlington Heights Elks Club.

The bride is the daughter of the Joseph Siweks of 210 E. Thomas St., Arlington Heights, and the groom's parents are the Richard Loebachs of Spring Valley.

SEVEN attendants preceded the bride down the church aisle for the double ring rites. All were gowned alike in floor-length silk organza dresses, the bodice of moss green and the skirt contrasting in nile green. Each girl carried a bouquet of vanda orchids with ivy.

Patricia Reif of Chicago was maid of honor, and the four bridesmaids were Donna Nemke and Sheila Porn, both of Chicago; Nancy Pestka of Bensenville and Irene Gowland of Arlington Heights. The groom's sister, Marion Loebach, served as junior bridesmaid, and Janet Hamilton of Elk Grove Village was the flower girl, attired in miniature of the adult attendants.

Escorting the girls were David Loebach, brother of the groom, who also was best man, and the ushers, Tony Ajester of Spring Valley, Mike Fulmer of Ogelsby, Ill., Eric Johnson of Williams Bay, Wis., and the bride's brother, James Siwec.

THE BRIDE carried her mother's wedding handkerchief as "something old" and a cascade bouquet of Amazon lilies with lilies of the valley.

Her dress was a traditional white silk organza with Alencon lace trim. The lace accented the empire bodice and formed a floral motif on the bell skirt, ending in a scalloped hemline at the floor. The dress had a chapel train which was attached at the back waistline.

The bride's triple illusion veil was elbow-length and was topped by a crown of crystals and lilies of the valley.

FOR THE morning wedding and the dinner reception, the bride's mother greeted guests in a coral silk shantung sheath dress with matching full-length coat, accented with a corsage of Amazon lilies. The groom's mother was attired in a powder blue silk shantung sheath dress with a matching jacket and also had an Amazon lily corsage.

The newlyweds are living in Conroe, Texas, since their week's honeymoon in New Orleans. They both have degrees from the University of Illinois and the bride is an Arlington High School graduate.

She will be teaching at Sacred Heart School in Conroe, while the groom, a chemical engineer, is employed by Jefferson Chemical Co. (Times Candid (S

JIM CONWAY OF WBKB'S Morning Show met recently with members of the Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital at the Carousel Restaurant to complete plans for his appearance at the Auxiliary's eighth annual luncheon and fashion show. The benefit is slated for Sept. 13 at Arlington Park Race Track's Turfside Room. Pictured are Mrs. William Weir, consultant for the Turfside Room; Mrs. A. F. O'Neil of Palatine, co-chairman of the benefit; Pat Myer of Bonwit Teller which will feature the fashions; Mrs. Ralph Lidge of Arlington Heights, chairman of the event; Mrs. A. J. Daley of Mount Prospect, Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Allen Grady of Palatine, program chairman. Proceeds of the luncheon will be applied to the Auxiliary's pledge of $150,000 to the hospital.

B and PW Delegates Meet in Atlanta, Ga.

Ruth Hofmeister of Mount Prospect and Helen Macior of Rolling Meadows were among the 4,000 representatives of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs meeting in convention in Atlanta, Ga., during the last week of July.

Mrs. Hofmeister, who is president of Mount Prospect B and PW Club, attended as a delegate; Mrs. Macior, president elect and program chairman, as alternate.

THE FOLLOWING week, officers and committee chairmen of the local club met in the home of Mrs. Hofmeister for a review of convention activities and measures upon which the delegates voted.

On Monday evening, Aug. 22, board members will meet at Mrs. Macior's to finalize programs for the coming year.

Although the first regular meeting will not be held until September, inquiries regarding membership in the Mount Prospect B and PW Club may be telephoned to the membership chairman, Mrs. Jayne Shutt, 392-1717. Northwest suburban area women who are employed in business or the professions are eligible. (S

Charity Group Schedules Sept. 8 Champagne Meeting

Italian film star Marcello Mastroianni will star in the "Champagne Matinee" to be given Thursday, Sept. 8 by Countryside Auxiliary of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society.

The film is "Casanova 70" which has received many foreign film awards and has never been shown in the northwest suburbs. Countryside Auxiliary is presenting the film as a benefit at the Arlington Theatre.

DOORS OF THE theatre will open at 11:30 a.m. when champagne punch and finger sandwiches will be served. The movie will be shown at 12:30 p.m.

This will be Countryside Auxiliary's second theatre benefit. In May, 1065, members presented Federico F e l l i n i's "8½", a champagne matinee also at the Arlington Theatre.

Storkfeathers

If a new baby in a home causes great excitement and pleasure, does bringing home twins "double the pleasure"? Mrs. Myron Dale Tollefson of 1539 S. Wolf Road, Wheeling, thinks so, even though she is busy adjusting to a double schedule of feeding, bathing and diapering.

The Tollefsons moved here from Colorado early this summer and were expecting to have a brother or sister for their 14-year-old son, Myron. But to their surprise they were blessed with one of each on July 25!

Born in Highland Park Hospital, Tobias Edgar and Tonetta Esther are now home and doing well with lots of tender loving care. "Toby" weighed 5 pounds 2 ounces and "Tona" 6 pounds 8 ounces.

Grandmothers of the twins are Mrs. Agnes Heimbecher of Golden, Colo., and Mrs. Esther Tollefson of Lakewood, Colo.

Cranberry Dessert Is Different

Sauce Makes Cakes Like Pudding

By LOIS SEILER

Because Mrs. Donald E. Mosack spent all of her life in Duluth, Minn., before moving to Palatine two years ago, most of the recipes she has acquired are from that state or are family recipes handed down to her from her mother.

One of the family's favorites is a different and delicious Cranberry Pudding. More like a cup cake than a pudding, these individual cakes are baked in muffin tins. Whole, fresh cranberries are included in the ingredients.

When served, they are placed in sauce dishes and a hot butter sauce is poured over each muffin. The hot sauce sinks into the cake and makes it pudding-like in texture.

"The sweet flavor of the sauce complements the tart flavor of the cranberry muffins and really 'makes' this dessert," Mrs. Mosack commented.

THIS UNUSUAL and appealing cranberry pudding is easy enough to prepare for family meals yet good enough to serve to guests.

Another of this good cook's dessert specialties is a little fancier and richer, yet is also simple to prepare. It consists of a bottom layer and topping of crushed vanilla wafers with crushed pineapple and a rich butter cream layer in between.

Maureen Mosack refrigerates this dessert until it sets, then spoons it into sherbet glasses and serves it topped with whipped cream and a cherry. It is elegant in appearance and delightful to taste.

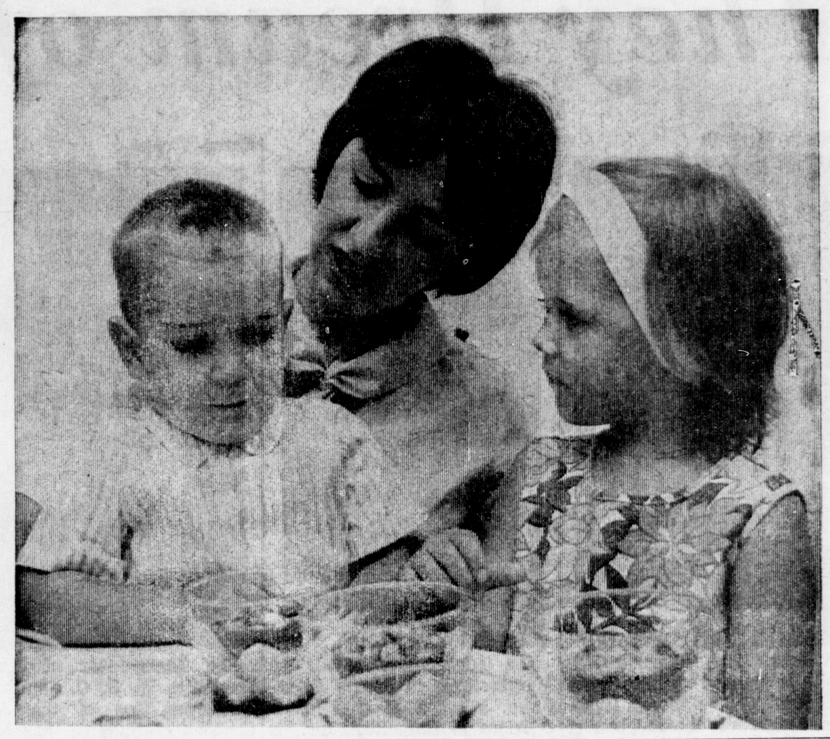
Another of Maureen's favorite recipes is for a casserole that can be served successfully for a family meal, ladies luncheon or buffet supper.

IT COMBINES cubed veal and pork with rice, celery, onions, cream of chicken and mushroom soups and blanched almonds. Baked for 1½ hours, this flavorful casserole is a meal-in-one and needs only a salad and rolls as accompaniments.

The cranberry pudding makes an excellent dessert to serve after this tasty meal.

Both the casserole and the desserts are enjoyed by the Mosacks' three children: Steven, 6½, who will be in second grade at Virginia Lake School; Terri, 5½, who will be in first, and John, 2 years old.

The Mosacks live at 1343 Dorothy Drive in Winston Park, Palatine. Mr. Mosack is a pilot for United Air Lines, and Mrs. Mosack is reservations chairman for United's Extra Care Club, an organization of pilots' wives. She is a former vice president of Palatine's Newcomers' Club and is a member of St. Thomas of Villanova Catholic Women's Club.



THEIR MOTHER'S appealing and unusual Cranberry Pudding served in attractive sauce dishes is a favorite dessert of Terri and John Mosack of Palatine. Mrs. Donald E. Mosack uses whole, fresh cranberries in the batter for these muffins, and they are served with a hot butter sauce which turns the little cakes into delicious individual puddings.

CRANBERRY PUDDING

1½ tablespoons soft butter
½ cup sugar
¼ cup water
¼ cup carnation milk
1 cup all-purpose flour, sifted
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup raw, whole fresh cranberries

Cream butter and sugar together. Add remaining ingredients in the order listed. Turn batter into 12 greased muffin tins and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serve with the following hot sauce:

¼ pound butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
½ cup Carnation milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine butter, sugar and milk together and boil for one minute. Add vanilla.

Serve cup cakes in sauce dishes; heat sauce and pour over cakes. Serves 12.

PINEAPPLE DESSERT

½ cup melted butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs
1 large can crushed pineapple, drained
½ pound vanilla wafers

Mix butter and sugar together thoroughly. Add eggs one at a time and mix well.

Crumble vanilla wafers with a rolling pin and line the bottom of a 9 by 13-inch pan with half of the crumbs. Place the crushed pineapple over the crumbs and cover with the creamed mixture. Top with remaining crumbs. Refrigerate until it sets, at least four hours.

To serve, spoon into sherbet glasses and garnish with a dab of whipped cream and a cherry. Serves 12.

VEAL, PORK AND RICE CASSEROLE

½ pound pork, cubed
1 onion, chopped
2 cups chopped celery
1 cup cooked rice
1 can cream of chickem soup
1 can cream of mushroom soup
½ cup blanched almonds
Salt and pepper to taste

Brown meat; add onion and celery and saute until vegetables are tender.

Combine all ingredients in a 1½-quart casserole. Top with crushed potato chips. Bake, covered, at 325 degrees for 1½ hours. Serves 6 to 8.

Make Spaghetti Sauce While Tomatoes Plentiful

While tomatoes are plentiful, both in the home garden and on the market, plan to make fresh spagheti sauce. There's nothing like it. Make it in large quantity and freeze it for the days ahead when you don't feel like cooking. To strain the tomatoes and other vegetables for a smooth sauce, use a food mill.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE

¼ cup olive or other oil
4 onions, sliced
1 clove galic, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
5 pounds fresh tomatoes
½ teaspoon dried basil
1 teaspoon dried oregano
1 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper as desired

In a large kettle, cook salt pork in oil until pieces are lightly browned. Add onions, garlic and celery and cook until soft. Cut tomatoes into quarters (do not peel, core or seed; the food mill takes care of it); add to kettle. Add basil, oregano, salt and pepper. Cover and cook slowly about 1 hour. Strain through a food mill. Return to pan and continue cooking, uncovered, until sauce is thickened, about 1½ hours. Taste and add additional herbs, salt and pepper as desired. Makes about 1 quart sauce. When doubling or tripling recipe for freezing, do not add additional herbs or other seasonings at the end. Wait until frozen sauce is thawed and heated, then taste and add seasoning if desired.

For spaghetti meat sauce, saute 1 pound of ground beef, or ½ pound beef and ½ pound pork in a small amount of oil until browned. Mix with tomato sauce and continue cooking ½ hour. Makes 8 servings. (SH

Week's Best Food Buys

Increased receipts of hogs, lamb, fryers and new crop turkeys are the only positive points on supply outlook.

Recovery in pork volume previews better fall supplies. Some retail promotion is anticipated on outlook, but general retails are holding firm at 65 to 69 cents a pound for rib end roasts, 75 to 79 cents for loin ends, 69 cents a pound for fresh butt roasts, 79 cents for pork steaks and spareribs, 89 to $1.09 for backribs and $1.19 for center cut pork chops.

LAMB LEG roasts are competitive at 85 to 89 cents. Forequarter beef cuts again are a market buy. Blade cut chuck at 39 to 59 cents a pound is typical promotion to regular price range. New crop turkeys, reaching market in volume are quoted at 39 to 49 cents a pound. Fryers, firm in cost but building in volume, are mostly 43 cents a pound for cut-up bids.

Large eggs are now in best supply selling at 59 to 63 cents a dozen retail. Small sized costs are up. Fresh produce tonnage is well below seasonal average. There are spot values for local vegetable supplies. Potatoes, too, are on an improved market base.

CHICAGO area food values:

Meats: ground beef, beef pot roasts, chuck and rib steaks, corned beef; lamb shoulder steaks and roasts; ham slices and pork steaks.

Poultry: whole fryers, hen turkeys, fryer parts.

Produce: grapes, plums, pears, cantaloup; potatoes, onions, cabbage, corn, beets, peppers. (SH

Wayside Women Planning Annual Social, Shower

Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Women's Club, Arlington Heights, has scheduled its annual ice cream social and pantry shower on Sunday, Aug. 28, from 3 to 7 p.m. on the school parking lot.

Chairman of the school committee, Mrs. John Eichman, extends an invitation to all parishioners and their friends to attend.

BESIDES ice cream sundaes, cake and soft drinks, there will be games of skill and chance for all ages.

The social and pantry shower will provide an opportunity for all to meet and greet Sister Agnesine, the new superior and principal of Our Lady of the Wayside Convent and School and to show appreciation to the Dominican Sisters who staff the school.

Co-chairman of the school committee, Mrs. Anthony Prasnikar, is in charge of the booths and games; Mrs. Anthony Biancardi, the pantry shower; Mrs. Joseph Foreman, refreshments.

No Guessing In Buying Baby Gifts

Some "eternal verities" just don't seem to stand the test of time. Take the traditional adage, "blue for the boy and pink for the girl," for example.

Time was when a little mistake in guessing whether the baby would turn out to be a boy or a girl meant stores had to exchange gifts after the baby arrived.

All those blue outfits being swapped for pink and vice versa caused quite a few headaches.

NOWADAYS, however, manufacturers are helping parents-to-be and their friends and relatives play it safe by providing gay pastels for the newcomer. Favorite colors appear to be pale yellow and mint green, with good old white — the mother color of them all — third in demand.

Pastels certainly help to take the guesswork out of buying for the big event. (S

JC-ettes Hail Miami Beach

The city of Miami Beach was highlighted at the July 25 meeting of Rolling Meadows Jayceeettes, held in the home of Mrs. Ray Pettersen. The program committee has chosen "cities to visit in the United States" as the theme for the year, and Miami Beach was appropriate for the warm summer evening.

Two newcomers were welcomed, Mrs. Tom Bischoffer and Mrs. Chuck Vincent.

Games which pointed up the recreation attractions of the city were played, and prizes ranged from a pair of guppies to a can of tuna. (S

Homemakers Hold Picnic

The annual picnic for members of Palatine Homemakers Extension Unit was held Aug. 9 at the home of the group's president, Mrs. R. H. Golterman, 143 S. Hale St., Palatine. Twenty-three members and three guests, Mrs. W. J. Eisenzoph, Hermansville, Mich., Mrs. Ted Meyers, Hickory Hills, and Mrs. Henry Berenz, Palatine, attended.

Following the luncheon, games and picture taking were on the agenda. Mrs. Ted Meyers Mrs. Emil Bloudek, who will soon be moving to Florida, received remembrance gifts from the group.

The next craft day, when members will be etching metal trays, will be held Wednesday, Aug. 24, beginning at 10 a.m. at the Golterman home. (S

Left-over cooked fresh spinach may do baby more harm than good, according to a recent report from Germany. Physicians there found that occasionally spinach has been associated with a rare disease (methemoglobinemia) in babies fed left-over spinach.

Apparently, spinach absorbs the chemical, nitrate, from fertilizer and then stores large amounts of it. When the fresh spinach is cooked and stored for several days, the nitrate is broken down by bacteria to nitrite. This latter causes the trouble.

German pediatricians advise mothers to give their babies only freshly prepared spinach and never to feed them the left-over vegetable even though it has been refrigerated and tastes

Former Area Girl Married In Tucson, Ariz., Aug. 8th

Since moving from Mount Prospect just one year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Wood have settled in a new home in Tucson and acquired a new son-in-law. The new addition to the family is Richard Thomas Smith, son of the William Smiths of Tucson, who on Aug. 8 claimed the Woods' daughter, Linda Lee, as his bride.

The service took place at 7 p.m. in St. Aubrose Catholic Church and was followed by a reception for 100 in the Hiway House, Tucson.

For her marriage Linda chose an empire crepe and lace gown with flowing lace train attached at the shoulders. Her elbow-length veil was held in place by a lace and pearl cap and she carried a cascade of gardenias. Mr. Wood gave his daughter in marriage.

MISS CATHY Zito of Prospect Heights, who served as the bride's only attendant, was a second generation Zito to stand up for the Wood family. Cathy's mother, Mrs. John F. Zito, and Mrs. Wood were girlhood friends and Mrs. Zito stood up for Mrs. Wood at her wedding some years ago.

Cathy's empire gown was a pink floor-length chiffon over pink crepe and she carried a crescent ofpink baby rosebuds. Also in pink was Diane Pickell of California, 7-year-old cousin who served as flower girl, and Mrs. Wood who chose pink linen.

David A. Smith, brother of the groom, served as best man while David Ferris and Ronald Roberts of Tucson served as ushers.

The bride, a graduate of Moser Secretarial School in Chicago, attended the University of Arizona where she met her bridegroom. A graduate of the University, the groom was affiliated with Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity and is now with the Soil Conservation Service in Silver City, N.M. The newlyweds are now residing in nearby Cliff, N.M. (S

MRS. RICHARD SMITH

Mrs. Nugent's Designer Will Present Area Show

A fashion showing featuring originals by Ginny Fiester of Lake Forest, who designed the ensembles worn by Mrs. Gerard Nugent for her son, Pat's, wedding to Luci Baines Johnson, will be one of the highlights of the club year for Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club.

Although the luncheon-show won't take place until March 18, 1967, Mrs. Charles Toot, ways and means chairman of the club, is already working out details.

The show will take place in Chevy Chase Country Club, Wheeling, and it is expected that club members will model the fashions as Mrs. Fiester commentates. For several years Mrs. Fiester has presented a show on the North Shore benefitting the Grove School for the Retarded, and her appearance with the Arlington Heights Juniors and their guests will be her first showing other than the charity event.

The Juniors' show will follow the charity show by about a month, and will also include sportswear from a local shop.

The designer created ensembles for Miss Illinois' appearance at the Miss America pageant three years ago, but her fame became nation-wide just prior to the Johnson-Nugent nuptials.

"All club members are enthused and excited about the show," noted Mrs. Toot, "but further details will have to wait until Mrs. Fiester returns from Washington, D.C. and has had time to do some planning," she added. Mrs. Toot became a close friend of Mrs. Fiester through their mutual association with the American Association of University Women.

Other plans on the calendar for Arlington Heights Juniors include an October fun nite which will have a Western theme, a Dec. 3 Christmas dinner dance to be held at the Nordic Hills Country Club, a children's Christmas party and the club's annual banquet to be held the end of the '66—'67 club year. Job's Daughters Get 'Majority' Degrees

The Majority Degree was bestowed on 11 former Job's Daughters of Bethel 103, Arlington Heights, in a ceremony on Aug. 10. Presiding at the ritual was Mrs. C. Schaetzlein, guardian of the bethel.

This degree, given to girls who have reached 20 years of age or who are now married, was presented to Roberta Schuldt, Jane Haynsworth, Carol Cory, Dixie Alletto, Nancy Heilig, Gayle Johnson, Marcy Cushing, Sherrie Lister, Elleen Rettner, Rebecca Moulton and Mrs. Sue Johnson Conte.

Bethel 103 has planned its next meeting for Tuesday, Aug. 23, when members will meet at the local Masonic Temple at 9:45 a.m. for a day of boating and swimming. The outing will be sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Neil Livingston. (S

Researcher Finds Moving Tends to Help Children

A Detroit research psychologist has confirmed what moving counsellors have contended for years; that moving often helps rather than hinders the normal development of a child.

Louis H. Falik of Wayne State University, reporting on a study of children of highly mobile middle and upper income parents, said youngsters who move often may be better adjusted than children who have not moved at all.

Falik studied fourth to sixth grade children who had moved at least three times in their lifetime and compared them with children in the same bracket who had not been similarly uprooted. He also interviewed parents of the frequently-moved children.

"BETTER THAN half the parents I talked to," Falik reported, "said their families were closer and their children better adjusted, more outgoing and more willing to meet new situations as a consequence of moving."

Commenting on the study, John Sloan Smith, head of a company which annually moves 120,000 families or more from one state to another, said Falik's findings reaffirmed the important role of the parents in this real-life drama. Falik said parents of the children who moved often had made special efforts to allay any fears the children might have about moving.

"The parents have to 'sell' the youngsters on the benefits of moving," said Smith. "They can't sit back and let nature take its course.

"AS LONG AS the youngster feels he is involved in the decision making, that the new house and the new neighborhood are being selected with him in mind, then he will look forward to the move.

"If the child is ignored, and the move is kept secret from him," Smith continued, "then, it has been our experience, the youngster well may resent the move."

Smith, speaking from a background of 37 years in the moving business and with a company that has moved more than a million American families, said children who have the easiest time accepting a move to a new home are those whose parents anticipate problems and then work to avoid them.

THE RESEARCHER and the moving executive agree that small children and adolescents need special attention before and during a move.

"When the child sees the moving van roll up in front of his house and watches as the movers begin to load the family's belongings into the van, that's when he needs reassurance and some extra love and attention," Smith said.

"Let the movers worry about the moving," Smith advises parents. "Give some attention to the children."

Smart Lady Wears Fragrance All Day

If you are one of those women who think that fragrances, like champagne, should be used only on special occasions, it's time you changed your thinking.

The wise woman, like the knowledgeable ladies of the old French court, wears her fragrance favorite from morning through night.

Today there are many scents to choose from. Perfumers use anywhere from one to five thousand natural and synthetic essences. This may seem hard to believe, but not when you realize that the odor of the same flower will vary according to its place of origin. French lavender, for instance, smells different from English or Italian lavender.

METHODS OF extracting essences will change the fragrance too, and different odors may be obtained from different parts of the same flower, bush or tree.

And then there are the thousands of scents created by the perfume chemist.

When selecting the fragrance for you, pick one that will attract, that has a distinctive character, that lasts and one that is harmonious throughout all stages of evaporation. The better the perfume or cologne, the less your skin chemistry will affect it.

ONCE YOU'VE picked your scent, spray it on your pulse points, the throat, wrists, at the bends of elbows and the knees. Spray it inside your closet, dresser and bureau drawers, too, for the extra dividends of fragrant lingerie.

Whether you're homemaker or career woman, let your fragrance tell the world, "I'm a woman and I like it." (S

Lions Ladies Plan Dinner, Style Show

A Monday, Sept. 19 date has been set for the Elk Grove Village Lions Ladies seventh annual fashion show and dinner.

At a recent meeting, Mrs. Robert J. Mattson, 32 Grange Road, Elk Grove, was named chairman of the show and Mrs. Ronald L. Reisinger, 261 Mimosa Lane, co-chairman.

THE SHOW, "Moods of Marty's," will be staged in Elmhurst Country Club with Mr. Marty's of Golf-Mill providing the fashions. Members of the Lions Ladies will serve as models and a professional commentator, Elaine Stern, will narrate.

At 6:30 p.m. cocktail hour will precede the 7:30 p.m. dinner.

Ticket and reservation information may be obtained from Mrs. Edward Lukas, HE 7-0418.

Atise Members, Guests To Dance at The Cellar

The Cellar, favorite teenage night club of hundreds of area young folk, will be the setting Sunday evening, Aug. 28, for a late summer benefit sponsored by Atisa Junior Woman's Club. The program will include a "typical evening of musical fun with dancing to the music of several favorites in the area" according to the chairman.

Hoping to fill the night club, Atise Juniors are inviting friends and extending an invitation to all adults in the area. Additional information about the 7:30 p.m. Sunday affair is available from any member of Atise or by contacting The Cellar.

Proceeds of the Cellar dance will go to the Clearbrook School for Retarded Children in Rolling Meadows, one of the club's philanthropies.

"THIS 1966 summer has not been the usual one of carefree relaxation for members of Atise Juniors," Mrs. Anthony F. Biancardi of Arlington Heights, club president, recently pointed out. "Philanthropic work for several local organizations has created many busy days for the club's 16 members," she added.

Assistance in fund-raising for the Arlington Heights Historical Society has taken Mrs. Biancardi, a member of Friends of the Museum, to numerous meetings. Funds for the museum have also been a prime concern of Mrs. G. T. Beckley, Mrs. Dale Pate, Mrs. Bruce Kelly and Mrs. Daniel Wallner. Membership in Atise includes 16 young women from northwest area suburbs.

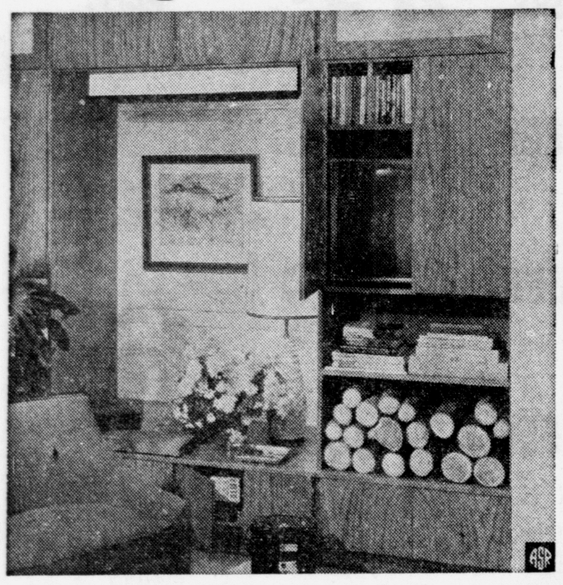
During Arlington Heights' recent Sidewalk Days, Atise members assisted the Historical Society commitee in the sale of balloons, proceeds of which went to the Society.

PLANNING early fall projects for the group has also taken a good share of summer time, reported Mrs. Biancardi. First of these projects will be an early fall bridge-fashion show luncheon to be held Thursday, Oct. 6, in Plum Grove Country Club.

At a meeting held Aug. 8 in the Mount Prospect home of Mrs. Myron Hartley, Mrs. Warren Petersen of Plum Grove, chairman of the luncheon affair, outlined the luncheon plans for the club's 16 members. Fashioned by club members, decorations will hint of a "distant atmosphere" and fashions will be by Merribee. The menu will include "fabulous" foods and several different card games will be played. This affair will also benefit the Clearbrook School.

Early reservations may be made with any club member or by calling Mrs. Petersen at 358-2551. (S

How to Solve Your Storage Problems



Fibber McGee's jam-packed closet brought entertainment to millions — and yet millions of jam-packed closets bring constant headaches to housewives.

The new home which has "ample space" during the buying always seems to turn up at least one closet shy when the living starts.

Weyerhaeuser Co., knowing it's a rare family which estimates accurately its total possessions, commissioned designer Richard Himmel, AID, of Chicago to design storage facilities which were new and different for homeowners, builders and "do-it-yourselfers" working on modernizing or new-home problems.

HIMMEL EXECUTED special designs for every conceivable storage situation, and Weyerhaeuser collected some of the best plans in a book called "14 Big and Little Storage Ideas."

This full-color idea booklet offers plans which can be adjusted to suit the space available in any home. Each plan includes a complete list of materials, and all items can be supplied by a neighborhood building materials dealer.

A copy of "14 Big and Little Storage Ideas" is available for 50 cents from Weyerhaeuser Co., Box B 3319, Tacoma, Wash. 98401.

'Summer Splendor' Is A Splendid Splurge

When Prospect Heights Garden Club held its second annual flower show Aug. 9 in the Ann Sullivan School, Prospect Heights, the theme, "Summer Splendor" was well developed in the artistic division of the show.

Members of the Prospect Heights club who earned blue ribbons were Mrs. Ralph Andreas for her entry "Ray of Sunshine," breakfast for a shut-in, and Mrs. Roy Hughes for her entry "Sit Down with Me," picnic for two. These ladies received the sweepstakes awards in the artistic division for accumulation of the most points.

Other blue ribbon winners included participants of clubs from surrounding areas: Mrs. Theodore Krumm, Glenview, for her entry in "Summer Fantasy," Mrs. Guy Courtney, Mount Prospect, in "Summer Breezes," and Mrs. Earl Moreen, Norwood Park, in "Casual Charm."

Second place ribbons in the artistic division were awarded to Mrs. Bert Gesheidle, Prospect Heights, Mrs. Christiansen, Norwood Park, Mrs. Marion Den Beste, Prospect Heights, president of the sponsoring club, and Mrs. Rodger Ericson, Arlington Heights.

THIS IS THE first year that the club's schedule has included a horticulture division and all residents of the community were invited to take part in this exhibit. There were more than 150 entries, and 40 blue ribbons awarded in this division went to Mrs. Chris Christoph of Deerfield for her eight blue ribbon entries.

The staging of the show was planned by Mrs. Carl Nickelson. Color scheme of the backgrounds carried out the colors of the originally-designed programs of Mrs. Donald Kliment.

Show committees included: Mrs. Carl Nickelson, Mrs. Roy Hughes, Mrs. Rodger Ericson, schedule; Mrs. Joseph Clemens and Mrs. Nickelson, staging; Mrs. Ralph Andreas and Mrs. Bert Gescheidle, classification and entries; Mrs. Rudy Bandelow, awards; Mrs. John Thompson, publicity; Mrs. George Rasmussen, hostess; Mrs. Donald Kliment, program cover; Mrs. Edward Vallee, and Mrs. Dudley Foxworth, tea table and invitations.

Judges were Mrs. Emil Fick, president, Mount Prospect Garden Club, Mrs. John Harker, Park Ridge, and Mrs. Harry Eichenberg, Palatine. (S

Mother's Lullaby Best Music of All

In the 18th century, superstitious mothers who wanted their babies to become singing stars would try some strange tricks to influence Mother Nature. For example, mothers would trim baby's fingernails by biting them, then bury the trimmings under an ash tree.

No one knows how many musical geniuses were produced this way, but mother's best bet is still her own voice.

"THE BEST introduction to music a mother can provide her child are nursery rhymes set to basic, lilting melodies," says Mrs. Fay T. Frisch, music education consultant to the Wurlitzer Co.

Studies show that toddlers prefer gay, simple melodies with a distinct rhythm. They would rather hear one voice than many, and one or two instruments rather than several.

As baby progresses through the diaper stage, he begins to imitate simple music on mother's pots and pans. From hand clapping to water splashing in time to music, babies generally move on to the simple instruments such as bells, rhythm sticks, triangles and similar music makers.

IDEALLY, SAYS Mrs. Frisch, folk songs, musical stories and children's classic records should become a part of the child's life at this stage. The walking and talking baby finds even more fun in marching, dancing, singing or discovering the wonder of music under his own fingertips at the family piano or organ.

Parents should encourage these first musical efforts.

Music is such a basic part of children's early experiences that nine out of every ten kindergarten classes in the United States now offer rhythm band training.

But the best music of all is still mother's own lullaby. (S

Old French Armoire Meets Modern Needs

Give your television set a charming French house. At the same time living or family room will gain a handsome "center-of-interest" piece of furniture, plus extra storage.

The old French armoire (armwar) provides space and beauty for many modern needs. This granddaddy of all large traditional cabinets is now included in new furniture groups.

Originally used for household linen and clothing storage, an armoire was the most important cabinet in every 17th and 18th Century French home. Modern adaptations are fitted with drawers and movable shelves, easily making space for a large "portable" T.V. Placed on an upper shelf or above the drawers inside the armoire, the T.V. picture is at a comfortable viewing level.

The characteristic full length doors of carefully matched walnut, pecan or oak veneers, not only hide the cabinet's contents, but add decorative interest to the whole room. The play of light over these mellow-finished woods, seems to warm a room as a second fireplace.

Curved topped paneled doors, framed with shaped moldings, are often embellished by incised carvings. Five to six feet tall, about three feet wide, the modern armoire becomes a highly decorative and useful feature among surrounding lower furnishings. (S

Give Baby Gifts Artistic Touch

It's easy to give your baby-gift package the professional touch if you use some of the wrapping papers, ribbons and decorations that carry special baby motifs.

A wide range of these delicately designed items is now available, reports Mrs. Jeannette Lee, design director for Hallmark Cards.

SHE ADVISES gift-givers to coordinate the colors of the paper and ribbons so that the finished package will look artistic. To insure a neat package, let the paper extend beyond the end of the box for a little over half the thickness of the box. Crease each fold slightly, and you'll have neat end flaps. (S

Arlington AAUW Invites All College Alumnae to Aug. 25 Tea

College alumnae transferred to this area many miles from their alma mater may be surprised to meet an old college friend at the Arlington Heights AAUW membership tea planned for Thursday evening, Aug. 25, in the home of Mrs. Charles Aldag, 409 S. Yale.

College graduates from all parts of the country make up the local branch of the American Association of University Women which meets monthly in Arlington Heights. It is one of 135 branches.

BRANCH PRESIDENT, Mrs. Paul Davis, and her board members will greet guests at the 8 o'clock gathering, and an AAUW orientation booklet, prepared by Mrs. John Kinney, will be given to prospective members.

Helping the tea chairman, Mrs. Beaver Waring, with decorations are Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Aldag; invitations have been sent out by Mrs. James Andrew and Mrs. Kinney. Refreshments are in charge of Mrs. Thomas Rusk, and publicity is handled by Mrs. Thomas Lally.

THE ARLINGTON Heights AAUW features a variety of study groups and monthly programs dealing with problems of contemporary life. In the field of education, the branch has actively supported the building of William Rainey Harper Junior College, and each Fall the women have a used book sale to aid a national scholarship fund for women earning advanced degrees.

College alumnae interested in joining the AAUW may call Mrs. Andrew at 255-1346. (S

Cosmetics Can Harm Children

More than 3,000 children are accidentally poisoned by cosmetics each year, by such harmless-seeming substances as colognes and nail hardeners. To reduce this fearful toll, as well as the toll of almost 30,000 children accidentally poisoned by drugs, the Food and Drug Administration urges support of the Child Safety Act now before Congress.

Under the act, cosmetics containing dangerous substances would be required to carry a warning label as well as information on antidotes and first aid treatment. (S

'Coffee' Party For Newcomers

Members of Elk Grove Village Newcomers' Club are ringing the phones of new women residents, inviting them to a coffee on Tuesday, Aug. 25, to acquaint them with the club, its objectives and its program.

Mrs. William Nelson, membership chairman, will be hostess for the 8 p.m. event.

THE NEWCOMERS' club is a social and service group open to all adult women of Elk Grove and surrounding communities regardless of length of residency. Mrs. Nelson may be called for details at 439-8492.

CHOCOLATE CANDY

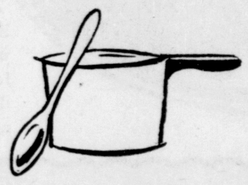
by Marilyn Hallman

Make a treat for your family!

You will need a 6-ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate bits and one cup of salted peanuts.

(Instead of peanuts, you may use one cup of raisins or two cups of corn flakes.)

First, heat water in the bottom of a double boiler. Melt the chocolate bits over it. Then stir in the peanuts.



With a spoon, drop chunks of the mixture on waxed paper. Cool in the refrigerator.

This candy will disappear fast!

City Government Debate Uninformed

Interest in the city form of government appears to be growing in the northwest suburban area, where village government long has been the dominant form. Unfortunately, discussion of the question has not been too constructive.

In Mount Prospect, petitions have been circulated, and a referendum will be held next month to determine whether the village will be converted into a city. The sides which have been chosen over the question indicate it has its roots in personalities. The organization which is supporting the change is weighted heavily by supporters of the former village administration, defeated by the voters 16 months ago. They appear to feel subsequent developments have embarrassed and rendered less popular the new administration.

Another group hints the pro-city organization was formed to accomplish a "back-door recall," and its members, representative of the current administration, are working to save the village form of government.

These developments have been followed elsewhere. Some individuals identified as political dissidents in Arlington Heights have expressed interest in Mount Prospect's pro-city movement. Others, opposing recent adoption of a utility tax, threatened to start an anti-administration movement like that in Mount Prospect.

Such activities will not lead to a better community; they will contribute to a bitter, long-lasting divisiveness which can only harm the community.

This does not mean the northwest suburbs are permanently wedded to the village form of government or that city government is unhealthy. Experience indicates individuals and quality leadership are more important than form of government.

On one hand, Rolling Meadows with a relatively modest population operates effectively under the city form. That suburb, with the mayor-council form of government, is divided into wards each represented by an alderman on the city council. On the other hand, most northwest suburbs—even the largest—have operated equally well under the village form with a president and seven trustees elected at-large.

The current village form is being labeled as "unrepresentative" because board members are chosen at-large rather than from wards or sections of town. The city form is being labeled as an invitation to political horsetrading because responsibility is to the ward, not the community. These arguments are not helpful; an examination of the facts shows each form of government has several options in the manner of representation.

We suggest, since the question is being raised with increasing frequency, that an organization which is recognized for its impartiality investigate the advantages of each form of government on a community-by-community basis, where there is sufficient interest. League of Women Voters' units, community councils or similar groups might carry on such an investigation. A recommendation from such a politically disinterested organization should carry more weight with voters than emotional appeals now offered.

A Look at Youth Today

First of a three-part series about the youth of suburbia appears in this week's paper. Staff writer Joan Lorenson spent several months collecting material for these reports, interviewing teenagers, police, school officials, recreation leaders and others.

In contrast to the sensationalized treatment of youth problems commonly found, Miss Lorenson has prepared a straightforward study. The first part deals with the major social groupings into which teenagers place themselves—groupings which adults aren't too enthusiastic about but which, nonetheless, help mold the future adult.

Miss Lorenson finds the major teen groups "separate as naturally as cream from milk, though youth is their common property." They speak of a "tension" among groups and see each other in terms of stereotypes.

How these groups approach the major preoccupations of youth—cars, sex, morals, education, entertainment and other subjects—is discussed in the second article. The third one deals with relationships of youth with the adult world, with authority and with parents.

What emerges is a spotted picture of young people working very earnestly at growing up. Since it deals with the problems of youth, it is not especially pretty. Nor is it always ugly. It is not intended as a representation of "typical" youths but rather a sequence of pictures of individuals who share the common property of youth. On the whole, you'll find they are sharply critical of the world around them—the world their parents made and the world they're making. They're frequently prone to exaggeration, and they admit it.

The series does not deal with solutions. Many of the problems cited—particularly dealing with sex, morals and the importance of acquiring an education—are problems faced by youth of all eras. Perhaps what is different in these questions today is the increasing frequency and pressure with which they are thrust at youth.

Hope for the Retarded

"Retarded persons can be productive" is the message of a special report by staff writer Dave Hanks, published last week. Hanks reviewed the work of the major northwest suburban agencies dealing with the retarded. They include Clearbrook Center, DOOR, Inc., Northwest Suburban Aid for the Retarded, Countryside School and the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization.

Dealing with various age and ability levels of the retarded, these agencies provide classes for the pre-primary through high school level, give individual attention and training and provide sheltered workshop facilities for the adult retarded.

Together, they make it possible for most retarded individuals to take part in useful activity. It has been said they "used to sit in front of television and vegetate." Actually, the situation was much worse. They were feared, pitied and scorned. Mostly, they were ignored.

While the retarded person of only a short while ago was condemned never to enjoy the unique pleasure of productivity, of worthwhileness, today's agencies make it possible for the retarded person to progress to the level his ability permits.

Youth Fetish Grows Absurd

by BETTY FORRESTER
Staff Writer

The lady of the house scurried around, breathing a little unevenly in her elasticized coat of armor, frozen-faced with the latest in facial masks at work on her wrinkles.

Standing across the room in front of his wardrobe was her hubby, a flattering dark suit in hand and a toupee perched where the best of hair savers had failed.

He smelled of pre-shave, after-shave, cologne and good soap. A tanned face stared out at him from the closet's mirror. His muscles ached a bit from a more strenuous than usual bout with the exercise machine that both he and his wife ride daily.

The lady stepped up to the mirror surveying her recent face lift as she leaned over a table full of youth savers. Hair coloring for touch-ups, wrinkle cream, four shades of powder to put dimples and shadows back where they once were, an exercise book, hair spray that puts "body and life" into hair, false eyelashes and a wig for emergency appearances.

Hours later . . .

"DEAR, DID you know the natural look is 'in' this year?" she queried as she painted a few pert freckles on her coated nose.

The glossed-over couple was finally ready for a night out on the town. They left the house, feeling young as they walked by the pictures of their six grandchildren.

And another absurd episode in the classical Ponce de Leon epic was lived.

The youth cult, a godsend to the advertiser, has caught up more people than would care to be counted.

BE YOUNG, be alive. It's amazing how a few gray hairs can hamper your naturally vibrant self. If you're a mother look like your daughter — you can even get the same hair color as she has. Woe be to the grandmother who can't walk down the street with her toddling grandchildren and be told how adorable her "children" are.

The unbelievable "brave new world" that Huxley prophesied has become a reality. People are being convinced that to look old is ugly if not disgraceful.

It's great to be young, and I'd be the last person in the world to deny it. Bright-eyed and future-oriented the younger generation challenges its elders with new ideas and new looks.

THE BIG difference between the two groups seems to be that the truly young are trying to capture the future while the would-be-young are trying to recapture the past.

The "young look" and youth are not and cannot be synonmous. The people who try to make them so become the "well preserved" and the "young for their age" rather than the young.

Katherine Anne Porter wasn't too inaccurate when she painted her sorry picture of the 40ish Mrs. Treadwell who tried to convince herself that she was still vibrant and young in Ship of Fools.

LIKE THE OLD man who sits telling tales of the "good old days," the youth worshippers remember the good parts of youth and try to cling to its wonders. Forgotten, perhaps purposefully, are the other connotations of youth, the elements that tag the young as "raw, immature, ignorant, green and lacking in experience."

The trials of trying to get a start in the world, the fear of failure and hope for success as well as the threat of a future suddenly cut off by a bullet or bomb in a war that doesn't end don't go with the young look.

It's infuriating to me, as someone who is yet young, to think that the future will be only a frantic attempt to reclaim what I've lost by entering it. To remain young is to remain immature, inexperienced and quite probably unwise.

Somehow the good things in life and the young things are being painted as one and the same. Young people may have more fun, but they don't have all of the fun. What's wrong with growing old gracefully? What's wrong with a face that shows past worries rather than an uplifted eraser's mark?

PART OF being young, I suppose, is not knowing what it's like to be old. But, is growing old such an ugly thing that its only joy is a successful attempt to avoid looking mature or even a bit decrepit? Somehow I'm unconvinced by the ads.

Many advertisers would have us think so. But why should it be so?

Youth itself is fleeting — even definitionally. There's something beautiful about staying healthy, but to artificially put on a fascade of youth is to be frighteningly dishonest with oneself.

Healthier, older people, yes that's progress, but younger, older people is a contradiction.

'Lame Duck' Realist

Seymour Simon is a politician not running for anything.

This is what Simon says.

"I'm just interested in taking care of my law practice," he comments. It is his stock answer about his political ambitions which could have included a second term as Cook County board president.

The "could have" of reelection became a "won't be" because of his own Democratic Party. Most voters are familiar with the "dumping" of Seymour Simon. Former Chicago Postmaster Harry H. Semrow was slated by the party in Simon's place.

SIMON HAS been an elected office-holder for 11 years. His future could include a judgeship, something political observers believe Simon wants.

Asked if this is so, he replies predictably, "I'm just taking care of my law practice."

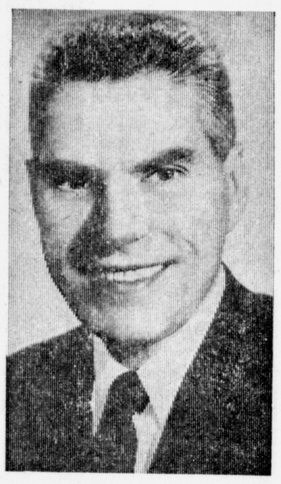
To hear him tell the story of his political life, he has had no ambition whatsoever. Everything was handed to him, or rather "I was chosen" or "I was asked" by the party.

He started as 40th Ward alderman. From there, his political career as committeeman, county board member and board president was shaped at the party's request.

REFLECTING on his political career, Simon comments, "I expected to retire after being an alderman and sit on a park bench across from my house acting like a poor man's Bernard Baruch."

Prior to becoming county board president, Simon was to suburbia just another city ward Democrat — just another party man.

As board president, however, he emerged as a man known for his intellectualism, liberality, and concern for suburbs. This concern was a surprise for suburbia.



SEYMOUR SIMON

He also exercised independence. This was perhaps a good reason for a political machine like the Chicago one to dump him. Some said he was rivalling Mayor Daley as he grew in power and popularity as county president.

SO, NOW, dumped, why not fight the party? The answer lies in the belief that Simon does have ambitions to be a judge. He needs the party.

He admits he is a man "who isn't the kind to try to do something without an organization."

But such an admission should not be used to label him a machine politician, a strictly party man.

"IF THAT WERE so," he says, "then would I have a record of voting more times with the minority in the city council than any other Democrat?"

He maintains he is a "realist." For this reason, he won't even indulge in such daydreams of "what I would like to do." As he puts it, "You can never write your own ticket in politics, so why talk about it?"

He even will not really indulge in discussions of what he would have liked to accomplish but didn't as county board president.

"No sense of crying over spilt milk — I'm not like that," Simon comments. "There are so many things as president one might like to do."

IF HE WON'T speak of what might have been, he will speak of what has happened during his reign:

—Reduced county budgets.

—The rescue of the county hospital from disaster and establishment of a professional administrator so that today it is one of the finest institutions of its type in the country.

—Establishment of a good zoning board. (Some suburban officials might disagree today but the board has had a record of cooperating with the suburbs.)

The list of accomplishments could continue, but it is all a matter of record. It is the present he is now concerned with and it is the concern of people viewing the county's politics.

As county president, Simon could exercise his prerogative powers, and if not hurt his party, at least make it stumble a bit. Daniel P. Ward, county state's attorney, has been tapped to be a state supreme court justice. It will be up to the county board to name a replacement. The board, with Simon, is 10-5 in favor of the Democrats.

ON NAMING Ward's successor, Simon comments, "That's a party matter. I would only veto the appointment if the man picked was completely objectionable to me."

One of Simon's main concerns right now is picking a successor for Raymond Hilliard, welfare department head, who died recently.

His search for a successor has ranged across the country. Recently, he was in New York seeking a successor.

"It's not easy to find a replacement with the qualifications Mr. Hilliard had — a man of his caliber."

HE ALSO IS presently concerned with passage of a planned development ordinance for unincorporated Cook County. Republicans oppose the one which has been developed, but he said a few weeks ago, "It should be passed soon."

While Simon is affable, he can also be curt. He is a driver. He offended many a "sweet old lady" secretary at the county building. This wasn't the way to "take care of your own" in party circles.

In his last months of tenure, he is having a quiet, running feud with Commissioner George Dunne, the emerging boss of the county board.

IN DEALING with Dunne (the Democratic majority votes with him now), Simon exercises his independence. On one measure recently, he used his powers to limit the size and composition of a committee despite a Dunne move to include all commissioners.

At a restaurant after the meeting, Simon casually mentioned to a friend, "Well, Hank, I used my prerogatives as president, didn't I?"

This sums up Simon. He has always used his prerogatives and it is a bet he will continue to do so.

Advice for Newlyweds

by DAN BAUMANN
Managing Editor

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nugent will be returning from their honeymoon in the next few days. They plan to live in a university-area duplex down in Texas.

The Nugents, you'll remember, are the folks whose wedding was on television a few weeks ago. Being a former senator and all, her dad's position made the wedding something of a social event.

BAUMANN

Well, I saw a picture of the newlyweds outside Government House in Nassau, where they attended a private tea during their honeymoon, and it kind of made me think back to when I was first married five years ago. I identified with the young couple.

WE, TOO, enjoyed a magnificent ceremony. They didn't think to televise it, but we felt it was a big social event.

It was early spring, so naturally we picked Wisconsin Dells for our honeymoon weekend. (Like Pat, I was a student and had to think about getting back to school.) The Dells was ideal at that time of year. Prices are about half their normal amount, because of the dearth of tourists.

I cut classes that Monday; by Tuesday I was back in school. My wife learned early some necessary routines for students, routines Luci Nugent probably will be developing.

I certainly wish her luck in this, and I intend to help out. Somewhere in the memorabilia from those days, I'm sure, is a list of "50 Ways to Make Baked Beans," my wife can send the bride, along with a USDA folder on "Tenderizing Meat" and another on "Getting Along on a Budget." I have some hints on getting the best buys in used textbooks I'll want to pass along to the groom, too.

OUR money-saving advice is extensive. We can tell them how to cut costs on clothing (make your own) and travel (don't). On one matter, though, I'm stumped. Darned if I know how they can keep down their housing costs.

We were fortunate in never having to "put up" — or put up with — the Secret Service.

Attributes 'Indirect' Red-Leaning Actions to Court

I was gratified to see your (Bill Swinford's) "Critic's Corner" article, "Police Work Is Shackled." The more people who become aware of how the Supreme Court is changing our government, mores and customs through uncontested assumptions of power, the sooner conditions will be corrected.

However, I was puzzled by your third paragraph:"

"But there is one thing about the decision that must be said: it certainly was not a Communist-leaning action." followed by, "This decision is certainly not leaning toward the police state idea."

It seems to me that these expressions are based upon the assumption that judicial decisions turning this notion toward Communism need be or must be direct action toward that goal. This is untenable, since the Supreme Court will no more chance the outrageous, do-something-about-it wrath of the American people than will President Johnson dare to face up to the unions in the airlines strike (even tho the public is fed up with it).

Besides, historically, and currently as well, Communists have realized positions of power through subversion—not direct action (except, of course in Esthonia, Latvia, Lithuania and Tibet). It was no accident that J. Edgar Hoover's book was titled, "Masters of Deceit." Their direct action starts after power is achieved, when police state decrees and laws may be promulgated at will and any opposition or potential opposition is relegated to slow death in labor camps or killed outright. The peoples of no nation have voted themselves into Communism (whereas, millions have voted with their feet to get themselves out of it, daring death to do so). In the main, they have been subverted into it. And, it has been predicted that our nation will, "fall into their hands like a ripe plum."

IF, THEN, THE judicial decision under discussion does not directly turn us toward Communism, does it do so indirectly?

We can begin by quoting J. Edgar Hoover, "Lenin taught that it was essential for every 'real people's revolution' to destroy the 'ready-made state machinery.' Wherever Communists have been able to exercise any measure of control, their first step has been to hamstring and incapacitate law endorcement." (Masters of Deceit, Page 198). Does the Court decision act to implement this usual Communist procedure: Most certainly, yes.

Second, note that part of the quotation, "destroy the 'ready-made state machinery,' " Do we have other evidence of machinery for incapacitating law enforcement? Perhaps the basic dialectic of Communism is that old governments, customs and mores must be destroyed, so there can be nothing to return to later. However, just to destroy would leave a vacuum which might otherwise be filled. Hence, there are people busy in our nation setting up parallel, shadow-governments — always appointed, never elected—which will be ready to step in and take over: regional authorities, federal education machinery, federal neighborhood machinery, the demonstration cities program and civilian police review boards — all of which cut across our constitutional separations of powers to concentrate political and economic power monolithically and imperialistically in Washington. When the plum is ripe . . . . .?

THIRD, THE public may well recall your words and "remember the Supreme Court" when crime becomes ever more rampant. But, worse than incidental crime is planned terrorism — which has been used successfully by Communists in Cuba, Algeria, the Congo, Viet Nam, Watts and northern cities including Chicago. This is their No. 1 modus operandi. It requires a police force which is hamstrung, incapacitated and, worst of all, has its members hopelessly demoralized because of being kept from doing the good job they'd like to do. Is this usual Communist procedure? Most certainly!

Therefore, since this Supreme Court decision to a great degree will make these high-priority Communist programs possible in our nation, we see that it is perhaps the most Communist-leaning action to date and hence a giant stride toward a police state.

Says Change in Civil Rights Act Necessary

In one city after another throughout the United States—Chicago, St. Louis, Rochester, Brooklyn, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Detroit, etc., the white man has become the victim and target of vicious, planned and organized Negro brutality and attack. The current arrogant demands and threats of civil rights leaders clearly connotes a declaration of war against "Whitey." Their oft repeated battle cries of "Kill Kill Whitey" — Burn Baby Burn" — and "Black Power" spells their fanaticism. Defiance of law, civil insurrections, coercive marches, sit-ins, lie-ins, etc. have now been replaced with looting, arson, burning, violence and murder against large white communities.

What is happening? Millions of Americans, white and Negro alike, bewildered, shocked, angered and frightened at this latest turn of events are asking this question. What has happened to the promises of these self-annointed statesmen, humanitarians and moral champions who feverishly campaigned and marched for the passage of this bill? What truth was there to their warnings that this bill must be passed in toto in order to avoid bloodshed and destruction and to save our nation from shameful oblivion?

It must be admitted that the emotionalism created by the assassination of President Kennedy a few months before was largely responsible for the hasty presentation of this bill for debate in early 1964. With the nation suffering its worst emotional shock of the century and further aggravated by the self-inflicted national shame and guilt mania it may be understandable, perhaps, how the American people could accept such a hypocritical bill based upon the sham, irrational premise that a federal law prohibiting prejudice, racial discrimination by forced integration and physical compulsion would erase racial and social friction and problems, and bring about harmony and brotherhood among our citizenry.

WHAT HAS happened since the passage if this act? Increased tensions, hate, fear and distrust between white and Negro Americans. More civil rights bills! One in 1965, one proposed in 1966 and surely one in 1967, 1968, and perhaps one annually ad infinitum. More and more federal laws for guaranteed income, rent, education, happiness, more leisure, less work, full life, etc. What additional teachery lurks in this popular creed of the great society?

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 is the most dastardly and fraudulent of all recent manuevers by the power structure of the U.S. to perpetuate themselves in office. It "supra-legalizes" the purchase of millions of mercenary votes with tax payer's money, and it aims to ultimately divest the individual of his heritage of sovereign citizenship. Under the false mask of achieving "denied rights" for one minority of citizens we are attempting the un-natural equalization of all citizens.

The primary responsibility for this farcical disregard of history's eloquent and tragic lesson lies with the voter. By ignorance, complacency and apathy this act was permitted to become the law of the land. Honest reflection would have alerted Americans to the grave consequences of this measure. Education is the only vehicle to civil rights. Polital expediency to civil wrongs. We have ignored that great nations have preferred to evade and perish rather than master this single lesson. In their indifference and in their valor of ignorance they have departed with their monuments, constitutions, their vanities and their gods.

MUST THE CIVIL Rights Act stand in toto? To believe so is to believe that our Republic has lost her way and is without the guiding light of her noblest traditions. What has been done here can be undone. The Prohibition Act is a glorious precedent. A decision unworthy of America must be corrected. I urge your readers to examine and read the 55 pages of this act and draw their own conclusion.

This Dog Hits Sour Note With New Neighbor

I have a problem that I am at my wits end trying to solve without making enemies.

I am a widow who moved out to Streamwood when my company moved out to this vicinity. I was delighted to move into a home of my own again, after renting for so many years. It's beautiful country out here and quiet, except for one thing.

THE NEIGHBORS all have dogs. Most of them are nice, quiet and well behaved dogs that bark only occasionally, which I don't object to at all, dogs being what they are. That is, all but one dog. This one barks continually when the owners are gone. It's enough to drive you crazy after three or four hours of it.

I don't know what to do. I have called the police several times, and they say nothing can be done. Well, buying a house is not like renting; you just can't sell and move like you do when you rent.

THESE PEOPLE are not only annoying me, they must be annoying others in the neighborhood too.

What do you do in a case like that? I don't want trouble, just peace and some degree of quiet.

I would appreciate some sort of a solution.

Subscription Rate for Soldier Questioned

Now that I have helped you with your survey, I'd like to bring up a little matter which, frankly, I was in hopes that Paddock Publications would bring up by themselves, i.e.:

Our boys overseas would also like to have a copy of their local paper. My son asked that a subscription be sent him as he enjoyed the news and sports of Mount Prospect and in particular the fine coverage that Bob Frisk gives to his alma mater.

My son is stationed in Germany, and I did send him a year's copy at $11.50. Don't you really feel that this is a bit much? Especially since he received it three weeks late? When he found out how much it cost us, he told us to forget it.

Now, I don't want to make a federal case out of this matter, and we do enjoy the paper—evidence my subscription renewal—but wouldn't you people come up smelling like roses if you did a promotional on this matter for all men overseas?

Thank you for listening, I remain hopefully,

Mrs. A. G. Dundy

May Lose More Educators If All Federal Aid Thrown Out

Tonight School District 54 will make an important decision which bears directly on the quality of education to be offered the children of the district. Put summarily, the choice will be the acceptance or rejection of a share in approximately $400,000 of federally-funded in-service training resources.

To some, the issue is clear-cut. All federal aid is, on one hand, immoral and debilitating, or, on the other, a gilt-edged boon to be accepted without examination. For these, the decision is as simple as their thinking.

FOR THOSE WHO bear the burden of decision, the school board members, there remains the matter of looking hard at the advantages and disadvantages of the project. This they have done in the past, accepting some federally-funded projects and rejecting others. By their own admission, they did not have ample time to inspect the proposal when they had to make the first judgment on it. By tonight, they will have had the opportunity for a reasoned decision.

That there is a need for in-service training and opportunity to participate in educational innovation is attested not only by our district's stopgap schedule of in-service training for the coming school year but also by the recent proposal of one board member that a home-made program be developed with neighboring school districts having "about the same attitude as we do about federal funds." What attitude do "we" have? Who is "we?"

It is interesting to note that in a letter of interest to the project director on May 24, 1966, Dr. Underwood, the departing superintendent of District 54, stated that, although the board had not had an opportunity to decide upon participation, "the administrative staff of District 54 is in enthusiastic support of this proposal." Dr. Underwood cited three other administrators in District 54 who were both involved and enthusiastic. (One of these has since resigned from the district.)

ESSENTIALLY, the federally-funded project is for development and demonstration facilities to be used for the in-service training of teachers in this area. What is new in education, such as the new math, will be demonstrated, discussed and possibly applied in local schools. Not only the local public schools but also most local parochial schools, Northwestern University, Northern Illinois University and the University of Illinois, are involved in this cooperative effort to upgrade the quality of education. The whole project is locally initiated and under local control.

To the best of my knowledge, no other public school board in the northwest suburban area has declined to participate. Should our school board decide in the negative, it is hoped that they will have sufficient reason to do so. If not, it seems likely that they will have even more difficulty in attracting and retaining good educators than they have had in recent months.

New Drive-In Theater To Open This Weekend

The new M & R Twin Drive-In located at Milwaukee Avenue and Hintz Road in Wheeling Township, will have its grand opening tomorrow.

The new theatres, the first twin drive-in to be built in the northwest suburbs, will have their own radio broadcasting station through which a new dimension in film sound will be transmitted.

Operating as station TWIN, Drive-In patrons will be given the choice of using the in-car speaker as they normally do or tuning in the sound through a specific frequency on their car radios. Both systems may be used to create a stereo sound effect.

TO PICK UP sound over the radio, the ignition key must be turned to the left. The engineers who have developed the new system guarantee that this will not in any way harm the car battery. M & R will back this statement by guaranteeing to pay for the cost of a battery recharge.

The first features to be shown at the new theatre will be "Stagecoach" and "Fine Madness" on Screen No. 1 and "Lt. Robin Crusoe USN" and "Run Appaloosa Run" on Screen No. 2.

Theatre owners M & R Amusement Company, currently own and operate the Old Orchard, The Evergreen 1 & 2, The Sunset Drive-In, The Bel-Air Drive-In, The Double Drive-In and the Dundale Drive-In.

The company was the first to build a new theatre in the suburbs, (The Old Orchard Theatre) and their twin indoor theatres in the Evergreen Shopping Plaza was the first of its kind to be built in the midwest. The new Twin Drive-In is the first new drive-in to be built in the Chicagoland area in the last five years. (Bill

ACTOR GARY MERRILL stars in the family comedy, "Time Out For Ginger," at Pheasant Run Playhouse through Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5.

Six Artists Signed by Symphony

Six artists who will appear at subscription concerts of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra were announced this week by Silas Edman, general manager.

Bethany Beardslee will be the soprano for the Oct. 20 and 21 presentation of Berg's Three Fragments of "Wozzeck." Miss Beardslee also will make a pre-season appearance with the orchestra at a concert Sept. 26 in the University of Chicago's Mandel Hall.

ERNST HAEFLIGER, Swiss tenor, will be the soloist for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra performance of Jean Martinon's "Song of Songs," on Dec. 1, 2 and 3. Mr. Martinon will conduct. The program will mark the first performance of this work at subscription concerts. As previously announced, Phyllis Curtin will sing the soprano role.

The May 18, 19 and 20 production of Honegger's "Jeanne d' Arc au Bucher" will feature Teresa Orantes, soprano; Peggy Smith, soprano; Charles Bressler, tenor and John West, bass. As previously announced Brenda Forbes will be the narrator of this dramatic oratorio.

ENTERTAINING AGAIN this year at the Des Plaines Art Guild's outdoor art fair will be this trio of area homemakers who sing folk music. They are Marty Whipple, left, and Mary Louise Shakespeare, both of Des Plaines, and Gail Nebel of 198 Patricia Lane, Prospect Heights.

Art Guild Schedules Annual Outdoor Fair

Des Plaines Art Guild will hold its 11th annual outdoor art fair Sunday, Sept. 11, in the parking lot of Des Plaines National Bank.

More than 80 artists will show their work for sale during fair hours, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Music will be featured during the day. The Terrace Singers, a trio of area homemakers, will entertain with a program of folk music at 3:30 p.m. In the trio are Marty Whipple and Mary Louise Shakespeare of Des Plaines and Gail Nebel of 198 Patricia Lane, Prospect Heights.

Other music will be provided by Maria Schaefer Music Store ir Des Plaines and the Arlingtones, barbershop singers.

Pheasant Run's Producer Cited By Gov. Kerner

A special plaque was presented to Carl Stohn Jr., producer at Pheasant Run Playhouse in St. Charles, citing him for his contribution to the theatre in Illinois.

The plaque was awarded to Stohn by Gov. Otto Kerner at the annual outing of Chicago Court 48 of the Royal Order of Jesters the end of July.

Stohn, who has guided Pheasant Run since its opening two years ago, was the first to successfully operate a stock company on a year-round basis in the Chicago area since the 20's. Before joining Pheasant Run he spent six years at Drury Lane.

'Torn Curtain' Opens at Catlow

Julie Andrews and Paul Newman are the stars in Alfred Hitchcock's new suspense drama in Technicolor, "Torn Curtain," which opens an extended run tomorrow (Friday) at the Catlow Theatre.

Newman plays a scientist and Miss Andrews is his secretary who find themselves in an unfriendly country. (Bill

BOB Sets Auditions For 'My Fair Lady'

Best Off Broadway Players will hold auditions for its fall show, "My Fair Lady," the last three evenings in August.

The auditions will start at 7:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 29 and 30, at Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights and also at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 31, at Hasbrook Park, also in Arlington Heights.

"My Fair Lady," adapted from the George Bernard Shaw play, "Pygmalion," set an all-time record at the time with 2,700 performances when it had its first run on Broadway.

IT IS A singer's show with 14 musical numbers, seven of them chorus numbers requiring harmony. There also are four dance ensemble numbers.

The large cast calls for four major roles for men and three for women, plus 37 minor speaking and/or singing parts. A singing and a dancing chorus will also be needed.

In addition persons are needed for costumes, scenery and other technical jobs.

RICHARD TYLER, resident director for Village Theatre, will direct the show for BOB. It will be his sixth for the community music theatre group. Others were "Oklahoma," "Pajama Game," "Kiss Me Kate," "Flower Drum Song" and "South Pacific."

Best Off Broadway Players also is issuing a call for new members. The group, founded in 1961, is open to anyone interested in theatre, either on stage or behind the scenes.

Persons interested in "My Fair Lady" or BOB may call 381-6187, CL 5-8018 or LA 9-5977. (Bill

Sell Coupon Books For Ravinia Plays

Discount coupon books for American Conservatory Theatre's (ACT) six plays at Ravinia will be on sale this week only through Sunday (Aug. 21). They will be available at the Ravinia Park box office and at the downtown office, 22 W. Monroe St., or can be ordered by mail through the box office.

The repertory company's four-week season at the Ravinia Festival runs from Aug. 23 through Sept. 18.

A "first" for theatre at Ravinia, the discount coupon offer has been made by the festival association in response to many inquiries about the use of coupons for theatre, and to help the Act's debut in the Chicago area.

A $20 BOOK will be good for $25 worth of tickets. Ravinia coupons purchased earlier in the season also may be used for the theatre performances and the New York City Ballet performances.

The six plays to be presented are Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author," Thomas's "Charley's Aunt," Chekhov's "Uncle Vanya," Albee's "Tiny Alice," Shaw's "Misalliance" and "Beyond The Fringe," a revue by Jonathan Miller, Peter Cook, Dudley Moore and Alan Bennett.

ACT'S visit at the Ravinia Festival concludes a national summer tour, which included Westport Country Playhouse in Connecticut and the Stanford Summer Festival in Palo Alto, Calif. (Bill

St. James Announces Fall Play, Director

The St. James Theatre Group of St. James Parish in Arlington Heights announced this week its fall production, "You Can't Take It With You" by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, will be presented Nov. 18, 19 and 20 at Sacred Heart of Mary High School in Rolling Meadows.

Recently revived, this play was voted the best "off broadway" production of 1965 in New York City. Casting will be done in September.

George Bull of Cary, Ill., has been selected as director for this play. Bull, a charter member and past president of the Best Off Broadway musical group, has appeared in most of BOB's productions, including "Annie Get Your Gun," "Silk Stockings," "Guys and Dolls" and "Finian's Rainbow."

He will be remembered particularly for his performances in

GEORGE BULL

"Showboat" as Captain Andy and Carnes in the show "Oklahoma."

PRIOR TO joining BOB, Bull was a member of the Town and Country Chorus in the Palatine area.

In private life, he is a purchasing agent for Workman Manufacturing Co., printers and lithographers of Harwood Heights.

"You Can't Take It With You" will conclude the third season for the St. James Theatre Group. Future productions include "Tom Jones" and "Holiday For Lovers."

At Ft. Gordon

Private Steven Macko, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Macko, 524 W. Center St., Itasca, completed a teletypewriter equipment repair course at the Army Southeastern Signal School, Ft. Gordon, Ga., Aug. 1.

During his 19 weeks of training, Pvt. Macko was trained to install, service and repair Army teletype sets. (WUS

ALEX CORD and Ann-Margret star with Bing Crosby and Robert Cummings in "Stagecoach," starting tomorrow (Friday) at the Oasis Drive-In Theatre and the Mount Prospect Cinema. Co-featured on the Cinema screen will be Sean (James Bond) Connery and Joanne Woodward in "A Fine Madness."

Combo Contest Set For Wheeling Fair

A "Battle of the Bands" contest will be held Sunday Sept. 4, as the crowning event at the Wheeling Community Council's Family Fair.

The combo contest is sponsored by the Northwest Homeowners Association and the Karnes Music Co. Winners of the contest will be awarded trophies at the field house at Heritage Park in Wheeling on that date.

The contest is open to all combo groups in the Northwest Suburban area. Trophies will be awarded in two divisions, Juniors-grade school to high school age and Senior Division—high school age and up.

THE COMBO judges will be professional musicians who will rate contestants on the basis of musicianship, appearance, poise, stage presence and professionalism.

Entry blanks may be obtained at Karnes Music Co., 9800 Milwaukee Ave. and many stores in Wheeling. Contestants should contact Alice Del Gado at Karnes Music Co., 827-1151, or Ruth Therriault of the Northwest Homeowners Association, 537-9035, by Thursday, Aug. 25.

The public is invited to attend the contest at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 4.

At Ft. Bragg

Pvt. Gregory C. Dombrow, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Dombrow, 428 S. Prindle, Arlington Heights, has been assigned to the 82d Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N. C.

An integral part of the Strategic Army Command, the 82d maintains an immediate force for airborne deployment throughout the world.

Dombrow, a fire direction controlman in Company A, 1st Battalion of the division's 325th Infantry, entered the Army last January and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La. He was last stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.

Dombrow is a 1965 graduate of Prospect High School and was employed by Davey Tree Expert Co., before entering the Army. (10WUS

At Ft. Monmouth

Pvt. James R. Overrocker, 63 Cambridge Lane, Glendale Heights, Roselle, received his specialist training diploma from the U.S. Army Signal School, Ft. Monmouth, N. J., recently.

Private Overocker graduated at the head of a class of 163 enlisted men. (WUS

From Prospect Heights: James M. Bodoh, Patricia L. Henkel, James J. Jackson, Wayne M. Johnson and Alan G. Marn.

FROM ROSELLE: Steven E. Beck, Jerry A. Kastning, Sandra J. Ladd, Joseph R. Nelson, Preston O. Robards, Suzanne L. Depalma, Philip T. Nelsen and Francis C. Schenck.

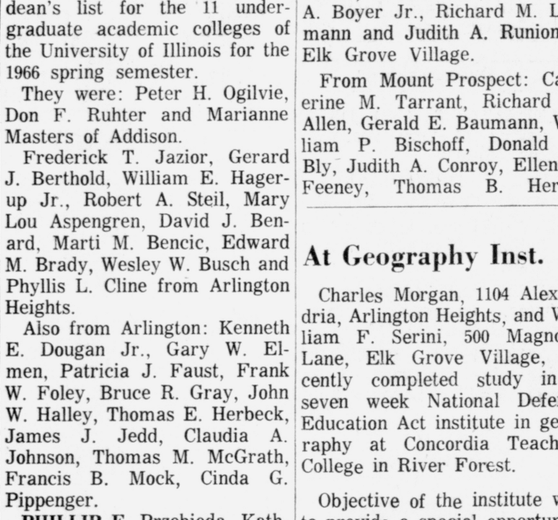
At Geography Inst.

Charles Morgan, 1104 Alexandria, Arlington Heights, and William F. Serini, 500 Magnolia Lane, Elk Grove Village, recently completed study in a seven week National Defense Education Act institute in geography at Concordia Teachers College in River Forest.

Objective of the institute was to provide a special opportunity for teachers and supervisors of grades four to nine and other selected school personnel to learn about new educational materials and their use in geography classrooms.

At Western Michigan

Murray E. Jr. and Lios M. Williams graduated with M.A. degrees Aug. 12 from Western Michigan University. They both completed their academic work this summer.



GREGORY PECK and Sophia Loren star in the suspense comedy, "Arabesque," starting its second week tomorrow (Friday) at the Randhurst Cinema.

VICE PRESIDENT

This is a bona fide position that we have been retained to fill in the $30,000 - $40,000 bracket (money is NO problem). This man will be groomed to be President in the next 4 - 5 years.

THE PROBLEM: Where is this man? Why is he so hard to find?

THE ANSWER: He is currently employed earning over $20,000 now. At one time this man was a hot shot Research Engineer but his recent Executive duties in supervising a large group of engineers have taken him out of the R & D "ivory tower" class. The actual title of the position is Vice President of Research & Development but it is his proven executive ability over a large group of people that is of paramount importance.
